Maroons on Top in Camp's Largest Score

The Maroons crashed through to the final victory with the same headlong drive that kept them in the lead all summer long. The breathlessly awaited final score revealed on August 4th stood: Maroons, 34,102; Greys, 30,644. This 3,458-point margin of victory made it clear that the Maroons, not content with their already substantial advantage of 2,204 points dating from August 13th, had added 1,254 to it in the concluding nine days of activities. With this spectacular accomplishment to their credit, Captain Clarke and his cohorts were fully deserving of the mighty congratulatory cheer which the Greys raised in honor of the Maroons. The victors' yell for the Greys, however, was every bit as vigorous and as sincere, and well it might be! The Greys had the tougher row to hoe throughout the season, but they never allowed this fact to diminish their enthusiasm, their sportsmanship or their will to do good work. Such items add up to a more enduring score than all the points pinned on the banner, and in such a score the two 1960 teams were tied.

The major surprise of the score was its size, a combined total of 64,746 points for the two teams. This topped 1959's combined total by 13,484 points, and exceeded by 7,666 the previous high-water mark of scoring set in 1953. True, the summer's enrollment was Kawanhee's biggest, but not the biggest by any such margin as that. The true explanation of the mighty score could be deduced only from the record list of High Point Winners, and the massive final account of Achievement Levels. It was, in short, a season when everyone enjoyed his activities and went in for them in a big way, with a bumper crop of points as the inevitable by-product.

The size of the last round-up was all the more eye-opening in view of the fact that scoring had been relatively slow earlier in the season. There was nothing slow, however, in the way the points piled up between August 13th and the banquet. In that period, of course, several once-a-season blocks of points were weighed in—470 from Scouting, 3,700 from Life Saving, 1,730 from the annual tournaments, another 3,700 in bonuses on the unusual number plaques completed in one, two or three years—but the great bulk of the points, approximately 28,000 of them, were concentrated in the longest list of Achievement Levels in Kawanhee history. To an extent never before observed, a notable season of good work paid off all in one lump.

Phil Green Ties Scoring Record

Top man on the scoring totem pole was Phil Green, a Junior B Cub and a Maroon. In his first Kawanhee summer, Phil built up the amazing individual score of 1,250 points, tying the all-time high set by Ben McCoy in 1953. He completed twenty-seven levels, three in each of the nine departments, the maximum possible for a camper in a single season and, in so doing, earned 900 of his points. In accomplishing this feat he automatically completed his plaque in one season, thereby knocking off another 300 points. Of his remaining 50 points, 25 came from his participation in the Archery tournament, and 25 from the Wrestling tournament in which he reached the finals.

This year's list of seventy-four High Point Winners was the longest in Kawanhee annals, including ten more names than were recorded in 1956, the previous high. Any camper who compiles an individual score of 400 points or more during a season ranks as one of that year's High Point Winners.

The Junior B Cubs enjoyed an unprecedented prominence on the 1960 list. Indeed, they monopolized the six top spots. Just below Green in order were D. Schirmer with 1,160, G. Brainard with 1,085, B. Davis with 1,075, T. Coons with 1,070, and G. Heindel with 1,040, all Junior B Cubs. Sharing the 1,040 slot with Heindel was T. Lamb, the ranking Junior B. The leading Junior A, H. Cory, ranked next, and the list of the camp's top ten was completed by two more Junior B's, P. Evans with 935 and W. Doyle with 830.

The unusual number of very high individual scores was a corollary of the year's remarkable record of nineteen completed plaques, another new all-time Kawanhee high. The seven leading score-makers all completed plaques in one season, thus winning 300-point bonuses in addition to the points earned from the levels themselves. The other three members of the top ten completed their plaques either in two, or in three years, and received bonuses of 200 or 100 respectively.

There follows a list of the 1960 High Point Winners arranged alphabetically within the age groups:

Outpost Enjoys Brief but Busy Season

The final week of the trip program was devoted in the main to the Outpost Camp on Swift River. Saturday, August 13th, Kawanhee's Junior Maine Guides set up the wilderness camp close to the mountain stream in Byron Gap between West Mountain and Tumbledown. There five groups, adding up to more than a hundred boys, successively spent periods of twenty-four hours or better, with Mr. Bateman, assisted by John Fulda, in charge of the camp's operation.

The Eagles, Falcons and Panthers, with Dave Mallery, Bill Boothby and George Benua, moved into the tents on Sunday, August 14th, for a stay which lasted until Monday afternoon. Drizzly weather left the Outpost empty Monday night but, with the return of sunny skies Tuesday morning, the Polecats and the Pine Trees arrived with Jack Alexander and Ed Kersten. They were followed on Wednesday by the Hawks and the Deers with Bill Keating, Roger Liddell and John Bobb; on Thursday by boys from the Birch, Beaver, Moose and Lynx lodges, chaperoned by Dave Hoch and Pete Schofield; and on Friday by a group of Wildcats, Bears, Crows and Badgers accompanied by Ed Chace, Ned Seibert and Ben McCoy.

In all cases, the visits proved to be too brief for more than a sampling of the adventures of such outdoor life. Gold-panning, except for the Junior B Cubs, provided a major interest, with sufficient results obtained in the form of gold dust and flakes to convince the would-be miners that the process is more a matter of patient work than a get-rich-quick scheme. The potentialities of hiking and swimming were never exhausted, the latter being particularly enjoyed in the pot holes and chutes of "Little Coos". Each day ended with a campfire, featuring marshmallows, hot cocoa and stories by Uncle Charlie Long, Pete Schofield or Ed Chace. Each boy returned to Kawanhee with some special memory of the experience—the good camp meals, including fresh corn-on-the-cob once a day; the quiet nights spent within sound of the running stream; the frequently observed moose tracks hinting at the recent increase of these great animals in the vicinity; the small garter snake which wanted to share Gary Sweatt's tent; or the appearance, late in the week, of state troopers and an F. B. I. man or two participating in the wide, and soon terminated, search for the Wilton bank robbers. The Outpost Camp's comparatively brief 1960 season was, in all respects except duration, one of its most memorable.

The mountain trips rounded out the schedule of trips for 1960. On Wednesday, August 17th, Ed Chace, assisted by Ben McCoy, Wade Rockafellow and Dave Mallery, led by a party of eighteen older campers up Tumbledown via the exciting Chimney Trail, over the West and South Peaks to the Beaver Pond, and down by the Parker's Ridge Trail. The following Monday a small and hardy group climbed Blueberry with Mr. Chace.

Campcraft Climbers Groom Blueberry Trail

Blueberry Mountain, sometimes called John Newman Mountain, was climbed by a group of nine boys under the leadership of Ed Chace and John Fulda on Monday, August 22nd. In 1958 Kawanhee's Campcraft Department, directed by Ed, built a trail up this unusual mountain. Now that trail is described in detail in the Appalachian Mountain Club's White Mountain Handbook, 1960 Edition.

H. Ticknor, J. Sheehan, T. Patton, F. Stewart, W. Langer, K. Love, D. Brunton, H. Cory and J. Mogabgab made up this work party which cut brush, repainted blazes, and generally improved the trail for more climbers in the 1961 season.

The summit of Blueberry Mountain is especially interesting in that it is entirely composed of white rock. The view of Webb Lake, and of the Jacksons, is quite different from that obtained from Tumbledown. The climb is over a rather rough trail which, as it is used, is becoming better defined. Some ledges half way up afford fine views to the east. Near the summit there is some rock climbing. The trip takes about two hours ascending, and one and one-half hours descending.

The boys carried trail lunches and canteens. No brook or spring has been found along the trail. While moving through a dead spruce forest, the boys discovered a nest of hornets. Frank Stewart made close contact with them when he trod heavily on their nest. This the hornets resented bitterly and set out to wreak revenge. Frank exhibited eight battle wounds. Wes Langer suffered a wound, but not in an exhibitable area.

This trip brought to a glorious close a season of mountain climbing of which Katahdin was the high point.

Red Sox Blanked in All-Star Game

Friday evening, August 19th, the Kawanhee Little League All-Star team, behind the no-hit pitching of Ben Griffin, posted a 3-0 victory over the league champion Red Sox. Griffin baffled the Sox hitters with his curve ball as he struck out nine and walked two. The All-Star fielders, however, committed six errors which gave the Red Sox four base runners for the entire game. The Sox could do nothing right as they chalked up six costly misplays in the field. Billy Lawrence was the losing hurler, giving up three runs on four hits, striking out three and walking only two.

In the first frame both teams were sent down, one-two-three. In the second, however, after the Sox had again gone down in order, Tim Ferguson singled and came home on Rick Carrick's double with the first All-Star tally. John Gladfelter then bounced out to end the inning. The Red Sox threatened in the third when Charles Matheson and Ed Melcher walked, but their mates couldn't drive them in. In the last half of the same inning, Charlie Dawes, the All-Star centerfielder, reached base on an error and came around to score the second marker of the contest. Tom Fischgrund crossed the plate with the third and last tally in the bottom of the fourth, after receiving a base on balls.

The Kawanhee Athletic Department wishes to express its gratitude to those who contributed their time and energy to the successful completion of the Little League season. Among these are the managers, coaches, umpires, scorers and organizers.

Tuesday, August 16th, the Chippewas downed the Apaches 7-4 in the Midget Softball League finale. The loss could not shake the Apaches' hold on first place, but the win gave the Chippewas a half interest in second place—or the cellar, depending on one's point of view. Final standings in the league were:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Apaches	6	2	.750
Chippewas	4	5	.444
Mohawks	3	5	.375

Greys and Maroons Split Track Series

The summer's work in Track under Bob Guthrie and other members of the Athletic Department reached the pay-off stage in a series of field meets run off during the final week of activities. Tuesday afternoon, August 16th, the Grey Junior A squad humbled the Maroons 88-32. W. Hartog turned in the day's star performance, placing in all four events for a personal score of 28. Wednesday, the Maroon Junior B Cubs avenged the defeat by stopping their Grey opponents, 79-41. The Maroons had virtually a one-man track team in Phil Green, for he placed first in the dash and both jumps, and second in the baseball throw for the terrific total of 38 points, just three short of the total earned by the whole Grey team. The Maroons continued in the winning groove the next afternoon when their Junior Counselors and Seniors walloped their Grey opposite numbers, 117-53, in the only six-event program of the series. It remained for the Grey Junior B's to even things up Friday, August 19th, when they squeaked by the Maroons 61-59. R. Yantes, with three firsts and a fifth accounted for 32 points, more than half of his team's total. The Maroons ended up with an advantage of 47 points for the series, having scored 287 points in the field, to 240 for the Greys, while the two teams broke even on the 25-point bonuses awarded for each meet. There follow summaries of the four meets:

Liddell Wins Sailing Championship

Off and on during the last two weeks of the camp season, sails were seen alternately scudding and drifting across the surface of Lake Webb, as eighteen skippers battled to be camp champion for 1960. The four preliminary rounds contained such heated competition that in three of them the first three places were separated by four points or less. In one, R. Shepard, H. Cory and B. Newman were in a three-way tie for second. W. Park, T. Hirsch, B. Welton, D. Roth, R. Liddell, H. Cory, R. Wells and B. Connor made the semifinals, in which round R. Liddell and W. Park were victorious.

Liddell and Park then met R. McGee and D. Bittenbender, last year's runner-up and champion, who had byes to the finals this year. From this final contest Camp Kawanhee's very first Racing Skipper, Roger Liddell, the first person to have attained racing competence in both Tech Dinghies and Cape Cod Knockabouts, emerged as the victor.

R. McGee was second, six points behind. W. Park and D. Bittenbender trailed, one and two points respectively, out of second place.

Brunton's Pin-Win Climaxes Mat Matches

At 7:00 P. M. Saturday, August 20th, Ben McCoy called the 1960 Kawanhee Wrestling Tournament to order in the Recreation Hall. As a prelude to the tournament, Ben led an exhibition of wrestling holds, rules, etc. Chuck Compher and Brad Welton demonstrated the various tactics. At 7:15 P. M. the twenty-two contestants for the eleven champion titles filed into the hall, as all the campers and many parents and visitors cheered for the Red team, headed by Bruce Connor, and for the White team, with George Lamb as its mentor.

Stepping on the mats first were George Brainard and Dave Schirmer representing the 55-lb. class. The two boys were almost equal in weight and speed, and at the close of the struggle it took a referee's decision in favor of Dave Schirmer to decide this close match.

Next in line were Bancroft Davis and John King, each hoping for the 65-lb. championship. Davis outweighed King, although King made several quick recoveries. Davis came out as the champ with a riding time of 90-14.

Bill Doyle and Phil Green appeared next to battle for the 75-lb. title. Green appeared heavier than Doyle, but this did not effect the very close match between these contestants. Each boy was almost pinned by his opponent at one point or another as the stop watch ticked on. Once more a referee's decision, on this occasion in favor of Doyle, was the only means of determining the winner.

The 85-lb. class was represented by Bruce Birch and Tom Cole. The boys appeared equal in weight and ability, but it did not take Birch long to hold Cole to the mat for the whistle.

In the 95-lb. class, Tom Lamb and Rick Bell battled out a very long and even match. Bell made some fast recoveries and came out with a 12-3 point score for the championship.

Rick Carrick and Roy Welton were the contestants for the 105-lb. class title. Unfortunately, early in the match, Welton took a bad fall and sprained a muscle in his back. It is this writer's opinion that had this not occurred, it would have been a very even fight, but as it happened, Carrick received the title by default.

In the seventh match of the tournament, Larry Brainard and Robin Wells stepped on the mat to fight for the 115-lb. title. Brainard outweighed Wells, but Robin managed to edge out his opponent by keeping on top of him a few seconds more. Wells won the match with a riding time of 60-40.

George Noble and Chuck McGee came forth next to represent the 125-lb. class. Noble was quick to get himself out of close holds, but McGee showed just a little more aggressiveness. It was a referee's decision that crowned McGee as the champ.

In the 135-lb. class, Randy Evans and Tim Pears appeared for the ninth match of the evening. Evans outweighed Pears, and appeared to be very strong in his movements. Pears was quick on recoveries but Evans succeeded in pinning him in the middle of the period.

The team captains appeared next to fight for the 145-lb. class title, these being George Lamb and Bruce Connor. These musclemen were very well matched in weight and speed and only after a long, close match did a score of 6-5 bring the championship to Connor.

The final, and most spectacular match of the evening came as Charlie Clarke and Don Brunton appeared to fight for the title of the Unlimited class. Clarke was under Brunton in weight, but appeared quicker and more experienced as he led the beginning of the match. Brunton escaped from a few close calls, but it still appeared to be Clarke's match until very suddenly Brunton came out from under Clarke and pounced on Charlie. It was a hard pin, as it took Brunton about 10 seconds to get Clarke's shoulders squarely on the mat for the whistle to sound. This brought forth an ovation of cheering from the audience, and Billy Keating, the referee for this final match, had all he could do to keep the crowd quiet to hear the official's decision. Brunton's pin brought to a close the 1960 wrestling tournament.

Park-Eskesen Match Tops Tennis Finals

After being rained out the previous afternoon, the 1960 tennis finals took to the courts late Sunday afternoon, August 21st. The best match in recent Kawanhee history was played between Hal Eskesen and Chuck Park in the Junior A division. At the end of a hard fought first set, Hal emerged on top by a score of 6-4. In the second set, however, Chuck regained his consistency and wore Hal down. The score was 6-1 in Park's favor. In the third set, which was played after supper, both players were refreshed. Chuck, however, still maintained his consistency and won by the score of 6-3 to take the championship.

In the Senior division, George Lamb ably handled Bruce Connor by beating him in straight sets 6-1, 6-1. In the Junior B finals Diego DelValle displayed excellent tennis form for a player of his age as he defeated Don Gordon 6-1, 6-0, in the match played after supper.

End-of-the-season tennis activity was mainly concentrated in the big Junior A tournament with its twenty-five entries. Only seven players contested the Senior title, and ten the Junior B. Hottest contest in the various semifinals was the hard-fought Junior B match which Don Gordon won from Jim Duffey, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1. There follows a summary of the final rounds in the three tournaments:

JUNIOR B Quarterfinals: C. Dawes d. B. Birch, 6-0, 6-0; D. DelValle d. W. Matchneer; D. Gordon d. R. Yantes, 6-3, 6-4; J. Duffey d. T. Nolan, 6-4, 6-2.
JUNIOR B Semifinals: D. DelValle d. C. Dawes, 6-3, 6-4; D. Gordon d. J. Duffey, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1.
JUNIOR B Finals: D. DelValle d. D. Gordon, 6-1, 6-0.
JUNIOR A Quarterfinals: H. Eskesen d. W. Turnbull, 6-0, 6-1; J. Mogabgab d. T. Fischgrund, 6-7, 6-2, 6-2; C. Park d. R. McCandless, 6-0, 6-0; D. Roth d. H. Cory, 6-2, 6-4.
JUNIOR A Semifinals: H. Eskesen d. J. Mogabgab, 6-2, 6-1; C. Park d. D. Roth, 6-1, 6-3.
JUNIOR A Finals: C. Park d. H. Eskesen, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.
SENIOR Quarterfinals: B. Connor d. J. Brainard, 6-0, 6-2; T. Pears, bye; B. Welton, by default; G. Lamb d. D. O'Hare, 6-0, 6-2.
SENIOR Semifinals: B. Connor d. T. Pears, 6-0, 6-0; G. Lamb d. B. Welton, 6-0, 6-2.
SENIOR Finals: G. Lamb d. B. Connor, 6-1, 6-1.

Basketball Games Favor Maroons, 2-1

The end-of-the-season Maroon-Grey basketball action commenced on Tuesday, August 16th, with a game in the Junior Counselor and Senior division. The Maroons, led by the play-making and shooting of Bill Boothby, leaped to a 9-2 lead in the first quarter and threatened to make a runaway of the contest. The Greys objected and, buckling down under the court guidance of hustling Brad Welton, held the Maroon advantage down to 11-5 in the next quarter.

In the second half, the Greys kept the ballgame within reach at a 17-10 count, as Welton matched Boothby's two baskets. A determined bid in the fourth quarter was offset by two quick baskets by Ken Love for the Maroons. The strong rebounding and defense of Ned Seibert and Ross Shepard provided the major difference in the hard-fought game which ended at 24-17 in favor of the Maroons. Boothby popped in ten points on five baskets and Love tallied seven for the victorious Maroons. Welton carried the entire Grey scoring attack with thirteen points.

The Junior B and Junior A contests were postponed until Monday, August 22nd. The Junior B contest on that date followed the pattern of the Senior game. The Maroons jumped out ahead with a 6-3 first-half advantage. Once again the Greys held them tight in the second half but could not gain themselves. The Greys finally bowed out at 13-10. Also once again the Grey scoring was dominated by one boy, as Dave Nimkin threw in nine points on four baskets. The well balanced Maroon attack was led by Don Gordon's five points and Jim Duffey's four. Foul shots were the story, as the Maroons held a seven to two advantage, with four by Gordon.

The story was all Grey in the Junior A struggle late Monday afternoon. The Greys advanced to an 11-4 advantage in the first quarter behind the shooting of Randy Evans, Derek Savage and Bill Hartog, who combined for five goals. Savage and Randy Vockel of the Greys tallied the only two baskets of the second quarter to build up a Grey advantage of 17-5. Hartog and Savage, with an abundance of shooting opportunities due to their control of the backboards, carried the second half with the aid of Robin Wells. Carlos DelValle and Tom Fischgrund tallied the only Maroon baskets in their team's 30-10 defeat. Hartog threw up eleven scores, Savage ten and Vockel five for the high-riding Greys.

Maroons Dominate Last Water Meet

The weather was grey at the water meet of Sunday, August 21st, but not the score! The latter was Maroon all the way! The Maroons seized the lead in the opening minutes of the program, when Phil Green churned to the front in the first lap of the Combination Relay, and held it without serious challenge from the Greys right down to the final reckoning: Maroons, 82; Greys, 58.

Varied and vigorously contested events held the large gallery on the edge of its something-less-than-contour seats throughout the program. The Canoe Tug-of-War in particular provided the team cheering sections with a workout. Pairs of Junior B Cubs, seated in the ends of a single canoe, paddled strenuously in opposite directions, each in the effort to reach its goal at one of the docks against the best paddling of the other. First the Maroons took control; then the Greys dragged the canoe slowly toward the little dock; but finally the Maroons dug in and inched relentlessly up to the big dock in spite of the valiant straining of J. Glidden and his mate. The Junior A Underwater Swim built up to another high point of suspense, as the last swimmer, Randy Evans, made the submerged turn at the little dock and torpedoed more than half way back to the big dock before surfacing, passing on his way what looked like unbeatable marks set by J. Willis and C. Compber. The inaccurately named Cove Swim (In actuality, the course for the two swimmers stretched from a boat less than midway across the cove in to the swimming area) produced a considerable upset when Ken Love stroked past Tim Hirsch and reached the beginners' rope a length in advance. Competition ended in the biggest splash of the day, the canoe tilting of the captains. Conducted with more energy than finesse, it officially ended when Clarke went overboard. Charlie, however, added an unofficial revenge by scuttling the two Greys, while his paddler, Bill Boothby, hastily departed in the Maroon canoe to remain the only undunked team leader of the afternoon.

Diversions from the point-winning races were provided by various counselors. During the intermission Tony Hirsch demonstrated the different forms of the racing breaststroke, and Bill Keating climaxed his summer's diving exhibits with a two-and-a-half from pike position. In the finale of the program, a team of Senior Counselors more or less swamped the Junior Counselors, three goals to none, in a boisterous game of water polo which featured the Seniors' doubledecker attack, Keating on Dave Angerer's shoulders.

The Summary:

JUNIOR B CUB DOG PADDLE RACE—First: G. Heindel (M); Second: B. Davis (G); Third: G. Brainard (M).

JUNIOR B OVER-AND-UNDER-CANOE RELAY—First: D. Gordon, C. Dawes (M); Second: T. Nolan, D. DelValle (G); Third: H. McLean, W. Matchneer (M).

SENIOR MEDLEY RELAY—Winner: Maroon Team (R. Shepard, R. Larcomb, K. Love)

JUNIOR B CUB CANOE TUG-OF-WAR—Winner: Maroon Team (P. Green, J. Wells)

JUNIOR A UNDERWATER SWIM—First: R. Evans (G); Second: C. Compber (M); Third: J. Willis (M).

JUNIOR A IN-AND-OUT CANOE RACE—First: R. Wells, R. Evans (G); Second: D. Savage, R. Vockel (G); Third: T. Cole, R. Rugen (M).

JUNIOR B BACKSTROKE AND BREASTSTROKE RELAY—First: R. Yantes, D. DelValle (G); Second: W. Doyle, D. Gordon (M); Third: W. Matchneer, J. Paul (M).

SENIOR COVE SWIM—Winner: K. Love (M).

CAPTAIN AND ASSISTANT CAPTAIN CANOE TILTING—Winner: Grey Team (D. Hoch, E. Kersten)

Old Friends Return for Season's Finale

The rallying of former campers and counselors constitutes one of the happiest bonuses brought by every season's end, and this year's contingent of returning tribesmen proved to be particularly distinguished. The Reverend and Mrs. Sidney E. Sweet, now of Altadena, California, came back to the shores of Webb Lake for three days in mid-August and much breeze was pleasantly fanned recalling the "good old days" back in the Twenties and Thirties when Mr. Sweet was Kawanhee's minister, tennis coach and Log-writer. A camper of the same fabulous era, John Langer, now the father of another active camper, spent the last ten days of the season at the Inn. With a similar parental interest, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cole, respectively one-time Kawanhee counselor and nurse, checked in for the same period. Concurrently Chuck Windle was visiting his parents, the Howell Windles, and his grandfather, Mr. H. C. Marshall, at their summer home up the lake. A family reunion was also enjoyed by Dean and Mrs. Miller during the closing days of the season when they welcomed both Ross, Jr., or Bud, with Maureen and their three children, and Dick with Joan and their small daughter, for visits. Bud and Dick are among the best remembered of Kawanhee campers and counselors, and Dick is another of the former Maroon captains returning so auspiciously in this very Maroon summer.

The final week end brought Bill Bittenbender, whose association with Campcraft at Kawanhee contributed largely to the present set-up and organization in the Scout Grove, and Pete Neidig, a camper and Master Camper of the Thirties, to join their sons in the celebration of another season's round-up. These gentlemen promptly paid a visit of inspection to the Outpost Camp on Swift River to ascertain that Bates still had the situation well in hand, and Bill subsequently earned no levels from the Sailing Department by putting a Sailfish through various brisk, if occasionally unorthodox, maneuvers on the lake. There was a double-take on another well known Kawanhee name, Jim Romey, when the former camper and present parent arrived to be with the current representative of the name for the season's finale. Two campers of more recent vintage, Dick Duvall and Quincy Rodgers, also rejoined the tribe for a few days. Numerous others who pleasantly recalled Kawanhee seasons ranging from its first decade to the summers just past made all too brief visits in passing. Among them the Wigwam was lucky enough to note Bob MacMillan, Dick Powell, Brewster Beach, Brian Birch, Jonathan Fish and John Glidden.

Chief Kawanhee Pays Farewell Visit

On Council Point Chief Kawanhee bade his ceremonial farewell to the campers of 1960 Tuesday evening, August 23rd. In the windy twilight, the lodges filed into the ring to stand in silence until the tinkle of ankle-bells heralded the appearance of Fred Johnson, in feathers and war paint and bearing aloft two burning brands, to pace out an Indian dance as he kindled the great central fire. In prompt response to the three traditional calls, Mr. Chace made his dignified entrance in the role of Chief Kawanhee. The Sachems gathered to read their message to next summer's campers and buried the scroll by the fire. In ringing tones, the Chief then spoke solemnly of all that Kawanhee boys and men bear away in their hearts and minds from the summer's work and play and, in token of this sharing of experience, commanded the lodge leaders to take flame from the central fire and light the circle of smaller fires. As these blazed up brightly, campers and counselors turned to face outward in a symbolic movement of departure and, joining hands, stood quietly to hear the Chief's blessing and the strains of Taps echoing through the darkening forests.

The Sachems' message read as follows:

"Straight words from campers of Kawanhee 1960 to Kawanhee campers 1961:"

"Have fun."

"The harder you work the more fun you will have. Make lots of friends. Cooperate with your counselors and the Directors. You will have more fun if you help other campers in their activities, and smile, and be good sports. Don't pick on other kids."

"If you are active in all the activities of camp and spread out your activities, you will learn a lot more. Work hard for levels, but don't work for levels only. Do your best to finish what you start."

"We, the campers of 1960, hope that you will have even more fun than we have had. We bury these words in our Council Ring, for Chief Kawanhee to guard, until you, the campers of 1961, read them at your opening council fire ten moons from now."

Signed—Sachems of 1960: George Brainard, David Schirmer, Ned Dominick, Dean Yantes, Randy Evans, Ronnie Larcomb, Robin Wells, John Willis, George Lamb, Ross Shepard.

Banquet and Awards Arouse Enthusiasm

The familiar bell rang out the most joyful summons of the summer at 1.00 P. M. Wednesday, August 24th, and all Kawanhee poured into the Dining Hall for the annual banquet. Evergreens and bunchberries transformed the log walls into a proper setting for the festive occasion. Even that long-suffering hatrack, the deer head over the mantle, looked as gay as Christmas in its crown of red berries, and small candy-filled birch-bark canoes were waiting at each place. For these favors and decorations Kawanhee was indebted to the deft hands and gracious thoughtfulness of Miss Baker, Mrs. Bateman, Mrs. Nowold and their volunteer assistants. The feast to which the camp therewith enthusiastically addressed its attention was in the same high holiday tradition, from fruit cocktail right through the turkey with all its appropriate trimmings including Bea's delicious dressing and Emma's better-than-ever hot rolls, to ice cream and banquet cake, each piece iced with its own "K". Most fittingly, when the last crumb had been appreciatively demolished, the ban on Dining Halls cheers was lifted and all those pleasantly filled feasters gave forth with a whole-hearted "Long Kawanhee" for the kitchen staff which, with Emma Briggs and Bea Golden in command, accomplished such a bang-up job of keeping Kawanhee well-fed and happy all summer.

At 3:00 P. M. the celebration was resumed when many parents and other guests joined the full complement of campers and counselors in the Recreation Hall for the closing ceremonies. The program moved briskly through the long lists of awards and citations. Kawanhee has always been generous with its applause, but never did it have more to applaud or express its approval and congratulations more vociferously. The first salvoes greeted the introduction of an honored guest, Kawanhee's own Chief Marshall, and the brief remarks of the highly popular captains, Dave Hoch and Charlie Clarke. From that point on the clapping was almost continuous for the announcement of plaques completed and won and of the names to be engraved on the cup plaques, for the presentation of ribbons and the citation of meritorious awards, and for the naming of the year's high point winners. Perhaps the loudest bursts saluted the name of Tom Patton for the Lattimer Cup, the Sailing honors of Roger Liddell and the revelation of Phil Green's phenomenal score, until at last the lid almost blew off the Rec Hall when Fergie found the final elusive number to pin to the banner and settle the season-long question of the Maroon-Grey winner.

Camp closed down in double time the next morning, August 25th. A 5:30 bell and a 36 degree temperature had everyone stepping too lively for any sentimental lingering. Breakfast was quickly dispatched, with time out only for a round of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and a resounding cheer for "Pop", as John Nowold made his last announcement. The big bus lumbered up the hill promptly at 7:00 A. M. to mark the end of the highly successful season of 1960. And by all concerned it has been rated as one of the most satisfying, in every respect, of all Kawanhee summers!

The Wigwam's Bread-and-Butter Note

The typewriter cannot be closed on the summer's final column without some slight expression of the Editor's appreciation to those who have made the composition of the 1960 Wigwam a pleasure and a most rewarding experience. For such success as it may have enjoyed, the Wigwam is deeply indebted to Dave Mallery for his ever efficient compiling of those endless but essential lists of Achievement Levels; to Jack Alexander for his effective coverage of the baseball leagues; to Bob Guthrie and Ed Kersten for the assignments which they fulfilled so acceptably; to Ed Chace, Mary Baker, Pete Schofield and Jon Hively for various valuable contributions in the form of necessary information and highly readable articles; to Carol Fergus and Mary Hamblin for their capable handling of the address lists; to all those, be they campers or Inn-mates, who from time to time cheerfully pitched in to make short work of such chores as distribution, folding and envelope-loading; and, last but not least, to you who have been the Wigwam's readers. In the end, a paper can be said to exist only in so far as it is read, and your comments have been so numerous and so generous as to indicate that this summer's Wigwams have at least justified the expenditures of ink and effort which produced them. Thank you.
