Maroons Hold Their Lead

The Maroons held their lead of the past week by the slim margin of 81 points, to put them on top for the second week. The Maroons seem to be having trouble on the land and in the water in competitive meets, but they are showing that they are very alert when it comes to earning level points.

The total score, which Del Tracy delivered with unparalleled succinctness at the campfire of Saturday, July 23, read Maroons 1728; Greys 1647. During the preceding seven days Rich Davis and his Maroons had earned 1125 points while Roy's Boys, the Greys, brought in only 1087 points. While well justified in giving a lusty yell of satisfaction over their victory, the Maroons, know that this small lead is not a comfortable one.

This small difference in the score shows that the Maroons did not have everything their own way during the week, as the Greys put in many good licks. The sports events had favored the Greys decidedly. They won the watermeet of the previous Sunday 57 to 49 and the track meet of Saturday, July 23, 165 to 141.

The Maroons led in only two of the departments reporting, but they really "out-shot" the Greys in the Archery Department by scoring 435 points to the Greys 195. The other departments reporting were Nature — Maroons 200, Greys 150; Sailing — Maroons 15, Greys 30; Wrestling — 85 to 85; Shop — Maroons 30, Greys 165; Boating — Maroons 95, Greys 90; Campcraft — Maroons 80, Greys 95. The total score after three weeks of camp is Maroons 1728, Greys 1647.

Greys Score A Land Victory

After suffering two defeats in the water, the Maroons fought a determined battle in the first track meet of the 1966 season, Saturday, July 23, to see if their skill on the land would be more effective. However, the results were the same — a loss by just a small margin.

The Greys scored ten first places to the Maroons nine, but the Greys countered heavily on seconds and thirds to ice the contest.

Hank Hiser, (G) was the high-point winner of the meet, with three first places, scoring 18 points. Scott Tracy, (G), and Brad Coley, (M), were runner-ups with two firsts and one second, to tally 16 points each.

One blonde, Junior C broad jumper was disqualified for being over age. Del Tracy thought that 24 years of age was a little too old to be competing with eight and nine year olds, so Dave Hoch, Director of the Water Skiing Department, was told to go play in the water, and that he did, he took the non-participants of the meet water skiing.

The summary of the meet is as follows:

BASERUNNING:

Junior Cub: First: Brad Coley, (M), 14.4; Second: Fred Abels, (G), 14.5; Third: Stony Hinds, (M), 15.3; Fourth: Carlos Zapata, (M), 15.5; Fifth: Jaime Capacete, (G), 16.4; Sixth: Mark Chapman, (G), 16.8.

Mt. Tumbledown — Via Parker's Ridge

The Deer and Birch Lodges caught the mountain-climbing fever that hit Kawanhee this season. For the adventure they chose to climb Mt. Tumbledown, via the Parker's Ridge Trail. When the campers reached the summit, they were all eager to devour their delicious box lunches prepared by Herb Lorentzen, their leader. After lunch, the boys just browsed around taking in the beautiful view. An early descent was made in order to reach camp in time for supper. Those making the trip were Chip Button, Bill Eacho, Kurt Feick, Ted Gill, Duncan Hill, Bill McElwain, David Morse, Rocky Smith, David Sweeney, and John Tobin of the Deer Lodge and David Allan, Jimbo Barnes, Paul Bennett, Rich Caraboolad, Richard Fisher, Ian Hanigan, Jim Knox, George Oliva, Scott Paterson and Barney White of the Birch Lodge. Bruce Leiper assisted on the climb.

Watch The Sea Planer

Just ask David Lancione, he can tell you all about it. David, an avid fisherman, was the first to take advantage of Mr. R. C. Frank's announcement that a blanket fishing license had been purchased for the camp. The fish were not biting too well this particular evening, but Dave did enjoy watching a sea plane circle and land. He, being the friendly type, waved to the pilot — little did he know that it was the Game Warden coming to check his fishing license. Dave just informed the Warden that he was covered under the camp's license and a friendship was immediately formed. Before the plane left, Dave and the Warden were great friends and Dave had been informed of the best places in the lake to fish.

Flash! A New Water Skier

Kawanhee has added another new skier to its long list. He has been a camper for many seasons, but just couldn't tear himself away from the Archery Department long enough to learn to ski. Now that he has mastered the skill, do you think that he will play "hookey" once in awhile to go skiing? Redick, practicing the Kawanhee motto "Always finish what you start" tested the temperature of the water in several parts of the lake before deciding that he liked topside better.

A New Arrival At Kawanhee

Rev. G. Stanley McCleave arrived this past week to serve his second, half-season as the Camp Chaplain. He is on vacation from his post as Minister of the Central Methodist Church, Bridgeton, New Jersey. His task will be more demanding this year, as his son, Stanley, is a camper in the Eagle Lodge and will be watching his every move with pride. Everyone at Kawanhee has a department, so we shall assign Rev. McCleave to the Department of the Soul, to make him feel at home.

Tennis Department Becomes Coeducational

Sunday, July 24th, the Tennis Department followed the trend of breaking away from some of Kawanhee's traditions, by holding the annual Kincoatha Tennis Match here in Weld for the first time. This change was based on the premise that just as we have enjoyed going to Kineo in the past years, our feminine counterparts might like to pay a visit to the young gentlemen at Kawanhee. However, we haven't lost sight of our own interests entirely, for we have planned another match later this season in Wilton.

In Sunday's matches, Frank Watson, seeded No. 1 on the Kawanhee tennis ladder, teamed up with Marie Bertban and defeated the No. 2 seed, Bob Zechiel and Joanne Jordan by score of 6-1.

The second mixed doubles team was composed of Jim Proctor and Kate Debrevoise teamed against Steve Grubbs and Donna Ross of Kineo. Steve's fine net play proved to be the deciding factor in this match in which Steve and Donna were victors.

The final match of the afternoon was a closely fought contest; however, the team of Mike Crane and Caroline Katz overpowered their opponents, Barney White and Eve Ashenbrenner, 7-5.

At the close of the matches, the players retired to the campcraft cabin for a "quiet" hamburger dinner. After dinner, Frank took most of the girls on a guided tour of the camp, after which the girls boarded their bus for the short ride back to Wilton. All things considered, the afternoon was a great success for both the players and the spectators.

Tracy Triggers Tracer Triumph

Scott Tracy smashed two homeruns and knocked in five as he led his Tracers to a 7-1 shocker over Jim Davis's Daggers. The Davis's were a little off this night and committed 14 errors. Davis himself, however, was a gem defensively. Jim Proctor, prize portside flinger, for the Tracers got the win, while Marty Foss took the loss for the Daggers (Foss has since been shipped to New Canaan of the —?— league).

The Tracers scored 7 times in the bottom of the first, two in the second, another 7 in the third, and one in the fourth. In each case Dagger contributions were gratefully received by the Tracers, who managed to scratch out 13 hits and four walks to accompany the 14 errors. Seven of the starting nine scored twice with Bob Vockel, Roy (as in boy) Miller, and Lew Basilicata scoring thrice. The Davis's, on the other hand, couldn't buy a break. The first four men, in the order combined, got one hit. All together there were four safeties. The lone bright spot in the outing was the season's first double play, Davis to Bob Lancione.

After the game, Davis could only wait until the following Thursday when his squad would be at full strength.

Daggers Spear Zulus

A revamped Davis ten, took on a high-touted Zulu Tribe in the second Babe Ruth game of the year. The Daggers never gave the Zulus a chance. Hot corner, leather lifter, Frank Watson, led the charge with a homerun and three runs batted in and the other Davis, Rich, who singled, walked twice and tallied for a tandem.

The Davis's scored four times in the first frame and thrice in the second. In the next three innings, the Daggers could only scrape up one hit. Watson's blow came in the first with the Davis brothers on base. Gordon Gray later scored on Bob Lancione's single. Zulu pitcher, John Bacon, had trouble finding the range and gave up four walks in the first inning. In the second, Rich Davis singled in Tom Steenland and Bruce Leiper. The Zulus scored once in the third. Ron Pavesi crossed home on a single by Randy Schwartz. They scored again in the fifth on a triple by shortstop Mike Meserole and a single by Bacon.

Buzzards Grab First

The first title tussle of the year took place Monday, July 18, with the surprising Black Buzzards shading the Local 57 Red Riots 2-1. Buzzard flipper, Dave Sweeney, picked up the win, while Mike Standen took the loss for the Riots. Both pitchers wielded hot ash at the plate, as Sweeney tripled a run home and Standen homered. Riot red Jon White and Nick Gill continued to pound opposition pitching — while singling twice while Gill tripled.

After three scoreless innings in which each pitcher whiffed six batters, the visiting Buzzards broke the ice and jumped to a 1-0 lead on rookie Charlie Jackson's dribbler to first, scoring Barney White from third. Anxious to reverse the trend, Local 57 third baseman, Jon White singled. Gallant gateway, Nick Gill, followed with a triple to right. Meanwhile as White raced for home, rookie Buzzard backstop, Brad Coley, took the relay from second and nailed White at the plate in a very close play. With two out and two strikes on the next batter, Leif Erickson, Gill tried to swipe home and failed. Coley again made the tag.

Sweeney tripled in Coley to lead off the Black fifth, but the rally stalled as Standen summoned that something extra to retire the side. In the Red half, Sweeney followed suit and struck out the side. Standen, out for his second win, went out and retired the Buzzards in the top of the sixth via strike outs. The Black had to face the top of the Riot order in the bottom of the sixth and final frame. Sweeney got lead-off man, Al Drewes out on strikes and Pete Haines to ground out. Down 2-0 Standen came to bat and poled Sweeney's fourth pitch into the rightfield bleachers. White followed and singled but the rally died as Gill grounded sharply to first.

Buzzards Shot Down

On Friday, July 22, the league-leading, high-flying, and undefeated, Black Buzzards took on the second place Blue Lights and in a runaway-upset, the Lights ripped the Buzzards to shreds 12-2. The win moved the Lights into a tie for first with the Blacks. Craig Wolcott, artful light lefty, became the league's first 2-game winner in turning in his 4-hit, 10 strike out lovely. Black twirler, Barney White, suffered his loss of the season evening his state to 1-1. The Lights, minus two starters due to trips, counted on walks to win the game for them and got them — 14 by number.

The Blue wasted no time in starting things off. Eight men reached base and four scored, 2 on walks and two on short stop, Flip Drake's, single — the Lights lone safety of the outing. The Buzzards could only salvage one run in the top half of the second. Barney White's single scored Paul Bennett. The Lights added two more in the second on one walk and three errors. Keith and Craig Wolcott tallied. In the top of the third, Wolcott put down the side in order.

In the second half of the third, the bespeckled Blues scored six more times on seven free passes and five miscues. Both Wolcotts, Tom Scott, Mark Sengelman, Jim Knox and Jack Abbott tallied. Reliever Bob Marx was called on to retire the side. The Buzzards staged a last ditch effort in the top half of the fourth frame to pull the game out. Barney White led off with his second single of the night. Marx knocked him in with a single and advanced to second on a bad relay. Victory within his grasp, Wolcott, grabbed it by retiring the bottom of the order.

Riots Romp

The Local 57 Red Riots led off the third week of KLL by climbing back into first place and knotting up the league lead with the Black Buzzards and the Blue Lights. The Riots ripped into the Jolly Green Giants 9-1. The outing marked perhaps the biggest one team batting barrage Chief Kawanhee has seen in many moons. The Riots collected 11 safeties with Mike Standen hitting a homerun and Dan Blum knocking two triples. Red backstop, Leif Erickson, and first baseman, Pete Haines, got doubles for the local cause. Riot righty, Jon White, scratched two singles and left fielder, Gordon Glidden, singled once. White, in his first start of the season, scattered three hits and gave up only two walks. Scott Leiper took the loss for the Giants, striking out eight and issuing no free passes.

The Jolly Greens jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Rich Caraboolad reached base on an error and scored on Leiper's single to right. They enjoyed the lead for about 15 minutes. Standen led off with a walk, stole second and reached third on the throw. White followed by dumping a single in left, stealing second and third and scoring on the overthrow. The Giants failed to score in the second. In the Riot half, Haines and Erickson hit their doubles and both scored.

After White put the Jollies down in order in the third, Local scored again on a single by Standen and the first of Blum's triples. The Giants again were set aside in the fourth and again Red feasted on Green pitching. Erickson and Glidden led off the frame with singles and then Standen rocked Leiper's 2-0 pitch into the left field seats. White followed with a single and Blum unloaded his second triple of the night. White, retired the top of the Jolly Giant order in the fifth to end the game.

Kawanhee Invades Monhegan Island

Early Monday morning, 21 campers and three counselors left Kawanhee for a three-day trip to Monhegan Island under the leadership of Clarence (Bates) Bateman. We first went to Boothbay Harbor where we met the "Balmy Days" for the 1½ hour trip out to the island. This island is located about 12 miles off the coast of Maine and has a long and exciting history as a typical, and yet a typical fishing village. During the summer months, many of the houses on the island are inhabited by artists and photographers.

We arrived on the island shortly before noon with only a few boys feeling the effects of sea-sickness. We all proceeded at once to the Trailing Yew, one of the island's most charming guest houses, where we were to enjoy many fine meals during our stay on the island. They had prepared box lunches for us which we took out to the southwestern tip of the island where we explored the wreck of the D. T. Sheridan, a tugboat that ran ashore during a heavy fog in November of 1948.

After lunch we went up to our campsite in the shadow of the island's famous lighthouse to set up our tents and get ready for our three-day stay. Many boys started buying fishing gear and lobster-pot buoys for souvenirs and before long we all had little replicas of these famous buoys hanging around our necks. Some avid sportsmen couldn't wait for the deep-sea fishing trip to test their luck and began pulling pollock and other small fish from the waters off the island's wharf.

On Tuesday, Capt. Sherm Stanley took us out in his boat for some deep-sea fishing. We didn't have very good luck with only a 15-pound Cod being the biggest catch, but all agreed that it was a lot of fun and very interesting. One boy even managed to catch a small, sand shark.

After another box lunch up at our campsite, we all hiked across to the northeastern side of the island to view the famous 150-foot cliffs. What a sight it was to see the surf pounding against the rocks so far below! Undoubtedly the most interesting part of the trip came later that day when we all went across to the neighboring island of Manana to visit the hermit, Ray Phillips. He is a hermit in the true sense of the word and has lived alone with his sheep on this island for thirty-five years. The sheep live in the same buildings as the hermit and they come and go by the same door; their wool also provides what little income he needs to exist. His income from his life story in a weekly magazine a couple of years ago, helps out considerably. This is truly a remarkable human being to find in 20th Century America.

We had rain Tuesday night and we were all anxious for our hot chocolate the next morning. We spent the morning with Mr. John Cabot at his famous home and many boys walked along the waterfront looking for shells and other island curios.

Shortly before noon, the "Balmy Days" arrived with the second group of Kawanhee Campers. We exchanged greetings and "fish" stories and then prepared for our return trip to camp.

Pop Nowold met us in Boothbay Harbor and helped transport a weary, but very happy group of boys back to Kawanhee. The boys making the trip were David Allan, Doug Allan, Bruce Bennett, Rex Coons, Jim Estabrook, Rich Estabrook, Steve Fink, Gordon Gray, Ian Hanigan, Hank Hiser, Seth Kallman, Scott Leiper, Ken Koerner, Chuck Somerville, John Strausbaugh, Frank Watson, Frank Weeks, Andy Williams, Bill Williams, Tim Williams, Mike Wolfe, and Randy Ziegler. They were supervised by Bates, Bruce McInnes, Scott Wilson, Rich Davis, Herb Lorentzen and John Fulda.

Kawanhee Hits Monhegan Again

The second Monhegan Trip was blessed with great weather and calm seas from the start, making our long boat ride from Boothbay on the "Balmy Days" quite enjoyable.

On Thursday morning the group was divided into two groups of twelve for deep-sea fishing. Preston Crabill pulled in our largest catch of the week, a 38 pound cod. David Clough was the most prolific fisherman with a total catch of fifteen.

After our traditional visit to the "hermit", who was well supplied with tobacco and nuts, the whole Monhegan excursion was climaxed with the arrival of the Victory Chimes, the only three-masted schooner left on the New England coast. The Captain gave each boy a print of the ship before they left for Boothbay. The trip was a great success and the boys returned well fed, sun tanned and full of stories to relay to their friends and lodgemates.

Week End Program

The weather settled into so co-operative a mood for the weekend as to allow the accustomed course of events for Saturday and Sunday at Kawanhee.

Saturday afternoon the first track meet of the 1966 season was held and a most welcomed free swim followed. The temperature was more conducive to a swim than a "run".

However, the Saturday evening heat did not hinder the customary Jr.-Sr. Counselors softball game. It did make for a few unusual pitches and plays, but it was all in fun. The Juniors finally scored a victory after three tries. Rich Davis doubled to bring Meserole to third, and Duffey sacrificed to bring in Mes to break the tie in favor of the Junior Counselors 4-3.

The traditional Saturday night campfire was held on Council Point to conclude the evening. The heat of the evening did not warrant a fire, but the fire makes the ceremony more impressive, so we just overlooked the elements and enjoyed the occasion with pride as we heard the boys' achievements read before the council fire.

Dave Roth led the campers in singing the Ohio State fight song. Such off-key singing you have never heard. As Del Tracy said, "If you want to know why Ohio State has such a fighting ball club, it is because people from Cornell ruin our beautiful song." So in return for Dave's generosity in singing to the Ohioans, Del sang a special rendition of Cornell's song to Dave. From a spectator, both boys should leave the songs to their respective schools, as they added nothing to their beauty.

Dave Hoch told the campers a short story to conclude the evening.

The Sunday morning service was held under the sky in the "Chapel" on the shore, with a magnificent backdrop of mountains and blue waters facing the congregation. Mr. Stan McCleave conducted the worship service using Genesis 2:47 and Matthew as his scripture and "Who Am I?" as his topic. He asked "Have you ever asked yourself this question? Many people believe that we are on this earth by accident, but many of us believe that we are here because God wanted us here. We believe in a "Divine Purpose" and we would answer this question by saying 'I am God's son'. If we are to be children of God, then we must live as children of God. He gave us all a personality entirely different from anyone else and he intends for us to develop this in many good ways. You must work at being a better person."

Sunday evening the camp gathered in the Rec. Hall for a Vesper assembly. Bruce McInnes, Director of Music, led the campers in several songs, allowing the campers to furnish the verses. The "Association Song" was the rendition. Mitch Greenwald, using Milton Berle's way of getting jokes, introduced the first verse (one he "stole" from his five-year old daughter, Gail). Dave Hoch, Chip Button, Tom Ruhle, Frank Erickson and "RC" furnished other originals. Dave Hoch tried to introduce "Dynamics" in an old ballad, but the boys must have thought he said "dynamite", as their emphasis was a little on the loud side. However, an informal evening of song puts everyone in a happy frame of mind. A Movie of the Maine Islands concluded the evening, and called a halt to a very busy week at Kawanhee.

Editor's Note

There are many poems and songs about campers, but I would like to share with you the following little "ditty" I ran across recently. I am sure that one or more of the statements will apply to most of us.

"If a camper lives with criticism, he learns to condemn.
If a camper lives with hostility, he learns to fight.
If a camper lives with jealousy, he learns to feel guilty.
If a camper lives with tolerance, he learns to be patient.
If a camper lives with encouragement, he learns to be confident.
If a camper lives with praise, he learns to be appreciative.
If a camper lives with acceptance, he learns to love.
If a camper lives with approval, he learns to like himself.
If a camper lives with recognition, he learns it is good to have a goal.
If a camper lives with honesty, he learns what truth is.
If a camper lives with fairness, he learns justice.
If a camper lives with security, he learns to have faith in himself and those about him.
If a camper lives with friendliness, he learns the world is a nice place in which to live."
