

CAMP KAWANHEE
for Boys

1937

TO PARENTS

 THE purpose of this booklet is to give a comprehensive and fair idea of what CAMP KAWANHEE offers a boy. A visit at camp will convince you that we have not over-stated its advantages.

Men who have devoted their lives to education and training of boys and who have studied the problems of camp life for years are giving their most earnest efforts to make Kawanhee the best possible place for a boy to spend his summer.

Each boy is assured a clean, wholesome, useful vacation. He will have the companionship of the right kind of boys. He will be comfortably housed in a dry well-built cabin. He will be fed the finest of nourishing food and will live for eight weeks in a climate unsurpassed for its invigorating air and sunshine.

The Camp is entirely free from hay fever and asthma.

YOUR BOY

The Vacation Problem

—Will his summer vacation increase or diminish his moral stability?

—Is he building up a fine, strong body by regular habits, abundant sleep, wholesome food and outdoor life?

—Is he encouraged to do things for himself, to rely on his own resources, to reach his goal? Does he give up easily?

—Are summer resorts, parties and automobiles too close to the heart of your boy? Has he lost interest in real things?

—Does he need the group contact with men and boys? Is he developing qualities of leadership that every parent longs to see in his boy? Can he stand on his own? Does he respond with a good sportsmanlike spirit in victory or defeat?

—Does he take orderly care of his clothes and personal belongings?

—Can he swim, manage a canoe, rescue a drowning companion, administer “first aid” in time of accident?

—Can he control self-interest and find satisfaction in service to others, or is he inclined to be selfish and domineering?

—Is he timid and shy? Does he lack confidence in his own ability to “put across” what he secretly longs to accomplish?

—Does he know the great out-of-doors with its mountain trails and splashing brooks, the big bass or the scrappy trout, the canoe spills and glorious swims, the useful camp work and discipline, the religion of nature close to Nature’s heart?

C*CAMP KAWANHEE will help parents to answer these questions satisfactorily through the training which the camp gives its boys.*

An Ideal Location

Safe, Healthy, and Thrilling for Growing Boys—In a Setting More Beautiful Than Can Be Conceived.

CAMP KAWANHEE is located on the east shore of Webb Lake, at Weld, Maine—eighty-five miles north of Portland and twelve miles from the nearest railroad. It comprises three hundred and sixty acres of timber land and has a shore line of woods and sandy beaches extending over a mile in length, on either side of the lake, from Vesper Rock and Pine Point to the outlet of the lake.

The exceptional location of the camp, at the entrance to the “Narrows” of the lake, has been pronounced by men qualified to judge camp sites, as one of the finest natural settings for a boy’s camp in the New England states. There is a protected cove and sandy beach for safe swimming, gravel subsoil and good drainage, pure drinking water from a hillside spring, miles of pines and pointed firs, an unsurpassed view of mountains, glorious sunsets, invigorating air, cool nights, and refreshing sleep.

Lake Webb is five miles long and two miles wide, and is completely surrounded by mountains. It is fed by springs and mountain brooks. The water is clear and pure and never too cold for the early morning plunge. During the past several seasons the temperature of the water has averaged between 72° and 78° at the eleven o’clock swim period.

The surrounding country is wild and rugged and appeals to the adventurous spirit of regular boys. Just to run, to swim, to shout like a wild Indian on the warpath, to follow trails over lofty peaks, to spy on deer and moose as they come to the lake to drink, to investigate beaver dams, to capture woodchucks and porcupines, to fish for trout in swirling rapids, to peep into lovely birds’ nests, to sit by glowing camp fires at night, or roll up in blankets under the stars and listen to strange noises of the deep woods—What a life! Such thrilling experiences make every fellow worth his “salt”—a bigger, better, more self-reliant man.

Management

A Unique Family Organization

Directors Camp Kawanhee is under the joint ownership and direction of two brothers, George R. Frank, Principal of McGuffey School, Columbus, Ohio — former director of Manual Arts in the Columbus Schools and Raymond C. Frank, Director of Young People's activities at the First Presbyterian Church, Englewood, N. J. They were born and reared in Maine, and are trained workers with boys of early adolescent age.

Camp Mother "Ma" Frank, mother of the directors, has served as Camp Mother during the past fourteen years. One reason for the success and popularity which the camp has enjoyed may be attributed to the confidence which parents have had in Kawanhee because of her presence there. She gives special attention to the smaller boys in camp in way of general cleanliness, seeing that they have sufficient covers for the night, sewing on buttons, patching torn trousers, making sails for new boats, or administering affection where it is needed.

Her new cabin is one of the social centers of camp. Here, boys and counselors gather to talk things over with Ma. There is a comfortable lounging room with a large stone fireplace which adds cheer and comfort on rainy days and chilly evenings.

Camp Dietitian Mrs. George Frank serves as Camp Dietitian. She has made dietetics, as it relates to the proper feeding of growing boys, a careful study for several years. It is because of her personal interest in the success of the camp that Kawanhee has always been noted for its excellent food and carefully balanced meals.

In addition to her duties at the boys' camp, she is resident manager and dietitian at Kawanhee Inn, Adult Camp. See page 53.

Leadership

CAMP Kawanhee stands for one fundamental principle in the training of boys, namely, that boys learn more from close, intimate companionship with the right kind of adult advisers, than from any other source. Boys love to imitate what they admire. The camp puts its practice behind this theory by taking the greatest precaution in securing men with high ideals, camping experience, and a sympathetic understanding of boy-life. There is one man on the Kawanhee staff for every five boys enrolled. Their average age during the past year was thirty-two years.

Perhaps the keynote of Kawanhee's success may be summed up in a statement from a parent whose three boys have spent a total of twelve years at the camp. He said: "To me the best thing about Kawanhee is that the boys have the companionship of the right kind of men who encourage them to do things that they did not know or believe they could do, and as they acquire skill, they gain confidence in themselves and ease in their relation with other boys."

Master Campers—Of special interest to many parents and boys is the Master Camper group which was organized in 1931. Boys who have camped at Kawanhee are privileged to return to camp in their sixteenth year and join the "Master" group, which is the beginning of our counselor-training course. The boys serve as part-time assistants to the Senior Counsellors and are usually assigned two hours of definite responsibility during the day. They are privileged to participate in all the activities in which they are interested and are members of the Maroon and Gray teams. These boys displayed a fine spirit during the past season and were a real asset to the camp.

On Your Mark

A Day at Kawanhee

REVEILLE sounds at 7:30, after ten hours of refreshing sleep. Every fellow is up with a shout. There's a rush for the beach, a dive from the tower, and the morning dip is over in five minutes. Breakfast follows at 8:00 o'clock. And such a meal! There's fresh fruit, cereal, rich cream, cocoa, flap-jacks and bacon, served in quantities to meet the needs of the most ravenous of the Kawanhee tribe. Finicky appetites are soon forgotten. By 8:30 the department of the interior is completely satisfied and we are now ready for the day's program of work and play.

First of all, each boy does his bit in cleaning up for lodge inspection, which includes the condition of his bed, cleanliness of the floor under and around it, neatness of clothes and personal belongings on the wall, no wet towels or candy hidden away in trunks, and sweeping of porches and steps.

At 9:00 o'clock the instruction activities begin and last for two one-hour periods. And what a variety of activities there are! It may be on the lake learning to row and paddle a canoe, or sailing a new boat made in the shop, or flying an airplane just completed, or down through the Narrows after big fish, or on the athletic field in a close game, or mastering a different stroke in tennis, or off in the woods with a bow and arrow, or learning to box and wrestle and how to shoot, or how to cook a meal over an open fire and to build a lean-to or a log cabin, or learning the trees, the birds and the flowers, or completing merit tests in scouting.

The 11:00 o'clock swim comes just at the right time. Everyone cools off after a strenuous morning in the open. The air is filled with joyous shouts of happy youngsters. Some are learning to swim, others are mastering new strokes and dives, while a few are stretched out in the sun on the warm beach, hoping to look like young Indians before camp closes. By 11:30 the all-out whistle sounds, after which boys and counsellors return to their lodges for forty-five minutes of rest and sleep.

(Ten)

Boy Life at Its Best

Dinner at 12:45 is followed by a short rest period—just enough time to write a letter home, take a nap, or make final plans for a new cabin across the lake.

The afternoon program is not as strictly planned, but is just as carefully supervised. To many boys it is the most interesting part of the day. There's the baseball league Mondays, the big water meet Wednesdays and the athletic meet Saturdays. On the remaining afternoons each boy chooses what he would like to do. Usually one group goes out for golf, a second for tennis, a third works in the shop, the nature laboratory or dark room, a fourth fills the range, others start on a canoe trip or a trout fishing trip on the brooks, while some roll blankets for an over-night trip on the mountains, or a gold mining expedition on Swift River. The 4:00 o'clock swim is a necessity, especially after one of those tie games in baseball. Before a boy realizes it, the sunshine of another day draws to a close, full of happy experiences never to be forgotten.

Supper follows at 5:30, after which boating, fishing, hikes to the village, baseball, tennis, capture the fort, and other interesting games are enjoyed. We then gather for our camp fires at Council Rock.

A simple ceremony marks the lighting of the fire. There is singing together, traditional Kawanhee songs, sung to the finest old tunes. As the embers begin to glow and Dean Miller finishes one of his thrilling stories, we rise, and in the stillness of the forest, sing our good-night song. Such a gathering, day after day, becomes a living force in a boy's life.

Taps, 8:00 Midgets; 9:00 Juniors; 9:30 Seniors; 10:00 Master Campers.

Food and Sanitation

Kawanhee a "Class A" Camp

Food Camp Kawanhee has always been noted for its excellent food and carefully balanced meals. The purchase of food and the planning of meals are under the supervision of a dietitian, wife of one of the directors. All bread and pastries are made fresh each day in our camp kitchen. Only the finest of western meats are purchased. Fresh fruits and vegetables are procured from nearby markets and are served each day. Milk and cream, from a tested herd, are obtained from a neighboring farm.

Drinking water is secured from a hillside spring. Its sparkling purity is beyond question. Each year it passes the most severe tests by the State authorities.

Sanitation Our "Class A" sanitary rating, awarded by the State Sanitary Inspector, ranks among the highest for camps in Maine, and has been given Kawanhee for the past sixteen years in succession. This record merits careful consideration by parents who are interested in placing their boys in a safe camp for the summer. Flush toilets are a part of the equipment. Hot and cold shower baths were installed in 1932. Each boy has two hot soap baths during the week in addition to the daily swim periods.

Health and Medical Attention

No Hay Fever at Kawanhee

Physical Improvement Kawanhee is a place of abounding health. Each year, many boys who come to camp in a weakened and run-down condition, return to their homes in the fall, healthy, rugged and brown, with clear eyes and brains, keen for the work of the next school year.

Every boy receives a physical examination upon entering camp which is the basis for all corrective work throughout the season. Weak feet, poor posture, those underweight, overweight, or with heart disturbances are given careful attention.

A long night's sleep of ten or eleven hours, and rest periods preceding and following the noon meal, prevent any possibility of over-doing.

Boys under weight receive special diets. Milk and orange juice are served during the forenoon, afternoon and chocolate malted milk before taps at night. Gains in weight of 6, 8 and 10 pounds are quite common each season.

Medical Attention The finest of medical attention is provided. A resident physician and two graduate nurses are in attendance throughout the season. Additional medical and surgical assistance is available at the Franklin Memorial Hospital, at Farmington—one of the newest and most modern in the state, and less than an hour's drive from the camp. There are skilled dentists in Farmington.

Sleeping Lodges

Well Ventilated, Screened, Dry and Sanitary—A Safeguard to Good Health

NESTLED among the trees by the shore of the lake are ten log cabins built in regular frontier style. They are absolutely free from dampness in rainy weather. Each is equipped with comfortable cots and mattresses and accommodates from seven to nine boys and a counselor.

Kawanhee has never considered it advisable to sleep its boys in tents, preferring instead, well-built lodges which are safe, comfortable and sanitary. It is interesting to note that Maine has recently discouraged the use of tents in boys' and girls' camps—the first state in the country to do so. Tent life is considered unsanitary and, in many instances, actually dangerous to the health of young boys and girls during periods of rainy weather.

Steady! Aim! Fire!

Over thirty thousand rounds of ammunition were shot on the range last year. Kawanhee furnishes both guns and ammunition for the scheduled range periods. Several boys each year bring their own guns to camp. The range is carefully guarded with range officers always in charge. No guns are allowed off the range.

Military obedience prevails which adds to the fun of rifle practice.

Several High Medal Marksmen in This Group

Target Practice

NO wonder target practice, as it is taught at Kawanhee, is one of the most popular sports in camp. In every boy's heart there lurks a desire to fire a rifle. A thrill sweeps over you each time you pull the trigger and when you hit the bullseye, Oh Boy!

The range is conducted under the rules and regulations of the National Rifle Association of America. Rivalry is keen for pro-marksman, marksman, sharpshooter and expert riflemen medals which are awarded each week to the winners at the Saturday night camp fire.

The Swimming and Boating Area

Perfectly safe for non-swimmers. A fine sandy beach slopes gently into the water. Rigid rules are enforced affecting the use of boats. A beach guard is on duty throughout the day. Those who desire to use a boat must report to the guard who has a list of the swimming tests which the boys have passed and the boat privileges they have won.

Water Sports

THE cool clear waters of Lake Webb form an ideal setting for every conceivable type of fresh water sport. The principal swimming area is confined between two docks spaced 35 yards apart. The larger of the docks is 8 feet wide and extends from the shore to a double-deck diving tower in 12 feet of water.

Every boy in camp learns to swim. The morning period, beginning at 11:00 o'clock, lasts for half an hour and is used for special instruction in new strokes, diving and Red Cross tests. Non-swimmers receive careful instruction in small groups in a roped-off area of shallow water, and learn to swim within two or three weeks after camp opens. The 4:00 o'clock period is used as a free-for-all swim, aqua-planing, water polo and for lake-swimming tests (a $\frac{1}{4}$ mile swim).

During swim periods, men are stationed on the docks, diving tower, beach, and at least two in patrol boats, ready to give instant assistance should need arise. No boy is permitted to enter the water until the guards are in position and the whistle has blown. Absolute obedience is required.

Next to swimming, boating ranks among the finest sports in camp. It is a pleasure to which every boy looks forward long before camp opens. No boy is considered competent to use a boat until carefully graded tests in swimming are passed. Instruction in rowing, and the safe methods of handling a canoe are given each morning in regular class periods.

The big aquatic meet of the week is held Wednesday afternoon. This is the time when every fellow "struts his stuff," as Greys and Maroons compete for honors. There is swimming, diving, rowing and canoeing (singles and doubles), canoe bobbing, war canoe races, aqua-planing, water polo, sailing, exhibitions of Red Cross Life Saving, fancy diving and special clowning stunts by counselors.

Scouting

WHILE Kawanhee is not a Boy Scout camp, it offers unlimited opportunities to do Scout work and pass Scout tests. There is no better place to work on floor tests and Merit Badges such as Cooking, Camping, Pioneering, Bird Study and many others. With a good supply of trees and boughs available, it is a comparatively easy task to build a lean-to, a bridge, a raft, and—best of all—a comfortable bough bed.

In the past few years this Camp has been very proud to help nine boys qualify for their Eagle badges. It has been equally proud of the much larger number of boys who have decided to join the Scouts while at Kawanhee. Scout meetings are held on Wednesday evenings in the Scout cabin and consist of contests emphasizing special phases of the work, as well as games, stories, singing, and finally a marshmallow roast. A special feature which interests many of the boys is the study of Indian lore which includes the making of war bonnets and other Indian equipment.

The Scouts have organized themselves into the Kah-ne-do-go-nah Tribe, meaning "among the pines."

Merit badge work is divided among the counselors, several of whom are trained scout leaders and Eagle Scouts. Mr. R. C. Frank is a Scout Executive in Englewood, New Jersey. Each boy is coached and passes his tests before an expert in preparation for his appearance before the camp Board of Review. Boys too young to be Scouts are instructed in Cub work.

Boys Who Won a Paddle and Canoe Privileges — 1936

Canoeing Canoeing is one of the most favorite sports with the majority of boys at Kawanhee. Each boy must win his right to a paddle. As he progresses in his swimming and canoe tests, definite marks of accomplishment are painted on the paddle blade. To win his "C" he swims the Cove, $\frac{1}{8}$ mile. If he swims the lake in front of the camp, $\frac{1}{4}$ mile, he receives a grey and maroon bar painted at the top of the blade. After passing the advanced canoe test, two bars are added at the bottom which give him the privilege to use a canoe on any part of the lake in good weather.

Athletics

THERE is good wholesome fun in all the games and sports at Kawanhee. Boys eager to improve their athletic abilities have all the advantages of skillful coaching and instruction. While an effort is made to develop spectacular performers among the boys who show ability, the primary interests are "Sports for All" and "Sports for Health's Sake."

On the three hundred and sixty acres of camp property, a fine, level athletic field has been developed. Games which are most beneficial, and which appeal especially to boys of camp age, are taught by trained athletes. Baseball, of course, receives special prominence. Monday afternoons are set aside for the big league games—six teams in each league competing. Three diamonds are kept in excellent condition. Four double tennis courts are in great demand most of the time. Special classes are organized for beginners. Then there is football, suitable for summer camps, basket-ball and volley ball, horseshoe courts, high jump, broad jump and pole vaulting pits, and a ring for boxing and wrestling.

Careful Competition No boy is allowed to over-tax his strength. The camp is organized in four distinct age groups—Midgets 7 to 10, Juniors 11 to 13, Seniors 14 and 15 and Master Campers 16 and 17. Boys who do not enjoy athletics may follow a program requiring less physical exertion, in which emphasis is placed on such sports as sailing, rifle practice, shop work or fishing.

Sixty-five boys may be accommodated here in one Class. Such facilities solve the rainy day problem at Kawanhee.

SHOPWORK. Our new shop is the busiest place in camp. On rainy days it is filled to capacity. Many happy and profitable hours are spent here during the season. Two experienced teachers of manual training devote their full time to the work. The shop is open from 9:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. daily, and accommodates sixty-five boys at a time.

It is a pleasure and revelation to observe a room full of boys at work on a busy day. From one corner of the shop comes the sound of the forge and the ring of the anvil, as some young enthusiast fashions a hunting knife, wrought from bar-steel of finest quality. Across the room, other youngsters are making copper nut bowls and pewter plates for mother, ash trays for dad, lanterns, paper knives and beautiful book ends, etched or pierced in heavy brass and pewter. In the larger section reserved for wood work, kayaks, racing yachts and speed motor boats are taking shape, which the builders hope to finish in time for the big regatta, held the last week of camp. There are lemon wood bows, with horn tips, receiving a final polish, and rustic tables, birch-bark bird houses, canoe paddles, and a variety of hand carved boxes. In another section devoted exclusively to leather work, belts, bill-folders, moccasins, key holders with many of the pieces hand tooled with initials and special designs, are in the process of completion. This is indeed a wonderful place, where surplus energy is burned up in creative thinking and worth while doing.

Sundays

The religious life of Camp Kawanhee is non-sectarian. Sundays are spent quietly. At 10:45 we assemble in our outdoor chapel by the shore of the lake. The service is simple and deals directly with the problems of a boy's daily life. Boys of Catholic faith attend church at Wilton, twelve miles from camp.

Following the noon meal of chicken and all the "fixings", a short rest hour is observed. Letters are written home and plans are made for short trips, sailing, tennis, games.

Our Camp Chaplain understands the spiritual needs of boyhood and enters into the physical and social life of the camp as one of its strongest leaders.

VESPER SERVICE ON BASS ROCK

We look forward to this unique service more than any other event of the day. The rock is located one mile from the camp shore.

Healthy Life in the Maine Woods

The lean-to shown in the lower cut was made by boys eleven and twelve years of age. The roof and sides are covered with large sheets of birch bark which make it a cozy place to sleep, even in rainy weather. Several groups have spent the night here—cooking their supper and breakfast over the open fire.

Cabin Under Construction

Camp Craft

Camp craft in its most vigorous forms is encouraged at Kawanhee. There is ample room on our three hundred and sixty acres of timber land to construct a great variety of cabins. The above cabin was built entirely by the boys, including felling the trees, notching the logs, and rolling them into place. A stone fireplace was constructed at the entrance to the cabin.

(Thirty-eight)

From the standpoint of pure exhilaration, sailing on Lake Webb is a joy and pleasure long to be remembered.

Sailing

SAILING is one of the major activities at Kawanhee. It is a part of the regular program and is one of the most enjoyable sports in camp. It is elected by many boys as their chief objective for the summer.

Instruction is given in groups. Each boy takes his turn at the tiller and sheet. He is taught to go to a sail boat lying at her moorings, get her under way, sail her around a prescribed course, pick up moorings, tie up, and leave the boat in shipshape condition as to sails, center board, etc. He receives a thorough grounding in how to meet the unusual situation, such as a sudden squall or a difficult landing. Advancement in the course depends upon his ability to execute all orders skillfully and without delay.

The entire month of July is devoted to group instruction each morning. Individual instruction and sailing for pleasure are confined to afternoons. August will see the beginning of crew racing by those who pass their individual tests. We anticipate the keenest kind of rivalry among the boys as to who will receive the silver medals awarded to the most skillful racing skippers at the close of the camp.

Junior and Senior Sachems — Lodge Leaders, 1936

Any boy may feel justly proud to be elected by his lodge mates to represent them in the Sachem group.

Archery Is Very Popular

Many fine bows are made in the shop each year. They are skillfully fashioned from lemonwood and are horn-tipped and highly polished.

Fishing from the Main Dock

Every now and then some boy lands a prize and becomes a hero throughout the camp. Perch, bass and pickerel are caught here.

A Tense Moment — Camp Show Night

Dramatics An excellent opportunity is afforded boys at Kawanhee who have a bent for amateur theatricals. This instructive and interesting activity is in charge of an experienced director. Every Wednesday night the boys give "a show" which is preceded by a short lodge skit—usually original with the boys. Every fellow has an opportunity to "strut his stuff." This is the big night of the week.

Orchestra Under the fine leadership of a man who knows boys as well as music, the Kawanhee orchestra was a delight to everyone in camp during the past season. Boys are encouraged to bring their musical instruments to camp. Three rehearsals are held each week. The orchestra makes its official appearance at each camp show night.

A Corner of the Nature Museum

To many Kawanhee boys, this room is one of the most interesting places in camp. Here, individual aquariums are kept, rock collections identified and labeled, moths, butterflies and insects prepared for mounting in the latest approved method. Several boys each year devote much of their time to the "Samuel Fessenden Clark" Wild Flower Competition, for which twenty dollars—distributed in four prizes, are awarded the boys with the most neatly pressed and mounted collection.

Nature

Kawanhee is unusually rich in natural beauty, with plant and animal life in abundance. Lake and hillside, with shaded paths and tangled woodland provide ideal places to explore the secrets and beauty of Nature.

"Learning by doing" is the Kawanhee way and nowhere in camp is this more observed than in the Nature department. Acquaintance with wild life is gained by caring for pets in the camp zoo, pursuing birds on trips afield, and observation of the beaver colony a short distance from the camp.

In the Nature Museum familiarization is begun by means of the Electric Bird Panel, the Ant Palace and Coal Mine, and by means of aquariums and herbariums filled by the boys themselves and watched through every stage of development.

Over night trips are made occasions for study of the stars, simplified by the "stellarium" in the Nature Museum which flashes familiar constellations later to be identified under the open sky.

A well marked Nature Trail extends a half mile or more through a beautiful wooded section of the camp. Here, under stalwart trees, the ground pine and Indian pipe, the red fruits of the bunch berry, and the blue of Clintonia are found in profusion. Ferns, together with mosses and lichens, the products of centuries, cover the rocks and brook bed, and all are made part of a carefully designed project to acquaint the observer with the wonders that Nature has to offer him who will but pause to read.

Microscopic observations, study of ferns and fungi, moth and butterfly propagation, nature photography and other fields of original research voluntarily chosen, are open to boys who wish to become "Naturalists," the highest honor the department confers. Such activities look beyond a single summer's enjoyment. They aim to quicken appreciation, awaken interests and develop resources which will in many cases continue throughout the boy's life adding to his accomplishments and contributing habits which may yield rich returns in later years.

nahunk Stream. A hike of two miles over good trails brings us to "York's" Camps at the foot of the mountains, where we stay for the night, preparatory to the climb on the following day. Boys who do not climb the mountain, fish in the Sourdnahunk stream, famous for its swift water and hard fighting trout.

"Tim Pond" Trout Fishing Trip — Three Days — Of special interest to boy's who enjoy the sport of catching trout is the fishing trip to Tim Pond, about 85 miles from camp. The trip includes a four-mile hike over a mountain trail.

We fish from 5:00 to 7:00 o'clock each night and in the early morning. Fly-fishing, only, is permitted. Inexperienced fishermen quite frequently catch two, and sometimes three ten-inch trout with one cast.

Local and Special Trips

The very vastness of the country makes it inexhaustible for trips of every description.

THERE is something about rolling a pack, securing provisions, and striking off for the hills and mountains, or up the lake in a canoe, that one never knows unless he has lived the life and experienced the thrills.

Among the interesting local trips which will be taken for the coming season are visits to "The Devil's Kitchen," over-night trips on Tumbledown Mt., with a crawl through "Fat Man's Misery," hikes up Blue and Bald Mountains, several trips to Coos Canyon on Swift River, where delightful swimming and delicious steak suppers are enjoyed, trout fishing trips on the mountain brooks, and, most interesting of all, gold-panning trips on Swift River and its tributaries, which is one of the most thrilling experiences in camp.

Mt. Katahdin Trip — Three Days — For the boy with a venturesome spirit and a genuine love of the wilds, there is no trip in New England that surpasses the one to Mt. Katahdin, Maine's highest mountain, and declared by experienced climbers the most spectacular and beautiful elevation east of the Rockies.

The trip covers a distance of approximately 372 miles. Our first lap is to Greenville, on Moosehead Lake, 117 miles from camp. From here a side trip of 45 miles is made to Chesuncook Lake, at Ripogenus Dam. We then penetrate for 22 miles into the very heart of Maine's virgin timber land to the end of the road at Sour-

Coos Canyon—On Swift River

Interesting Trips

Included in the regular tuition

Most of the mineral wealth of Maine is yet untapped, and thousands of dollars worth of semi-precious stones are taken annually from hills such as those at Newry, a short ride from camp, where the boys go to add to their rock collections. Every boy has the thrill of finding the beautiful green tourmalines and the clear quartz crystals. The more fortunate may emerge with pieces of beryl, smokey quartz or even amethyst.

Gold Panning at Kawanhee

A thrilling and unique experience awaits every boy at Kawanhee! The first gold found in the United States was discovered not fifteen miles from the Camp on Swift River, which still holds some of its hoard to give to the eager searcher.

It is a most fascinating and never to be forgotten experience for a boy to hold a genuine gold miner's pan in his hands, wash out a pile of pay dirt and pick out a few precious pieces of gold. Last season every boy who went on a gold mining trip found at least a few gleaming grains of gold to carry home.

Report says that early in the season a native lumberjack found a nugget of considerable value, and laborers are making a fair day's pay panning gold.

We are looking forward with the keenest enthusiasm to renewing our search for gold during the coming camp season. We expect to explore and prospect many new streams and locations. Who will be the first to find a hundred dollar nugget?

Regular gold miner's pans, sluice-boxes are furnished by the camp.

The Coos Canyon Trip on Swift River always provides keen enjoyment for adventurous-minded boys. Its sparkling cool pools of pure mountain water offers most unusual opportunities for short trips from camp. To dive off cliffs, shoot the rapids or climb under the falls gives a boy a never-to-be-forgotten experience. For those who do not care to swim there are beautiful rock formations to be explored or gold-panning and trout-fishing to be enjoyed. Sizzling steaks, broiled to a turn over live coals, baked potatoes, cocoa, fruit and cookies provides the finish to a memorable day.

The World's Largest Fish Hatchery—One of the most valuable trips from the standpoint of both pleasure and education, is the one to the Government Trout Hatchery at Gray—about sixty miles from camp. Here the boys will see countless numbers of speckled beauties, ranging in size from one inch to twenty inches or more. Five miles of rearing pools and ponds are being used to propagate over five million fish this year. The fish are fed three times daily and reach the legal size for liberation in one season. Before returning to camp the boys visit a nearby game preserve and see many of the wild animals of Maine including deer, bear, wild-cat, moose and foxes.

Camp Honors, Objectives and Awards

THE Point System of Camp Honors is so organized that each boy accomplishes something definite and worthwhile during the summer. The classification by age and weight into Senior A, Senior B, Junior B and Midget groups, make the completion very keen, and promotes a live interest in all-around activities.

It is our desire that each boy enrolled may find something in which he can excel, and in that accomplishment learn not only the value of initiative, but also how to apply himself to get effective results.

While each boy is urged to undertake a schedule which will keep him fairly busy, yet no activity at camp is compulsory. For instance, if a boy does not like baseball or shop work, he is not required to participate in them. There are plenty of other things he may do, making it possible for him to have a worthwhile summer learning and enjoying the sports and activities which he prefers.

One of the most prized moments of the camper's life is when at the final banquet, boys who have won prominent honors have the various medals, plaques, cups and ribbons presented to them, with the whole camp singing and cheering in their honor.

ACHIEVEMENT Levels were established in the Kawan-chee program of awards in 1935. Now, instead of boys having to wait until the close of the season before any recognition is given as to the progress they have made in their activity work, each activity has been broken up into a series of three achievement levels.

After achieving the first level, special recognition is given at the formal camp fire Saturday night. There is cheering and the presentation of a maroon leather bar. The stimulus of such procedure is to "carry on" and eventually attain the second level and then on to the third. If a boy completes the first level in three activities he is presented with a beautiful leather plaque upon which the bars are attached. If he completely fills his plaque, i. e., if he wins three achievement bars in each activity in not to exceed two consecutive seasons in camp, a special award is presented to him at the final banquet, as a definite recognition of a "job well done".

We believe that when the value of achievement is frequently emphasized a boy very rapidly acquires confidence, resourcefulness, and courage, which are destined to lead on to higher and more worthy fields of conquest, long after camping days have been forgotten.

Maroons Triumph Over Greys

The 1936 race is over, and the Maroons emerged victorious beating their Grey opponents by a score of 9793 to 8360. At the start the losers loomed very dangerous, and not a few predicted a Grey year in every department. Due to the large number of points won in Achievement Levels by such Maroons as Waller, Lawlis and Beach—who presented their side with nearly 1700 points, the Greys were finally nosed out of first place.

Good Trout Fishing Here

An Educator Tells of a Dad's Impressions of Kawanhee

By DR. REES EDGAR TULLOSS,
President of Wittenberg College

Any father who has watched the interested face of his son in a Kawanhee camp-fire circle, or seen him in the midst of the group of attentive listeners in boats around Vesper Rock at sunset on a Sunday evening, or watched the head of a little swimmer making his way across the lake to qualify for water privileges, or looked with fatherly pride upon the awards on a plaque indicating the passing of successive levels of achievement in various fields, knows what it is to appreciate the values of his son's summers at Camp Kawanhee.

To me, far more significant than the rare beauty of its environment, its excellent physical equipment, its exhilarating lake and mountain air, is the recognition of Kawanhee as a place of ideals.

If every worthy institution is "but the lengthened shadow of some great man", we should expect Kawanhee to reflect the ideals and purposes of its founders and directors. Here George and Raymond Frank have built into actuality their fully developed conceptions of what a camp should be, and what a camp should mean, to boys. Here is a camp where good times fill all the hours, where every reasonable freedom is allowed, not as a privilege, but as a matter of right; but back of every phase of the whole well-rounded program—aquatics, athletics, woodcraft, nature study, shop, scouting, range, archery, dramatics—is the conception of youthful activity ordered in such a way as to build character. What I have seen in the summer-time growth of my own son, what other parents have told me as to what Kawanhee has meant to their sons, justifies the statement that here is an effective influence in the development of worthy and enduring qualities of personality. That, in the end, is what makes a camp worth while.

If there were space for it, one would write of counsellors chosen not only for their knowledge of some form of camp activity, but for their understanding of boy life and problems, their leadership ability, their personal worth and ideals; of junior counsellors themselves in part a product of Kawanhee training; of men like "Colonel" Sweet and Ross Miller; of the unlimited helpfulness and pervasive influence of Ma Frank; of the Sunday morning talks by various members of the staff; of the impressive Sunday evening services, of the moral tone and positive religious spirit of the camp as a whole; of the comments and confidences of sons revealing the learning of lessons of unselfishness, obedience, dependability, perseverance, confidence, courage, manliness.

Five hundred words allowed me to express appreciation, heartfelt gratitude, recognition of high ideals faithfully adhered to, of values of life-long significance! Totally inadequate! To put it all in one sentence, Kawanhee must be placed along with home and church and school as agencies which have helped to shape rightly the ideals and attitudes of my son.

It's fun to bait a hook when the fish are biting
