Camp Kawanhee, Weld, Maine

August 4, 1944

AWOL Tribesmen Traced to Army, Schools, Shipyards

In these unsettled times, there are many members of the Kawanhee tribe who are unable to return to the shores of Webb Lake. The camp sincerely regrets their absence and is keenly interested in their whereabouts and their activities.

David Barth and Harvey Burger, who directed last summer's Junior C program with such vigor and success, are at their homes in Columbus, Ohio. They have joined a group of their fellow teachers who are doing special work for the County Auditor's Office, reappraising property in the city.

Quiz Kids, Tumblers, Farceurs, Featured on Variety Bill

By R. PAGE, COUNSELLOR

Thursday night, July 27, was stunt night. First on the program was the Panther Lodge skit which took the form of a radio quiz hour, Kawanhee style, sponsored by Davey's Haven soap. With Bob Cory as sponsor and Phil Norton as a pseudo Clifton Fadiman, the various Panthers were quizzed on the more amusing phrases of camp life. "Puddinhead" Girdler won the contest.

After a serenade from Kawanhee's orchestra, Ted Pegg and Roy Nickerson, masquerading as two gentlemen from the "never-never land," with a good deal of soot on their faces and very little else on their backs, performed some feats of tumbling.

Then came the final attraction of the evening, an adaptation of the farce, If Men Played Cards as Women Do. Bill McGuckin, Dave Fay, Ed Hamblin and Frank Harrah took the parts of four men who had gotten together for an evening of poker and behaved exactly like four women might have done. Director Allgyer took liberties with the script to give the lines an added tang for the Kawanhee audience. Some people were even heard to remark that the Log had found a rival. Bill McGuckin did a fine job, ably supported by the rest of the cast, and the evening was enjoyed by all.

Maroons Lead Again. Shop and Fishing Build up the Score

For the second week the Maroons have carried off the scoring honors. The announcement at the campfire of July 29 credited them with 3698 points to 3238 for the Greys. The relative positions of the two teams had not changed greatly during the preceding seven days. The Greys had cut down their opponents' lead by 128 points, which still left the Maroons a margin of 460. A Grey, however, was the highest individual scorer of the period. R. Sayre, Junior B, completed the work for five levels to gain 180 points. This represented successful work in five different departments.

Athletic scores had almost no effect upon the week's total, for bad weather eliminated the track meet and made it impossible to complete the water meet. The rain, on the other hand, caused great activity in the Shop, where levels worth more than a thousand points were passed, and produced fishing conditions of such excellence as few could remember. Here the Greys shone, for the fish they caught were valued at 150 points, while the Maroons' catch only scored 39.

Elephant Boy Loudly Applauded. Movies Prove Very Popular

By D. GOSS, JR. C, AND P. STRACHAN, JR. A

On Tuesday night, July 25, we all marched into the Rec Hall for the second set of movies for this season. The main attraction of the evening was Elephant Boy, a picture derived from Kipling's story, Toumai of the Elephants. The picture dealt with a native boy of India. This boy was very much interested in becoming a hunter and one day received a chance to go after wild elephants. This pleased him extremely, and not long after the hunting expedition had been out, the boy discovered a herd of elephants, and became a hero among the other members of the party.

The moving pictures this year have been exceptionally good, and camp will be lucky if it has other movies as good.

Water Meet Interrupted When Greys Hold One-point Lead

The water meet of July 26 was called off before its conclusion because of grey, chilly weather. As it was discontinued, the score stood in favor of the Greys, 78 to 77. The winners of first places in the completed events were as follows:

Heimberger Stars at Campfires In Role of News Commentator

By F. CAPRA, JUNIOR A

Every Wednesday night and every Saturday night there is a campfire attended by everyone in camp. Important features of both these events are the news analyses given by Mr. Heimberger. Although this is a new custom, the whole camp likes it so much that they look forward to it with much anxiety.

The Wednesday night campfire is always held in the Rec Hall. Many songs are sung and there are quite a few games in which the excitement and competition are great. That is when Dean Miller tells his thrilling continued story.

Saturday evening the campfire is at Council Point if the weather is good. There are a few games and songs. The awards of the week are given out and the Log is read. The biggest excitement comes when the team scores are announced.

Once a week, usually on Monday, there is a special campfire for the Junior Cs and Junior Bs.

Straying Tribesmen

David Bryant is also at his home in Columbus and is teaching at Otterbein. The camp learns, with sorrow, that he is not in the best of health. His absence is felt in many ways and, now that the Frank Brothers have taken over his duties as lodge inspector, there is not the same fine fervor in the construction of bomb-racks.

One straying tribesman found time to pay the camp a welcome visit. During the week ending July 22, Lawrence Briggs spent the greater part of his vacation here. Lawrence was for many years Kawanhee's head cook. Mrs. Briggs, better known as Emma, is still our much valued bread and pastry cook, we are happy to report. Lawrence is now employed throughout the year as a guard in the shipyards of the Bath Iron Works.

Teaching duties, in the form of science classes in the Columbus Academy's summer session, also account for the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goodwin, whose work in the Nature Room will long be remembered. Their son, Pvt. Glenn Goodwin, is at Camp Livingston, Louisiana, where he is concluding basic training for the second time. He had been in the A. S. P. T. program and, with its termination, was put in the Infantry.

The survivor of another somewhat checkered military career is Pvt. David Tilton. At present, he is taking a premedical course at the University of Utah. Dave had his basic training with the Medical Corps in Texas, and then took basic Engineering at Oklahoma A and M. When that work was discontinued, he was one of 28 out of a group of 2000 who qualified for premedicine.

The Wigwam will continue its report on Kawanhee men in the Armed Forces. Any information concerning such service men, which its readers could supply, would be gratefully received.

Baseball Games

On Tuesday, July 25, the third round of Junior baseball games was played. The Giants and the Indians continued to share first place, for the former beat the Pirates, 7 to 5, and the latter took the Cards, 7 to 3. In the third game, the Cubs bowed to the Yankees, 3 to 6.

Rain late in the day allowed only one game in the Senior League. The Yankees defeated the Indians, 7 to 5. During the remainder of the week the diamonds never dried out sufficiently for the other two scheduled matches to be played.
