Camp Kawanhee, Weld, Maine

Final Score Discloses Maroon Victory

The Maroons emerged the victors of 1961 by a margin of 1002 points. The final score which Del Tracy, after the customary hocus-pocus, revealed at the Awards ceremony, was: Maroons, 27,431; Greys, 26,429. It was a well earned triumph for Captain Danny Beggs and all the Maroons, and a fitting climax to their almost uniformly successful season. The first to salute them were Captain Bill Boothby and the Greys who, no matter what may have been their hopes of a last minute upset, immediately let out with a rousing Long Kawanhee of congratulation powered by the same spirit of good sportsmanship which has characterized their conduct all summer long. No matter who won, the summer's Maroon-Grey contest was a good one, and winner and loser alike could take full pride in it.

Since the last previous report, announced on August 12, the score had doubled, and then some! In all, those final ten days of activities produced 29,530 points, 14,832 for the Maroons, and 14,698 for the Greys. In that period, of course, the big once-a-season blocks of points were counted. The Lifesaving classes contributed 3300 points, and the annual tournaments, including the Sailing Regatta, 1920 more. The bonuses on completed plaques amounted to 1150, while the Junior Maine Guide work was weighed in at 355, and the summer's Scouting work at 380. Substantial as these contributions were, however, they counted for comparatively little against the great bulk of points resulting directly from Achievement Levels. This has been the pattern of the whole summer. The total of the summer's extra-levels points, including 1551 produced by the water meets and other Maroon-Grey sports events, added up only to 8735, whereas the levels produced 45,125. Probably never before has the final score been so largely determined by the good, solid work on Achievement Levels put in by each and every camper.

Junior B Cubs Lead High Point Winners

Junior B Cubs dominated the 1961 High Point Winner picture. Energetic campers of Kawanhee's youngest division captured the four top spots on the list and accounted for six of the nine individual scores of 700 or better.

Top man on the totem pole was Andy Doyle, a Falcon and a Maroon, with 950 points. He completed twenty-two levels for 715 points and, since his levels included the necessary fifteen in the five departments required for the Junior B Cub plaque, he received the bonus of 200 points for completing his plaque in one season. He earned the remaining 35 by winning the Wrestling championship in his weight class.

Hot on his heels came three fellow Junior B Cubs, W. Acker, J. Cumberland and R. Davis, all with individual scores of 925. The sources of their points were identical: 715 points from twenty-two levels; the bonus of 200; and 10 points for competition in the Wrestling tournament. W. Haltermann, the fifth man on the H. P. W. list and the ranking Junior A with 800 points, derived 630 points from levels, 20 from competition in two tournaments, and 150 from his Junior Lifesaving work. He was followed by J. Glidden, the top Junior B, with 680 from levels, 10 for tournament competition, and 100 for completing his plaque in two seasons. The other top ten were, in order, W. Doyle, R. Estabrook, C. Bower and C. Bittenbender.

R. Estabrook's score of 770 deserves a word of comment. He completed more levels than any other camper this year, twenty-three for 750 points. Included in these were all three Sailing levels, whereas the four other Junior B Cubs who outscores him passed only one level apiece in this department. Only the fact that he failed to complete the third level in one of the five activities required for the Cub plaque prevented Estabrook from receiving the 200-point bonus and topping the list by a wide margin. Another interesting score was that of P. Green, who, in 1960, tied Kawanhee's all-time scoring record with 1250 points. This summer he did not arrive in camp until late July and, in his half season here, scored 625 points, exactly half of his last year's full-season total. How's that for being consistent!

Every camper who builds up an individual score of 400 points or more in one season ranks as a High Point Winner. There follows the 1961 list of fifty-two High Point Winners, arranged alphabetically within the age groups:

Awards in Scouting

Substantial work in Scouting was accomplished during the summer under the direction of Ken Reilly of the Campcraft Department. A Kawanhee Board of Review, consisting of Mr. Reilly, Mr. R. C. Frank, Forrest Dexter and Dave Fergus, awarded certificates of approval to nine campers on the successful completion of requirements for various badges. These certificates of approval are to be presented to the Scouts' home Boards of Review. Junior and Senior Lifesaving

One of the most substantial accomplishments of a Kawanee summer is the earning of a Lifesaving certificate from the American Red Cross. The 1961 course, conducted by Dave Fergus assisted by Fred Ross, Paul Saunders and Pete Kuhns, produced twenty-two Junior Lifesavers, and two Senior Lifesavers. For both J. L. S. and S. L. S., 150 points were awarded. Those completing the course were:

Junior Life Saving: F. Ball, B. Birch, J. Bowers, D. Brooks, L. Cory, R. Dorn, W. Doyle, J. Estabrook, T. Ferguson, D. Gordon, W. Haltermann, J. Hays, C. Hoffhine, K. Kaiser, T. Lamb, H. McLean, W. Lawrence Takes Camp Tennis Championship

Bill Lawrence won the 1961 Tennis championship of Camp Kawanhee, Saturday afternoon, August 19, by defeating Roy Welton, 6-4, 6-0. Bill is the first to earn a title comprehending the whole camp, and he captured it in the final match of a tournament which began more than a week earlier with twenty-two entries drawn from the Junior B, Junior A, and Senior classes.

In previous years, separate tournaments were played in each of the three age groups. This year's single tournament was the result of the reorganization of the Tennis work to bypass the distinction of age groups. At the beginning of the season all campers, from the youngest Junior B to the oldest Senior, were classed as Beginners, and then advanced, according to ability and improvement, through six graduated ranks: Junior Groundstroker, Junior Volleyer, Junior Server, Senior Groundstroker, Senior Volleyer, and Senior Server. It was the translation of these new rankings into conventional Achievement Levels which held up the reports on Tennis progress all summer and necessitates the inclusion of the whole season's crop in the final list of levels.

There follows a summary of the last three rounds of the tournament.

Quarterfinals: W. Lawrence (Jr. A) d. J. MacDonald (Jr. B) 6-3, 6-1; D. Roth (Sr.) d. T. Fischgrund (Jr. A) 4-6, 6-3, 6-2; R. Welton (Jr. A) d. W. Haltermann (Jr. A) 6-1, 6-1; T. Cookman (Jr. B) d. J. Hays (Jr. A) 6-0, 6-0.
 Semifinals: W. Lawrence d. D. Roth, 6-4, 6-3; R. Welton d. T. Cookman, 6-6, 7-6.
 Finals: W. Lawrence d. R. Welton, 6-4, 6-0.

Wrestling Finals Determine Champions

The 1961 Wrestling tournaments wound up in a series of championship matches Saturday afternoon, August 19. Several of the winners—R. Bell, C. McGee and B. Connor—were repeaters, having won in other weight classes last year. An encounter which attracted particular attention was a return match and a reversal. A year ago Phil Green and Bill Doyle met in the 75 lb. class and Doyle won the close decision. This year, as 95-pounders, Green took the decision in an overtime period.

There follows a summary of the 1961 championship matches:

55 lb. class: A. Doyle over Mark Yahn, 1-1, by takedown in Sudden Death period.
 65 lb. class: W. Acker over G. Heindel, 8-1.
 75 lb. class: P. McGee over R. Himmelright, by pin in 3rd period.
 85 lb. class: J. Fish over B. Leiper, 5-0.
 95 lb. class: P. Green over W. Doyle, 2-2, by takedown in Sudden Death period.
 105 lb. class: R. Bell over C. Dargusch, by pin in 1st period.
 115 lb. class: C. McGee over P. Connor, by pin in 1st period.
 125 lb. class: W. Neidig over T. Gallagher, 9-0.
 135 lb. class: L. Brainard over P. Gockenbach, by pin in 1st period.
 Unlimited class: B. Connor over R. Shepard, 2-2, by takedown in Sudden Death period.

All Stars Down Pennant-Winning Bears

On August 21 the Little League All Stars maintained tradition by defeating the first place Big Red Bears by a score of 4-2. The All Star team is made up of the best players from the other three Little League teams and is pitted against the League Champions who this year, as last, are Gene Cayten's Big Red Bears. The League Champions have always come out second best in the contest and this year's game proved to be no exception.

The fine pitching of the Blue Blades' Jamie MacDonald and the bat and fielding of Shortstop Bill Matchneer paced the Stars to their victory. With the Stars ahead 4-2 in the home half of the last inning, the Bears loaded the bases and it looked like trouble for the Stars. Charlie Matheson hit a pop up into left field which looked dangerous. Bill Matchneer, however, came from shortstop and snatched the ball out of the air to end the game. Pitcher Bill Haltermann had the only hit for the losers.

The All Star game ended the season in the Kawanhee Little League. Athletic Director Jack Welton extends his thanks to the coaches and players of both leagues, to all the umpires and referees, and to Herb Lorentzen, the official scorer for the summer, for all their co-operation, and hopes for an even better season next year!

Maroons Complete Sweep of Water Meets

The Maroons defeated the Greys, 132 to 71, in the summer's final water meet, staged before a large gallery of parents and other guests gathered on the camp beach the hot, hazy afternoon of Sunday, August 20. The victory not only provided the Maroons with an additional 25 points in the form of the customary winners' bonus, but also completed for them a clean sweep of the summer's water sports.

The Maroons commanded the lead unchallenged from the traditional opener, the Cross Country Relay, to the program's standard finale, the water polo game, in which on this occasion the Greys never managed to mount an organized defensive, let alone any offensive, against the merciless attack of Shepard, Compher, Brainard, Savage, et al. The Greys made their most determined bids in two boating events, the summer's first spasm of canoe bobbing and the rowboat singles which Tad Brockie won with several lengths to spare, and in the bitterly contested Junior B Cub Tug of War, the afternoon's most loudly cheered event.

Exhibitions of lifesaving, water-skiing, and driving provided an enthusiastically applauded interlude midway in the competitive program. Members of the recently graduated J. L. S. class demonstrated approaches and carries with efficiency and dispatch. With Instructor Fred Ross at the controls of the speed boat two skiers, Dan Beggs and Ted Dunlap, displayed smooth technique by crossing and re-crossing each other's courses in the boat's wake, and then Bill Lawrence, Larry Brainard, and Tip Weisheimer skied expertly in formation. As a climax, visiting diving star Bill Keating exhibited his well-remembered skill and grace from the high board in such spectacular dives as a two-and-a-half somersault.

The Summary:

Closing Days Bring Welcome Visitors

A pleasant old-home-week atmosphere prevailed about Kawanhee during the closing days of the season as a number of distinguished alumni returned for visits ranging in duration from a few hours to a week. Notably in evidence were several visitors with a two-generation interest, former campers and counselors recalling their own camp years while cheering their sons through the final activities of this summer. Among them were Pete Neidig, Norman Ruhle and Frank Henry. Dick Barnes represented the two-generation theme from every possible angle for, with one son Dave, in camp, he and Mrs. Barnes checked in at the Inn with sons Bob, a camper of several recent seasons, and Jim, the youngest, a prospective camper of the near future. Bill Bittenbender, once more a Buckeye, arrived with Mrs. Bittenbender from their new home in Cleveland to watch sons Dave and Chuck, and nephew Dick, round up various sailing honors and awards, and to remind old-timers of the good old days when Bill was head of Campcraft and one of the builders of the Scout cabin.

Numerous returning tribesmen of more recent vintage also happily put in appearances. Among the former campers whom the Wigwam was lucky enough to note in the heavy visitor traffic were John Cookman, Ed Spelyng, George Lamb, Dick Morton and Larry Andre. Three counselors well remembered from the past few years were, all too briefly, among those present as well. Jay Sanders, long-time member of the Sailing Department, spent a day in camp. Bill Keating, Kawanhee's particular diving star through many a season, stopped by for a few days between water skiing meets in which he has been participating since the completion of his summer course in Anatomy at Ohio State. Said course, incidentally, was in pursuance of a Physical Education major, not Pre-Med, as erroneously reported on these pages a few weeks ago. Sturges Dorrance, after one summer in Europe and another devoted to work in radio and television at N. Y. U., reappeared long enough on August 23 to revisit the scenes of his numerous Kawanhee activities, among them the Wigwam "office" where his excellent and well tested assistance would have been promptly enlisted had it been possible to make him sit still that long.

Season Winds up in Banquet and Awards

The closing days of the season were too crowded with incident and activity to be reported here except by the briefest of reference to the highlights. Work on Achievement Levels continued through Tuesday afternoon, August 22. The same day saw the triumphant conclusion of the Sailing Regatta which, through various vicissitudes of weather and fortune, had been in progress for days. Dave Bittenbender emerged as the champion of the camp, with B. Newman, D. Roth and T. Pears placing as second, third and fourth respectively. That evening brought the finale of the Kawanhee theatrical season, a production starring the Eagle Lodge Drill Team. Tucky Bower was the highly efficient commander at one end of the line, and Tim Dargusch setting some kind of a record for sticking out his chest the farthest at each command of "Attention", was the caboose at the other end. An antic group of counselors took over the conclusion of the bill to present that time-tested pantomime,

The Lighthouse Keeper's Daughter, with Ben Bennett more than filling the title role, and a far-out bit of whimsey, purportedly the death of George Washington, which drew heavily on Ed Chace's power of rhetoric and Pete Schofield's sense of humor.

While Del Tracy, the scorekeeper, went mad in privacy, the remainder of the camp devoted Wednesday's daylight hours to packing trunks, closing up departments and storing away the boats. In the twilight after supper, Chief Kawanhee paid his ceremonial visit of farewell to the Council Ring on the point. Mr. Chace conducted the ritual with his accustomed commanding seniority and at the end, as hands were joined around the ring and Taps sounded in the distance, the scene of the dark forest, the circle of fires, and the Chief standing with his arms raised was one which every member of the summer's camp will carry with him through the winter.

The eagerly anticipated annual banquet drew all the campers and counselors, dressed in their better than Sunday best, to the Dining Hall at 1:00 P.M. Thursday, August 24. The walls were bright with maroon and grey ribbons, with pine and bunchberry, and the tables gay with place cards and centerpieces, thanks to Miss Baker, Mrs. Bateman and many skillful helpers. It was noted that the big affair was one of the quieter meals of the season, for everyone was too busy doing justice to the turkey and stuffing, the ice cream and the special Kawanhee cake, to have much breath left for mere noise. That was all concentrated in one tremendous cheer at the end for Emma and Bea, Kawanhee's highly esteemed cooks, and all of their staff.

The afternoon provided the climax of the season, the great Awards Ceremony in the Recreation Hall which produced all the long-awaited news of scores and High Point Winners, of ribbons and awards, which fill the earlier columns of these pages. When the last resounding cheer for the Maroon victory had echoed away, there remained only supper, an early taps, an even earlier first bell Friday morning, August 25, and a tumultuous departure, and then the big season of 1961 took its place in the camp annals as one of Kawanhee's most memorable.

A Suggestion to Remember

Along with full stomachs and satisfied appetites, everyone carried away from the banquet a timely suggestion of Mr. Chace's. Since Emma is to have an eye operation this fall, a card, addressed to Mrs. Emma Briggs, 66 Heald Street, Madison, Maine, in late October or early November would provide a welcome opportunity for expressing many arrears of gratitude and affection and might well bring her a gleam of encouragement in dark days by reminding her of how completely she has the best wishes of all her Kawanhee friends.

The Wigwam Expresses Its Gratitude

As it reaches its final paragraph for the year, the Wigwam wishes, too late, that it had been susceptible to the summer's epidemic of departmental "patches" in order that it might now be in a position to confer some gay conceits of felt, possibly emblazoned with a rampant typewriter on a field of printers' ink, for the adornment of various staunch pairs of shoulders which have borne the weight of publication through the past eight weeks. Most gratefully would we present such honorary emblems to the following: John Sheehan who in faithful anonymity transcribed each week's list of Achievement Levels and other awards; Ed Hamblin, the able Assistant Editor, and Mary Hamblin whose ever obliging typewriter transformed the most jumbled page of script into the neatest copy ever to surprise our printers; Clay Stites who covered all the League games so capably; those amiable counselors, Ed Chace, Pete Schofield, Ted Nelson and Del Tracy, who responded with courteous generosity to many a plea for a trip story or some other article; and all those ladies and gentlemen, both members of the camp post office staff and denizens of the Inn, who cheerfully made short work of the weekly chores of folding, mailing and distribution. Patchless as we are, however, expressions of appreciation must be merely verbal and take the form of this inadequate, but most sincere, "Thanks for everything" from the Wigwam and its Editor,

C. SCARLETT
