The Summer Camp

SUMMER camping for boys has so thoroughly commended itself to thoughtful parents, that it requires no special advocacy. The popularity of the idea, however, has resulted in so many camps, good, bad, and indifferent, that parents should feel confident that the one selected for their boy will be beneficial to his mental, moral and physical development. The success in which this is attained depends on the life purposes of those who make up the camp family. If its purpose is to give boys a clean, wholesome, useful vacation, the camp atmosphere will be refreshing, good to live in, and will carry with it lasting impressions of all that is big, fine and worth while.

The Policy of Kawanhee

CAMP KAWANHEE is operated on the basis of Christian ideals. The intention is to provide a training ground where hardihood, health and honor are developed in rugged work, sports, and simple living. Each boy may here gain something of the craft and cunning of the Indians in the out-of-doors; something of the self-reliance, observation, honor and service-to-others spirit of the Scouts; and an understanding of himself as a boy in his association with others.

Description

CAMP KAWANHEE is located on the shore of Webb Lake, in the village of Weld, Maine; eighty miles north of Portland and twelve miles from the nearest railroad. It comprises nearly sixty acres of heavy timber land, situated at the entrance to the "Narrows" of the lake. Its wooded shore line, extending a half mile in length, includes a beautiful crescent beach where swimming and a variety of water sports are enjoyed. The beach is protected in rough weather by "Pine Point Ridge," which serves as an ideal breakwater. This assures the daily schedule of water events when the waves are high. Such natural conditions are found in few camps.

The natural location, sanitation, equipment, and general development of "Kawanhee" have been pronounced by experienced men, qualified to judge on "Camp Sites," as being, not only, one of the finest camps for boys in New England, but second to none in Maine—long noted for its "Boys' Camps."

Lake Webb is seven miles long and three miles wide, and is the largest body of water in the state without an island. Its waters are clear as crystal and reflect the deep green of spruce and hemlock from the mountain summits. White birches, pine and pointed firs, mark the shore line; while the occasional well-kept farm, camp, or cottage, add the feeling of comfort to the entire region.

North-west, across the lake from the camp, Tumbledown Mountain looms up, rising, as it were, from the water's edge. The old "Lyman Abbot" homestead lies at the foot of this mountain. Directly west from the camp shore, West Mountain, with its primeval forests, stands out like a rugged "sentinel" against the sky. Towards the north and north-east, Big Jackson, Little Jackson and Mt. Blue are perhaps the best known, while south-east from the camp, Mt. Saddle Back cuts across the horizon high above the surrounding hills. Many interesting trips are made to these peaks and their caves and dens.

Management

THE success and directing force of any camp depends on the conduct and personal example of its leaders. The councilors of Kawanhee are matured men of high ideals and college training. Only those having had practical experience in handling boys are chosen.

Kawanhee is for normal boys 7 to 18 years of age who care for a simple life in the great out-of-doors. The camp will be limited to sixty boys for the coming season. Ten paid councilors will be in charge. The advantages of a small camp of this size, under the leadership of an enthusiastic corps of men who enjoy the companionship of boys, cannot be overestimated. The desire of boys at the impressionistic age to imitate "grown-ups," is an educational force worthy the attention of every parent. Character, with boys at this age, is caught, not taught.

The safety and well being of each boy are most carefully guarded. Firearms, smoking and profanity are absolutely prohibited. Obedience to camp leaders is demanded, and each boy enters camp with this understanding. Every boy is urged to learn the art of swimming. Unless swimming tests are passed, no boy is allowed the use of boats except in company with a councilor or expert swimmer. Conditions for swimming are ideal. Crescent Beach has a slope extending gradually into the water. This feature is quite the exception, as the majority of mountain lakes have very abrupt shores. The water is never real cold, as would be expected in a lake of this altitude.

In addition to the various swimming strokes taught and the handling of water craft, scientific methods of carry and resuscitation are emphasized.

CAMP KAWANHEE is under the joint ownership and direction of George R. Frank, Director of Manual Training, Columbus, Ohio; and his brother, Raymond C. Frank, Director of St. Bartholomew's Boy's Club, New York City. They were born and raised in Maine, and lived there for over twenty years. They have fished its brooks and lakes, tramped its mountains, and have camped on the shores of Webb Lake for the past nine years. For other information, kindly consult references.

Attractions and Athletics

THE favorable location of "Kawanhee" assures a variety of attractions found in few camps. The facilities are unsurpassed for boating, fishing, camp-craft and shop work, mountain climbing, over-night trips, midnight hikes, moonlight sails, treasure hunts, canoe, row-boat and sail-boat races, hare and hound chases, porcupine hunts and many other events found in a "Woods" camp.

Ample space is provided for tennis (three courts), basket and volley ball (two courts), morning exercise court and an excellent baseball diamond in an athlete field of two acres, and an auxiliary field in the rear of main lodge made available this year. Everything is so compact in arrangement that it can all be in use constantly. There are few idle moments in camp. The boys are completely surrounded by some live activity.

THIRTY-TWO POUNDS OF SALMON—CAUGHT AT WELD

SHOP work, which plays a vital part in the experience of every boy at "Kawanhee," is taught by an expert instructor. Rustic furniture, bird houses, canoe paddles, bow guns, water wheels, toy sail boats, large cat-boats (12 ft. long) and many other suggestive projects can be made. The shop room is 16 ft. wide and 32 ft. long, and contains an equipment of tools equal to the fond wishes of the most exacting mechanic.

For the boy desiring the wild and rugged in nature, the country surrounding Weld offers as fine an opportunity as exists in the Eastern States. The mountains, with their primeval forests, caves and dens, are a constant challenge to the adventurous spirit of youth. Deer, an occasional bear, the clumsy moose, and many of the fur bearing animals are in this vicinity.

Webb Lake is famous for its fishing. When the season is right, land-locked salmon, trout, pickerel, bass and white perch are here found in abundance. Few lakes in New England, in fact, contain fish in greater quantity and variety.

EVERY BOY TAKES HIS TURN

ROAD TO CAMP

Trips

MANY hikes and trips are enjoyed during the season. Perhaps the most enjoyable are visits to "The Devil's Kitchen," "Fat Man's Misery," over-night trips on Tumbledown, Mt. Blue and Saddle Back mountains; canoe trips up the Androscoggin River, and a four-day hike to the Byron Gold Mines. For trout fishing, a three-day trip will again be made to Alder Brook Farm and Swift River. An optional trip will also be made over the Presidential Range of the White Mountains.

The principle of having each boy learn to do everything for himself is emphasized by having small groups of boys and one or two men leave camp on hiking trips of one or more days, or in canoes well provisioned, camping out when night overtakes them. On these trips each boy gains practical experience in making shelters, building fires in wind and rain, cooking, reading the compass, trail making, and all the various means of overcoming the difficulties of life in the "open".

The city boy who grows to manhood without having experienced life in the open country, inevitably loses something of broad-mindedness, efficiency and contentment. There is a silent influence in the big things of nature that should be valued as vital to a growing boy.

DINING AND RECREATION LODGE

Buildings

AMONG the unique and striking features at "Kawanhee" are its buildings of log-cabin construction, consisting of a dining and recreation lodge, and a complement of sleeping lodges, built from heavy spruce and pine logs, cut on the premises.

THE DINING AND RECREATION LODGE is 45 ft. wide and 55 ft. long. The main hall is 25 ft. wide by 45 ft. long and will seat comfortably, eighty boys and twelve councilors. On one side of the hall is a massive 9 ft. fire place, built from stones gathered along the shore. It is from here that the heart of camp life pulsates. Experiences never to be forgotten in the life of a boy are mirrored in his memory, as he sits before a blazing log fire on chilly evenings and recounts the day's experience or listens to stories and legends of earlier days, in which Weld so richly abounds. On the second floor of the main building are to be found a large Lounging and Reading Room with carefully selected books; a dark room for developing and printing pictures; bedrooms, available for parents; a fully equipped modern bath; a nurses' headquarters; and a long sleeping room, with six beds and nine windows, facing the lake, for boys under nine, cared for nights by the Camp Mother.

THE SLEEPING LODGES are 16 ft. wide and 24 ft. long, with a six foot porch at the front of each. Double floors assure absolute freedom from dampness in rainy weather. Ideal circulation is provided by a three foot opening extending nearly the full length of the sides of each lodge.

On arrival at camp, boys near the same age are divided into family groups of eight each. Each group occupies a lodge with its comfortable iron cots and mattresses. Two councilors are in charge at all times. Each lodge family has its own table in the dining hall, and for all purposes of administration this system is the unit on which camp activities are developed.

A substantially built shingled Boat House, Garage and Manual Training Shop combined, (32 ft. x 34 ft.), erected last fall on one of the most beautiful spots in Camp, is a splendid permanent addition to the camp equipment. There is ample space for the storage of eight cars and sufficient room for all phases of shop work, including the construction of large sailing cat-boats.

Between the boat-house and sleeping lodges is to be found the Athletic House. It is here that each boy receives his physical examination on entering camp and every two weeks thereafter. Appropriate cards stating results of measurements are mailed to parents after each examination.

A flotilla of canoes (guide's model), row boats, sail boats, motor boat (25 ft.), diving-float with tower, slide and diving board, and an elaborate equipment for all phases of athletic sports, tends to vitalize and stimulate out-of-door life at Kawanhee.

Each boy is taught the proper method of caring for all equipment. This is believed essential in considering the rights of others. Those failing to observe the rules are denied certain privileges pertaining to the use of equipment.

CHIEF KAWANHEE

As he appeared when visiting Camp to render his blessing at the opening and closing of the season.

the embers die out and "taps" are sounded. Such a gathering day after day becomes a living force in a boy's life.

Sundays are spent quietly. The boys sleep a half hour longer. In place of the setting-up exercises, a short canoe trip is made to the Sandy Beach, where a real soap and scrub bath is enjoyed. Simple Devotional services are held in the morning at 10:30 at Council Rock, and Vesper services on the lake at twilight.

Camp Activities

EXCEPT on days devoted to mountain climbing, expeditions or over-night hikes, the daily routine at Kawanhee is very simple. Most of the instruction activities take up the entire morning period. This involves not only the daily swim and the proper care and use of boats and canoes under competent instructors, but includes all activities which characterize camp life; such as scouting, camp-craft, camp cooking, fire building, signalling, first aid, life saving, shop and boat building, etc. While interest, appreciation, inclinations and hobbies are given preference in each he chooses to participate, thoroughness, and a boy's selection of the varied activities in which "job well done" are emphasized in all cases.

Afternoons are generally devoted to hikes, games, and competitive events. Athletic meets occur once a week and special Water Sports every Wednesday at 3:00 P. M.

The climax of the day is the camp fire in the evening, when fat pine logs light up the forest and cast a mystic glow over the faces of healthy, contented boys. Camp fire games, talks, stunts and stories are enjoyed by all until

Health and Food

THE healthfulness and sanitation of a camp are of vital importance and should receive first consideration. In this respect, Kawanhee is unusually favored, being located on high dry ground, with gravel sub-soil, and on a lake twelve hundred feet above the sea level. The air is rich with resinous odors of pine and fir trees. The days are warm and the nights are cool. Blankets are a real comfort every night of the season.

The sanitary rating of Kawanhee, by the State Sanitary Inspector, ranks among the highest of any camp in Maine. The sanitation has been carefully planned and developed. Drinking water is secured from a tested mountain spring. Its purity is beyond question.

The invigorating air and sunshine of Maine are unrivalled, holding unusual health-giving qualities. In many cases, it is essential that growing boys be given a complete change of climate and occupation after a year of confinement in the schoolroom and city. Parents are coming to realize the advantages of freedom from the restraints of the conventional vacation for their children. The summer camp offers them the solution for their problem.

Table: No trouble is spared to make the food appetizing and nourishing. Careful attention is given its selection, preparing and serving, with a view of meeting the needs of growing boys. We are near the source of supplies. Fresh meats, vegetables and fruits are procured daily from nearby towns; while an abundance of rich milk, butter, eggs and poultry are obtained from neighboring farms.

It is requested that candy from home be sent only on birthdays, or at most, only once a season. The directors wish to discourage rather than encourage too much candy in camp.

The Preparation of All Meals at Kawanhee is under the personal direction of "Aunt Nell," an expert in camp-cooking. Her specially prepared dishes are never forgotten by Kawanhee boys, and her pancakes on a cool morning are a joy to the whole camp. Being a mother of a robust family of boys and girls she is a lover of young people, who return the affection with respect and admiration.

Competent medical attention is available in case of illness or emergency. A trained nurse is always ready to meet the immediate needs of the campers. Her services, however, are seldom needed.

Boys suffering from catarrh and hay-fever are practically immune from the disease at Weld. The invigorating mountain air, wholesome food, reasonable activities in the "open," together with nine and ten hours' sleep, assures a healthy condition of mind and body in each boy at Kawanhee.

The Aim

AS far as possible, boys at Kawanhee receive individual attention. Our aim is to assist each one in overcoming physical, mental and moral weaknesses. Directions as to diet and exercises are given, and when advisable corrective work is prescribed.

With the exception of one boy at camp last season, whose object was to reduce to normal weight, every boy gained in height, weight (average, four pounds per boy) and chest expansion; not to mention the healthy tan of brown, sinewy muscles and big appetites, which life in the open contributes alike to boys privileged to spend a season at Kawanhee.

Special Information

TERMS: The camp fee from July 1st to August 26th is $250. A registration fee of $10.00 should be sent with the application. The remainder of the fee is payable on or before June 20th. A special rate is made for boys desiring to camp only four weeks of the season. Aside from this, no reduction is granted for entering late or leaving early. A special reduction of $15.00 per boy is made for two or more from the same family.

For boys desiring to enter camp before July 1st or to remain after August 26th, a special rate of $21.00 per week is charged. All checks should be made payable to Camp Kawanhee.

SPENDING MONEY: A separate check of $25.00 should be made out for spending money, such as laundry, trips, allowance of fifty cents per week, materials in shop and dark-room, stamps, post cards, picture shows, etc. An itemized account of same will be rendered at close of camp.

TUTORING: Any requirements for tutoring will be met and charged for at reasonable rates. The camp will not permit, however, over two hours of tutoring per day for any boy. Part of this time, especially for the younger boys, is undoubtedly enough. It is possible for boys to make up work in which they have failed or to do advanced work. Arrangements should be made by parents before the opening of camp as to subjects and grade in which they desire their sons to receive instruction.

PERSONAL EQUIPMENT: Each boy must be provided with his own blankets, sheets, and pillow for the first night in camp. These articles and any others desirable, should be sent ahead in sufficient time to reach camp before the opening day. Camp clothing should be as simple as possible and carefully marked with Loy's full name. All baggage should be sent by American Express to Wilton, Maine, care of Camp Kawanhee.

The following outfit is suggested and recommended:

1 Pillow	2 Pairs Pajamas	1 Sweater or Jersey	Camera and Films
2 Pillow Cases.	Extra Pair Trousers	1 Rubber Poncho	Tennis Racket and Balls
3 Sheets (Narrow)	Extra Coat	1 Pair Rubber Boots or Rubbers	Baseball Gloves
3 Heavy Blankets (One Army blanket for hikes)	Long Black Stockings	1 Pair Hiking Shoes	Fishing Tackle
4 Bath Towels	2 Flannel Shirts	2 Pairs White Sneaks	Knife
2 Laundry Bags	Underwear	Collars	Flash Light
	1 Bathing Suit	Toilet Articles	Musical Instruments

To make it possible for boys to dress alike on special occasions, a white duck outfit is strongly recommended.

Parents are requested to paste on the inside top of each trunk (steamer trunk preferred) a list of its contents.

CAMP UNIFORM: The uniform may be purchased at A. G. Spalding & Bros., Fifth Avenue, New York. It consists of the following articles:

1 Maroon Hat, Grey Band with Monogram	3 Pairs Khaki Running Pants
1 Sleeveless Maroon and Grey Jersey	Rolled Grey Stockings
1 V-Neck Grey Sweater, with Monogram	2 Pairs Tennis Shoes (Sneakers)

We recommend the Bass Moccasin for hiking. These may be purchased at Camp. All personal equipment must be carefully marked.

Directions for Travel

FROM COLUMBUS: Boys from Columbus and adjacent cities will leave Columbus in a special car June 29th on the 3:00 P. M. train, via Big Four Railroad by way of Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany to Boston. They will be joined by parties en route.

FROM BOSTON: North Station, Boston & Maine Railroad, train is taken for Portland.

FROM NEW YORK: Boys from around New York will take the State of Maine Sleeper out of Grand Central Station on June 30th, arriving in Portland July 1st, where they will be joined by the western group.

FROM PORTLAND: Over the Farmington Division, Maine Central Railroad, train is taken for Wilton, from which stage is taken for Weld and Camp.

Railroad tickets should be purchased round trip to Portland. Sixty-day tourist tickets are recommended. Boys under twelve, travel for half fare.

If desired, the Directors will take entire charge of purchasing tickets, making reservations, checking trunks, etc.

Final announcements regarding rates and traveling arrangements will be sent to parents in final letter of instructions, two weeks before leaving for Camp.

Councilors will travel to and from Camp with boys from Columbus, Worcester and Springfield, Mass. New York City, Boston and Portland.

Accommodations for Parents

PARENTS are urged to visit their boys in camp and enjoy with them the beneficial effects of a Maine summer. Those wishing accommodations should make application in advance. When room at camp is not available, or a longer stay than one or two weeks is desired, we recommend the Weld Inn, located in the village. The Inn is modern in every respect and the prices are reasonable.

Parents stopping at the Inn are welcome to visit camp at all times, and are privileged to use the equipment when not in use by the boys. They will also enjoy the daily program of events. In fact, no parent can spend a week at camp without catching the real spirit of Kawanhee.

Adult Camp

CAMP KAWANHEE will remain open as an Adult Camp during the months of September and October, providing a sufficient number express their desire for accommodations previous to the closing of the Boys' Camp in August.

The beauties of Maine are never more delightful than during the fall months. The mountains are literally ablaze with gorgeous colors, while the sunsets, pronounced by tourists as unsurpassed in the world, offer a pleasure in rare beauty long to be remembered.

This is the ideal spot for the tired business man or woman to enjoy a complete rest and relaxation after a strenuous summer in the hot and crowded cities. Hikes, swimming, fishing, tennis, volley ball, mountain climbing, canoeing, rowing, sailing and various other sports, involving real out-of-door living, may be enjoyed as desired; not to mention the pleasure and satisfaction of sitting before a roaring wood fire of birch logs in the main lodge on chilly evenings.

The camp will be adequately supervised on all occasions and for all activities.

The quality and quantity of the food served will please even the most critical, while those who have not enjoyed the benefits of home cooking will appreciate perhaps, more than all others, the real value of wholesome food prepared by an expert in camp cooking.

Testimonials, 1921

Many others quite as representative might be added

From MRS. EDWARD CONARD
29 West 3rd Ave., Columbus, Ohio

Field received the medal and is very proud of it. He has been making plans for next summer at Kawanhee for some time.

As you remember Mr. Conard was not very enthusiastic about Field going, but when he returned from Camp so greatly benefited, both physically and mentally, he changed his mind and is not only planning for Field's return, but for the time when our younger boy will be with you.

I am sure that you will continue to conduct your Camp on the same high plane that it was conducted last summer, and with the wonderful advantages and excellent Councillors you have, I consider it a privilege to have my boy enrolled there.

From GARDNER LATTIMER
100 Monroe Ave., Columbus, Ohio

I want you to know what high regard I have for Camp Kawanhee after the experience of my two boys last summer, and especially after my own visit to the camp.

The objection I have had to most camps has been the youth and inexperience of many of those in direct charge of the boys. The high character as well as the camp experience of your counsellors impressed me as one of the strongest features of Camp Kawanhee.

I was very particularly impressed with the buildings and general equipment of the camp and its general sanitary facilities. This last is frequently not found in camps, although in my opinion it is a matter of first importance.

The pictures which you had taken speak for themselves as to the beauty of the physical surroundings. I think I have never seen a more beautiful setting for a camp than the location of your main Lodge at the head of Webb Lake.

My boys came back in splendid health and spirits, and are looking forward with enthusiasm to a return to Camp Kawanhee next summer.

If I can be of service to you or to parents of prospective campers, you have only to call on me.

From JAMES J. SEXTON
100 Winner Ave., Columbus, Ohio

I wish to thank you for the courteous treatment extended to Mrs. Sexton and myself during our brief visit to Camp Kawanhee.

The writer has visited many Camps during his travels but has never seen one with as beautiful natural scenery, water front, and unexcelled climate that Kawanhee possesses—its location is ideal.

We were particularly impressed with your Councillors, and have never met Instructors who were better equipped to fully develop the physical and intellectual qualities of the boys, and we can hardly find words to express our appreciation of the benefit our son derived from his vacation at your Camp.

You will probably be pleased to learn that since his return from camp he won a Silver Cup at the Athletic Club of Columbus for having won the 40-yard Swimming Match for boys under 14 years old—Jimmie, as you know, is only 11 years old. This speaks volumes for the swimming and physical training he received at Kawanhee last summer.

We hope he may have the pleasure of many more visits with you.

From F. W. FREEMAN
Danford St., Portland, Maine

The boys are back from Camp with enthusiastic reports of the outdoor life under your guidance this summer.

I think they have benefited in every way by the experience which your camp life has given them, and I hope arrangements may be made by which they may be with you next year.

From JAMES SMALL
Farmington, Maine

I was very much pleased with the results shown in my son during the past summer. The location is all that could be desired. The Counsellors were excellent, and the personal attention given to each boy was particularly gratifying.

Camp Kawanhee is an ideal place to send a boy.

From J. B. CHRISTIAN
240 Brighton Ave., Portland, Maine

Clinton's experience and benefits derived at Camp Kawanhee during the summer of 1921, warrant his return next season.

While at your Camp, I was very much impressed by the councillors' attitude toward the boys and the general routine of exercises, and I think you were very fortunate in securing such a wonderful Camp mother. I am looking forward to spending a few days with you next season.

From A. C. FRIEDRICH
380 Riverside Drive

I thought it would interest you to know that Arthur is most anxious to go back to Camp next year, and I told him he could go, provided he was promoted in school.

I think that this wish of his will explain more clearly than I can, what your camp has meant to him; a boy ten years old, who has never been away from home before. Personally, I do not blame him one bit, for after having seen your camp and the wonderful additions which you are planning, I am sure you will have the great success which you so justly deserve.

From CHARLES V. VICKREY
1 Madison Avenue, New York

Nothing short of unusual confidence in the personnel and character of the leaders of Camp Kawanhee could have induced Mrs. Vickrey and me to send the boy, Billy, away from us last summer.

Our confidence has been more than justified by the wonderful results and all-round development that the summer months have brought to him.
