MAROONS WIN. WARD SMASHES RECORDS

The Maroons are victorious once again. At the banquet Friday night, the long awaited moment finally arrived when Mr. Spangler arose. One by one he pinned the figures to the banner, while the hopes of each Maroon and each Grey rose higher and higher. Only when the last numeral was affixed did we know the answer — 13996 for the Maroons to 13160 for the Greys.

The Maroon triumph is easily understood when the names of the high point winners are considered. Of the year's five highest individual scores, four were piled up by members of that team. Bob Ward, a Senior, will have his name engraved on the Camp Plaque as the result of winning the unprecedented total of 1229 points. This exceeds by more than 300 any score ever chalked up in Kawanhee's history. The other ranking Maroons were: I. Bouton, Senior, with 785; W. Robson, Junior B, with 678, and H. Erf, Junior A, with 655. Of the Greys, only E. Eckfeldt, Junior B, ranked among the first five with 659 points.

Cards Defeat Red Sox, Capture World's Series Pennant

By L. BUGBEE, Senior

Among the highest ranking of all Kawanhee traditions is the renowned World's Series played between the best teams of each league. This year, the battle between the Boston Red Sox and the St. Louis Cardinals was typical of previous World's Series in many respects. Accompanied by ice cream, pop, chocolate milk, cheering, visitors, etc., it lived up to the requirements of an exciting day.

As usual, the affair was started off by a grand march, for which the music was ably provided by the camp band. Frank Henry's jeep carried Lawrence and Mac, in all her finery, to pitch and bat the first ball. After parading about the field, the camp band was silenced, and Phil Drake belled a long list of officials to the onlooking crowd.

A Day at Camp Kawanhee

By J. MOSELEY, Junior B

Each morning at inspection time

The lodge is in a mess,

But when we've swept and made our beds,

The dirt and mess are less.

At nine o'clock the bugle blows

And then our work's all done.

It's time for first activity

And we start on the run.

But soon it's time for morning swim

Which lasts a half an hour

And often when it's over we

Go up and take a shower.

And then it's rest, but not complete.

We read and talk and write

And, if the counsellor goes to sleep,

We have a pillow fight.

Then after lunch we get our mail

And buy things at the store,

And hurry to the lodge for rest,

Lest the counsellor get sore.

Then second swim, another rest,

'Til dinner rolls around.

Then often we go boating

Or else have fun on ground.

Sometimes we have some movies

Or campfire, when it's night,

Or stories by Dean Miller

Or plays, which are alright.

And so it's time to go to bed.

It's been a lovely day.

Now all the boys are sound asleep.

So that's all I can say.

23 PLAQUES FILLED BY 22 CAMPERS

Twenty-three Achievement Level plaques were filled this summer. This is the largest number in Kawanhee's annals. In view of the smaller enrollment, it indicates that the season made up in ambition anything that it may have lacked in numbers. Four campers completed the work for all eighteen levels in the one season. This is a notable accomplishment, but it is dimmed by the record of Bob Ward, who finished the Junior A plaque which he had started last summer and did all the work for his Senior plaque in this year's eight weeks.

The following campers completed plaques in one, two or three years:

I. Bouton.....	Junior A Plaque, 3 years
T. Brydon.....	Junior C Plaque, 2 years

Eek, Yike, a Chain of Ponds! Juniors Enjoy Canoe Trip

By J. HARRIS, Junior A

The Chain of Ponds is one of Kawanhee's most popular trips. On August 10, sixteen campers, accompanied by Bates, Dwyer and Kerschner, rattled off in the old camp truck. After a seemingly endless ride, Bates pulled up in front of a little picnic shelter surrounded by ferns and tall pines. There we enjoyed a good repast. After lunch we remounted our old warhorse and finally arrived at an old dam where the pent-up energy of the boys was spent in launching the canoes.

We had the opportunity of catching sight of many specimens of Maine wild life, and received a special thrill when

Kawanhee Crops

BY THE ELMORES

One of the pleasant things about a garden is the wide range of time over which it may be enjoyed. From the reading of the seed catalogue with its luscious promises, through the sowing, the anxious watch for the first sprouts, the impatience with the late flowering of some plants and the triumph when they finally turn out among the best, the training and pruning and spraying, the hard digging and weeding, the pride of producing and the fun of consuming, right through to frost, a garden is a prime investment. And while the little Victory garden that has so enjoyed the ground it borrowed from the Nature Class ends its life with frost, a real farm garden has still another crop—the one that is gathered and stored to be used all winter, and to furnish seed for next spring's sowing.

You would expect the Man with the Hoe to think of Kawanhee in agricultural terms, but one need not be so very garden-minded to see it from that point of view. If there ever was a place of growth, it certainly is this—progress is marked by levels passed, and outsiders looking on see growing in other ways for which there are no official tests. Not only muscles and skills have been growing; health, friendliness, sportsmanship, courtesy, cooperation, patience, understanding, thoughtfulness, the sense of values that cannot be weighed or measured but are more real than material gains—all these have been growing too. Some of the crops are for this summer's gathering. The good effort that has been put into the games will be scored to Grey and to Maroon for 1942. The credits and awards are things of the present too. But there are things for which no official recognition is given; which are among the crops that will be stored for the future.

We shall need these resources, for there is a long, hard winter coming. We shall have stronger hearts to meet it because of the fruits of this Kawanhee summer that we can take with us when we go. They will not only be food for hours when heart and spirit are hungry; we will find also that we have seed to plant for harvest days to come.

NOTE—This summer it has been Kawanhee's great privilege to have Dr. and Mrs. Elmore as its closest neighbors and most valued friends. The fruits of their Victory garden in front of the Hospital have found their way to our hearts by the conventional stomach route, just as Dr. Elmore's inspiring talks have supplied us with food for thought. Wild Cats and Pine Trees Tie For Inspection Laurels

BY D. BRYANT, Sr. C.

The inspection of lodges and grounds has been carefully carried out during the camp season of 1942. This work has been made pleasurable by the fine cooperation of the boys in general and of the counsellors in particular. There was a prevailing sense for the need of cleanliness.

Aside from a few shoes, cans and pails of water dropped from the rafters, the inspector ended the season with few bruises and no broken bones. The boys of the lodges were expected to keep all waste materials removed from the grounds about the lodges and from the shoreline. Within the lodges, the floors were carefully swept each morning. All clothing was hung properly in the correct places. The beds were properly made and all sand removed. A general trunk inspection was carried out each Sunday morning.

The following is a report of the perfect inspections gained by the respective lodges:

JUNIOR LODGES

Eagle Lodge	30 inspections
Falcon Lodge	19 inspections
Panther Lodge	13 inspections
Pole Cat Lodge	11 inspections
Pine Tree Lodge	37 inspections
Deer Lodge	36 inspections

SENIOR LODGES

Birch Lodge	13 inspections
Beaver Lodge	18 inspections
Moose Lodge	21 inspections
Lynx Lodge	22 inspections
Wild Cat Lodge	37 inspections
Crows' Nest	15 inspections

Final Ceremonies and Services

This year, the ceremonies of the closing of camp were divided among three days. The annual banquet was held at Kawanhee Inn the evening of August 21. It was, as usual, a fitting climax to the season. The highlights of the affair were the much anticipated turkey dinner, the witty speeches of the two captains, Bill Hirt and John Morrison, and the revelation of the score. With Chief Marshall again gracing the role of Toastmaster, the program was rounded out by the final Log and the awarding of the annual trophies and honors. The dignified and beautiful ceremony of Chief Kawanhee's farewell blessing to the camp took place on Council Point Saturday evening.

At the morning service on Sunday, August 23, Dr. Elmore concluded a series of sermons which will always be gratefully remembered as a source of very real inspiration by every member of the Kawanhee tribe. Dean Miller's talk at the vesper service brought the season to an impressive conclusion.

Cards Win World's Series, Bosox Fight to the End

The Bosox won the toss and chose wisely to be in the field.

Don Spangler, first baseman for the Cards, was first up, and started the ball rolling by pelting a tremendous triple to right field. Franz Huntington kept him moving around the bases by hitting a single, and Cliff Thompson came through with a clean homer into deep right field, thus making the score 3-0. The Red Sox tightened up temporarily and retired the side for the inning.

The Red Sox succumbed to R. C.'s superb pitching, and the heavy end of the batting order went down, 1-2-3.

The second inning saw a terrific barrage of clouts by the Cards, and before their half had run out, they had chalked up four additional runs. The Red Sox in turn sparked a bit when Watts smacked a single and Durell, subbing for Harris, followed the same procedure. But the Cards' able fielders were able to retire the side without much trouble.

The Cards' third inning was stunted by Koch's speedball, and they were put out 1-2-3 for the first time.

For the Bosox, Bugbee and Koch put men on base, but Wehner grounded out on a fielder's choice.

In the fourth inning, the Cards showed their well-known strength, and without much hesitation they went completely through the batting order to tally three more runs. The score at the end of the fourth inning was 9-0.

The following inning put some pep into the previously sluggish Red Sox, when Carpenter, Bugbee, and Koch loaded the bases. Tex Wehner, speedy shortstop, came through with a timely home run, bringing the score to 10-4. This spurge was slowed down, however, when R. C. retired the remaining end, 1-2-3. Neither team tallied in the sixth, but in the seventh pandemonium broke loose in the Cardinal ranks. Spangler, Huntington, Thompson, Kerschner and R. C. Frank each smashed the ball from one end of the park to the other, scoring five runs in the process. After the Bosox managed to retire their hard-hitting opponents, Wehner and Watts partially filled the bases. Durell managed to smack Wehner in, but this flurry was insufficient to overcome the tremendous margin obtained by the Cards earlier in the game, and when the final out was made, the score read: Cardinals 15, Red Sox 5.

Maurice, Huntington, Aldridge Take Tennis Championships

By R. CHISM, Jr. C.

Kawanee Tennis talent was thoroughly classified by the singles and doubles tournaments which completed this year's Tennis program. Each victorious finalist gained 50 points for his team, a fact which must have spurred on the contesting Maroons, for they reaped a majority of the honors.

Junior B singles champion is R. Aldridge, a Grey, who, after a tough fight with his team mate, Bob Miller, in the semi-finals, won his title by a 6-1, 6-1 count over W. Robson.

In the Junior A division, two Maroons, Franz Huntington and Bill Carpenter, both fought through all their opposition, meeting in the finals. The final results favored Huntington, 6-2, 6-3.

The Senior singles finals attracted a good sized crowd and held them motionless throughout a wearing, nerve-cracking match, J. Maurice, Grey, vs. I. Bouton, Maroon. Scheduled for three out of five sets, the contest early settled down to a steady, base line to base line play, punctuated with an occasional overhead smash by Bouton. The first set started with Bouton in control, but Maurice steadied and took it, 6-4. Bouton then exerted his thwarted tactics, took the next two sets, 6-3, 6-3, and seemed well on his way to the crown, when Maurice clamped down. The fourth set went to Maurice, 6-1; the match stood at two all. Supper intervened, then in the deciding set Maurice quickly forged ahead to a 5-1 advantage. Bouton, through incredibly long rallies and hairbreadth returns, held firm, climbed, and gained a one game lead. From then on the advantage seasawed until finally it was Maurice, 8-6.

Doubles-playing is an art by itself. The winners of the Junior and Senior doubles tournaments were victorious by dint of keen playing combined with close teamwork. In the Junior division finals, Franz Huntington and Ed Donovan, Maroons, vanquished Norval Goss and Dick Donaldson in two close sets, 6-4, 6-4. The two Seniors, Bouton and Bugbee, proved too sterling a combination for Hirt and Maisonpierre and took the Senior title, 6-2, 6-3.

Maurice, Magruder and Hirt Win Rec Hall Games' Titles

With the coming of the final week, the much contested crowns for ping-pong and horseshoes were meted out. John Maurice established his ultimate claim to the top spot on the ping-pong ladder, with Charles Windle in second place and Ted Huntington in third.

The first honors of the Junior horseshoe tournament were carried off by T. Magruder, with N. Goss as runner-up. Senior horseshoe champion is Bill Hirt. Andy Maisonpierre won second place and third place was captured by Ethan Davis.

Each first place carried 15 points for the winner's team, and 10 and 5 points were awarded for second and third places respectively.

two golden brown deer leaped from the foliage in the path of the truck. We also saw a young deer drinking from a sparkling stream, a sight which soon became one of the outstanding features of the trip.

Getting back to our journey, we swiftly traversed three ponds until we encountered a thick growth of weeds which nearly succeeded in delaying our progress. After we had landed and made a beach head, we built a fire and enjoyed an exhilarating swim. How good our dinner tasted after the long trip! A majority of the boys then climbed into the truck for a trip to the Canadian border, while a few remained behind and kept the fire going. In Canada many of the boys bought pop and Canadian money and other articles. Kerschner met a Frenchman and had a rather scrambled conversation in the latter's language, which proved quite confusing to everyone.

In the morning, after a semi-uncomfortable night, we climbed back into our ever faithful canoes and headed out for the Megantic Club. We kept on canoeing until we reached a sandy beach. There we stopped and amused ourselves in swimming and paddling canoes. After a good lunch we were all thrown into the lake by Dwyer and Kerschner for various reasons, such as throwing jam sandwiches and hooking meat with fishhooks. Then we returned to Megantic where we helped load the canoes onto the trailer. After a comparatively long ride, we stopped for dinner at Rangeley, where the boys as usual bought comic books. After Rangeley we entered the home stretch. We arrived at camp, flushed and excited, and we all agreed that the trip had been a great success.

Greys Win Final Track Meet

Kawanhee's second track meet of the 1942 season took place Saturday, August 15. The Grey Team carried off the victory by a 92-80 score. Novel events such as a hobble race and centipede races displaced the old stand-bys, the high jump and the broad jump, and a baseball game gave the whole meet a teamwork emphasis.

The following is a list of the winners of each event:

Senior 75 yard Dash	J. Maurice, G.
Junior A 50 yard Dash	G. Watts, M.
Junior B 50 yard Dash	W. Robson, M.
Junior C 50 yard Dash	E. Eckfeldt, G.
Wheelbarrow Race	A. Maisonpierre, T. Mixer, G.
Crab Race	M. Davis, M.
Hobble Race	E. Eckfeldt, G.
Senior Centipede Race	Maroon Team

PUNK FROM THE LOG

The 1942 Alphabet

A is John Alden who needs no persuasion

To speak for himself upon EVERY occasion.

B's for the bells, and for Brydon and Bates,

For the barbers who finally denuded our pates,

For butterflies, Bouton, the bats and the bees,

For the birds on the buzz-board, and Bugs on the keys.

C calls for Chief, for the Crows' Nest and Cloud,

And Columbia's sons who prove three is a crowd,

For Carpenter, Chism, the Cards and the Conga,

And the curls on our necks that grew longer and longer.

Under D there's no dearth of the Dukes or the Davises,

But the D does initial a few rarer avises,

Like Donaldson, Drinkle, the Dean and Durell,

And Drake who's dissolved by a telephone bell.

The E might be Erf, but no Es can excel more

Than cookies by Emma or sermons by Elmore.

F for the Fort, for the shy Duke re-fortified,

And the Flower Prize flowers that now look so mortified.

G is for Griley, the Greys and the Gosses,

For G. R. on the golf course — so don't spare the hosses!

H for the Henrys, in hammocks they sleep

Or awakening discover their jeep on the deep,

For Hamiltons, hamburgers, Harris and Hirt,

For Franz Huntington hunting an extra dessert,

For the House that is Crooked and Hugh Strachan, called Hooley,

('Twas the pitch from its roof that made Hooley so gooey).

I's the Inspector we feared 'til we heard he

Okayed all who threatened to give him the Birdie.

J's for Jolkovski, a heavyweight talker,

And for Johnson who's built as a heavyweight walker.

K gives us Kerschner, Gargantua's kin,

And Kiefer with camera to take us all in,

And K is the part of the alphabet which'll

Awaken the echo of "Eek, yike, a Kitchel!"

Of such Ls as the Lynx we are reasonably chary,

But we shrink from such Ls as the laundry and Larry.

Of the Ms, we'll take Ma — she's the one we most treasure —

And let milk and the Millers arrive at their leisure.

The M must make mention of Match-neer and Mixer,

While Mac makes her mark as adhesive affixer.

Then M stands for Morrison's mighty Maroons,

For the Moose — if they sleep late they should have pontoons —

For Myers and Maurice and — don't mind if we're grumpy —

The M that changed Moseley from Measly to Mumpy.

N is for Noble, in calms he's a sailor, In squalls he's a nose-counter, jeweler, bailer.

O is for orchid — oh, OH, mustn't pick it,

Or the Goodwins will get you and say it aint cricket.

P is for Piersche and Pooch Puccinelli,

And the Panthers whose ways made a Shipwreck of Kelly.

If Q stands for quiet, a little won't hurt us,

But if Q stands for questions, refer it to Burtis.

R is for Robson, the Red Sox, the Range,

And Raymond requesting we shave for a change.

S is for Shanley, J. Smith and P. Strachan,

And Skinner, of swimming the sine qua non.

T tells of Taylor and Tuttle and Tilton,

While the scales tell the tale of the tummy Dave built on.

U is for Umplebys, umpires and underwear.

V's for vacation — it's gone and we wonder where.

Of the Ws, the Widcats are no longer wild,

Since the rule of Il Duce Spinozzle they Heiled.

So W's for Whitacre, Williams and Wehner,

For Watts and for Wambaugh, who's quite an explainer,

And Mother Hen Windle, who's down in the dumps

'Cause he mothered the Eagles but hatched only mumps.

X is the X card for fun and for joy Which Kawanhee this summer has granted each boy.

Of the Ys, well, the Yanks come in third, to be blunt,

But Yarnell as a sweater girl's way out in front.

Zanzibar gives us the Z or the Zed And zweiback for breakfast. There, it's all said!

The Alphabet's finished, the banquet consumed,

The Chief will be coming — look out, we've resumed!

So we'll shut up at last, though we'd gladly endeavor

To sing out the praise of Kawanhee forever.
