Maroons Stage A Comeback

As predicted, the score soared to a new high during the week. Both teams were busy in every department but Tom Ruhle and his Maroons ascended the week's activities as top team on the totem pole of points. So once again Tom donned his victory beret and led his team in a victory cheer that shook the very roots of the stately pines on Council Point.

Tim McKee, a little dejected, challenged his team with the fact that to regain their lead and remain on top they must not idle their motors, but keep it in high gear throughout the season. The Greys, in the old Kawanhee spirit, gave their rivals a victory cheer for their accomplishment, but with the reservation that next week they, the Greys, would be the recipient of the victory cheer.

The Greys were not too idle during the week as they got in their "licks" in a few of the departments. They outscored their rivals in athletics, wrestling and boating, while the Maroons tallied first in sailing, tennis, shop, nature, campcraft and archery. The Maroons took the second water meet with a score of 89 to 42 to add "insult to injury" to make the final score for the week Maroons 4669; Greys 4371.

Chaplain Arrives

Kawanhee is very fortunate to have the Rev. Stanley McCleave return for the last half of the camp season to serve as the Chaplain. Stan, affectionately called by all, lends an able assist in the Campcraft Department during the week. He is never too busy to lend a helping hand to any lad that wants to learn about campcraft or the Lord's word. You will also find Stan climbing Mt. Tumbledown with a group of campers or preparing to scale Mt. Katahdin.

Rev. McCleave is the minister of the Methodist Church in Bridgeton, New Jersey. His son, Lee, is a camper in the Pole Cat Lodge.

Kawanhee Invades Monhegan Island

Bright and early Monday morning, July 22, after an early breakfast, with a hearty "hi-ho Bates!", the first Monhegan trip boarded the "bouncing buggy" for Boothbay Harbor. At 10:00 A.M., Captain Wade's Balmy Days took on its cargo of campers and counselors, and two hours later the group invaded Monhegan Island. This Island is located some 18 miles out in the Atlantic Ocean.

After a box lunch on the wrecked tugboat, "John Sherman", camp was set up, "fishers" went fishing and hikers went hiking. The meals throughout the three-day trip were superb and were served at the "Trailing Yew" restaurant on the Island. The meals included such delicacies as lamb, cod, and roast beef.

The second day was serious fishing day. Captain Sherman Stanley took three trips out to "Cod Ledge" and everyone caught at least one big cod. Several small "dogfish", a two-foot shark species, were also caught. A 30-foot, blue whale was sighted during the fishing expedition.

Tuesday after dinner, Tim Keny, Jim Keny, Keith Erf, Jeb Zirato and Mark Saylor, accompanied by Dave Bittenbender and Les Newton, hiked three miles around half of the Island. Monhegan has some of the most beautiful hiking trails and its high, rocky shoreline gives breathtaking views of the ocean. Needless to say, they all slept well that night.

The third day, we visited Ray Phillips, the Hermit of Monhegan Island. Mr. Phillips, a jovial, wrinkly-eyed man who loves people, gave us a tour of his cabins and stables. Some of the campers tried to pet the sheep but four legs proved to be better than two on the island slopes.

Wednesday noon, the second Monhegan trip arrived on the Balmy Days and the first trip left after lunch, following a boat ride around the island. On the return trip two lazy sharks were almost run over before they awakened; no one seemed to be interested in landing them. After dinner at the harbor restaurant, we bounced back to camp for hot showers and the chance to tell about the "one that got away". If anyone wants to know the details about the missing fish, ask any of the following boys: Jack Abbott, David Allan, Rex Coons, Preston Crabill, Jack Doege, Keith Erf, Tim Keny, Jim Keny, Hollis Macomber, Lloyd McDonald, Scott McMinn, John Nolan, Todd Tremble, Mark Saylor, Chris Schaefer, Mark Schiewetz, Jet Tremble, Gerard Wheeler, Tim Williams, Bill Williams, and Jeb Zirato. The Counselors on this trip were Mr. Bateman, John Osborne, Les Newton, Doug Means, and Dave Bittenbender.

Second Invasion Of Monhegan Island By Kawanheceans

The second Monhegan trip began at 7:30 A.M. Tuesday evening, July 24, with the enormous job of loading the truck for the following day's journey. By 6:30 A.M. Wednesday morning, breakfast was finished and a caravan that included two cars, one truck (the bouncing buggy) and a total of thirty-three people, was under way for Boothbay Harbor. At 10:00 A.M. we were all aboard, enjoying a sunny sail over a calm sea. The air became progressively more hazy and remained overcast Wednesday afternoon. The boys picked up a box lunch at the "Trailing Yew" and ate near the old shipwreck before hiking to the hill-top campground. By late afternoon the crew was settled and many boys had purchased drop lines at a water-front store for dock fishing.

It rained nearly the entire night Wednesday. Consequently, we found ourselves groping through a "pea-soup" fog toward the "Trailing Yew" for a hearty breakfast of bacon and eggs. Being foggy, the cod fishing was postponed until later Thursday; therefore, we visited the hermit, Ray Phillips, on Manana Island during the late morning hours.

Thursday afternoon we cast off from the wharf for deep sea fishing. In all three fishing excursions, everyone caught at least one fish, usually a cod, with Bill Wambaugh catching the largest, a 37 pounder. After a day of fishing and running up and down the hill between camp and town, all the boys were ready for a long, dry sleep.

Friday morning dawned cool and clear. The Maine coast seemed one mile rather than 16 miles toward the west. The main event of the last morning was a long hike around the island in which all campers and counselors participated. Following the walk, we ate a box lunch, similar to the first, and began packing for home. At 2:45 P.M. after an excursion around the island, the Balmy Days was heading for Boothbay Harbor. All hands, including counselors, were tired but very happy. The boys present on the second trip were: Doug Allan, Russell Barnes, Lee Bost, Mark Chapman, Bob Escher, Eric Etherington, Andy Farley, John Gill, Nick Gill, Gordon Glidden, Rafael Gonzalez, Pete Haines, Alex Hadden, Tom Heer, Kyle Kauffman, Will Larsen, Kurt Larsen, Bill Prescott, Blas Reyes, Raub Smith, Greg Sweney, Bill Wambaugh, John Wambaugh, Jorge Suarez and Paul Hargin. The counselors for this trip were: Mr. Bateman, Gary Gray, Gordon Gray and Tom Ruhle.

Raiders Rip Blacks, Increase League Lead

The Kawanhee Little League leading Red Raiders took the field to begin the circuit's fourth week, against the second rung Black Death. The Reds increased their league lead to two games, defeating the Death, 7-4. Raider righty, John Gill, threw the victorious outing for his second win of the season against one loss. On the way to windom, the Polecat pitcher fanned 14, walked six and allowed just two Black safeties. Chris Altmaier took the defeat, his first, yielding six hits and issuing nine free passes. Pete Haines worked in relief.

The "Hitless No-Wonders", as the Blacks have been dubbed as of late, continued to plague themselves at the plate, scratching Gill for only two hits, both in innings other than the second when the Death scored all their runs. Craig Miller and Pete Haines collected the singles. In the second the Blacks tallied four times on five walks, three passed balls and two errors. The Reds, however, demonstrated their reasons for monopolizing the sole rights to the KLL crown, by banging out six hits, all with men on base. Hot corner man, Gordon Glidden and shortstop, Duke Karr, led the attack with two hits apiece. Gill and Alex Hadden rounded out the shots while Karr led the way on runs-batted-in with four.

Blues Shade Death, Escape Cellar

Bradley Glick and Jumbo Jet Tremble led the cellar-dwelling Moody Blues into daylight and slammed the door on the slipping Black Death as the Blues topped the Blacks in eight innings, 4-3. Glick logged the win, bringing his summer slate to 1-2 and whiffing ten, while walking five and giving up a meager two hits in the process. Black Death workhorse, Chris Altmaier, suffered his second defeat in four days as the righthander had his record evened to 2-2. Pete Haines who was scheduled to pitch the game was on Monhegan.

In the offensive department, Tremble hiked his league-leading batting average to .533 by cracking three hits, including a double, one RBI and two, lead-off safeties. Jay Stephan rapped Altmaier for a single and a double and knocked in two runs including the game winner in the top of the eighth frame, bringing in winner, Glick. Third baseman, Tim Keny, also played very well for the Moodies both at the plate and in the field.

The failing Death scored twice in the third on a ripping single to right center by Altmaier who was thrown stretching for two bases. They came back to tie in the fourth on a Craig Miller single to knot the contest at 3-all, but the Blues prevailed in the eighth and kicked the Blacks down the stairs.

JRS Humiliate Pajama-Clad Seniors, Then Bow To Big Boys

Angered by the apparent one-sided reporting of a great metropolitan newspaper, the Junior Counselor softball club, inc. rose to majestic heights to deal the lordly Senior Counselor Ten their most devastating and humiliating defeat in recent memory. Attired in bedclothes the Big Boys hoped to punish the Juniors and firmly implant on them the slack in which their play left the Seniors the superior squad. But the Juniors pulled the rug out from under the Biggies, leading from the beginning and beating down the weekly late-inning, Senior surge. The young guns won the bitterly contested contest 8-6. Down 8-3, the game Seniors forged within the traditions of Chief Kawanhee, battled back to within two tallies of the lead on Herculean blows off the tempered clubs of True Blue O. C. Rick, The Wizard of Oz, Lester Newton and company only to be denied tying privileges on a conversation-clogged call at the hot corner on Gentleman Jim Duffey. The rally died and the Juniors came back with a home run by Scott Tracy to cinch the game for the Little Boys.

Twenty-two hours later, a determined and united upstending unit of young softball sluggers slipped into their regular Senior Counselor ball "unics" and took to the Jimbo Barnes Memorial Athletic Field to take on the Junior upstarts, led by sonic sockers blinding Bob Zechiel and "Great Scott" Tracy. The seniors redeemed their horrendous play of the night before, though not completely, and came from behind once again to thwart the Little Lads 12-8.

After taking lengthy batting practice to correct a gapping deficiency at the plate, the Seniors quickly jumped to a 5-0 lead only to lean back and blow it, allowing the Junior to charge ahead 8-5. But the eighth frame saw the Seniors flick the slack and slip ahead on blistering blasts of Tricky Dick Morton, Plaster of Paris McBurney, Jim Duffey, Meserole and Jack Pray. But it was the big peg from deep right center off the hose of Mike Altmaier cutting down Andy Williams at the dish that won it for the Junior Counselor-respecting Seniors and sent the series into next weekend.

Maroon-Grey Water Competition

Kawanhee's second water meet of the season was a huge success. The weather was ideal and the participants were swimming as if they were propelled by jet propulsion.

However, the Junior C tub race ran out of jet fuel as Mark Chapman and his tub began to sink with every paddle. Lyman Smith had the same difficulty when he took over on the return trip and he, too, sank numerous times enroute. However, Scott Allan and Andy Jeffrey used such great power as they paddled across that their tubs skimmed the top and reached the winner's line first.

Tom Thomas, Steve MacDonald, Wally Whitmyre, and Will Larsen swam good laps in the 800 ft. senior relay but got caught in the backwash of winners Andy Williams, Chikk Myers, Tom Heer and Tom Ruhle of the Maroons.

Blas Reyes, a Maroon, set a new record by placing first in the 200 ft. backstroke for the Junior B's. He was pushed somewhat by Dave Bury, a fellow Maroon, as he placed second.

The Life Saving Class displayed their newly-learned talents in the life saving relay. Each camper used the various life saving methods. Tom Benua, John McDonald and Bill Williams were the pretended victims in the relay, but they were not too sure at times whether they were going to be real victims or not as they were submerged at intervals during the rescue. Jon Kauffman, Jim and Tim Keny were a little more fortunate as they skimmed through the water as they were being rescued by their fellow teammates. Hugh Wilder, the swimming director, felt it safer to have the victims and the rescuers be on the same team as one never knows when a Maroon might try to sink a Grey, or vice-versa. All rescuers proved to be well informed on their rescue procedures.

Frank Hoster, with both jets wide open, tallied first in the Junior A 300 ft. breaststroke with Hank Hiser close on his heels to tally second.

The Junior C relay team, the youngest boys in camp, really gave the fans a thrill as they swam with proficiency the 100 feet between the docks. Tom SiFontes broke his own record by tallying first with a time of 30.2.

Jim Estabrook, a Grey, deserves honorable mention as he swam the first lap of the 400 ft. medley relay for the Jr. A's. He gave his teammates a considerable advantage as he swam a record-breaking lap in the backstroke. His team set a new record for the 400 with a time of 1:44.6, giving the Maroons another first.

Alan Hamwi broke his own record of the past week in the 400 ft. I.M. for the Junior B's with a time of 1:59.5.

A diving exhibition by several campers gave all age levels a chance to prove their skills. Kyle Kauffman did a forward pike and a front dive in the layout position; Randy Judkins, a front layout and a forward in the pike position; Brad Glick an inward dive, pike position and a front layout; Chikk Myers, a back flip, tuck position; Gerard Wheeler, an inward back dive and a front layout; Roger Sweet, a forward dive, layout position; and Milton Zapata a front flip, free position and a forward dive in the pike position.

A water polo game among Seniors concluded the program. The Maroons won this event with a score of 1-0. The final score of the meet was 89 Maroons; Greys 42.

Saturday Evening Campfire

Once again our Saturday evening campfire was held on Council Point, surrounded by stately pines towering high with their magnificent beauty. The well-groomed campfire, prepared by Gerard Wheeler and John Willis, soared high when lighted, to add to the significance of the program.

Les Newton, our music director, once again pitted lodges in a song fest. He had new selections he wanted to introduce to the campers, but all lodges begged to sing "Old MacDonald Had A Farm."

The Deer and Hawk Lodges, the first to perform, insisted on being a little different and they sang "I've Got Sixpence". Tom Taylor, Mike Meserole, Dave Bury and Dave Allan added greatly with fortissimo. Mike was dressed for the occasion, as he still had on his baseball uniform. The uniform of the day was a red night shirt over a pair of striped pajama bottoms. This attire was chosen by the Senior Counselors for the ball game with the Junior Counselors and was to have added humility to the Juniors in their defeat, but the tide was turned and the Seniors went down to defeat at the hands of the Juniors. As Mike stated "This is humility in person."

The Moose, Beaver and Birch added a new touch to "Old MacDonald" by adding a turkey to the lyrics. I must say the Moose made very impressive turkeys, had I been a turkey, that is. Tim Williams and Russell Barnes had very impressive "gobbles". Gary Gray and Rich Estabrook and their Birchers made great pigs and "oinked" with perfection throughout the selection. Tim McKee and John Osborne and their Beavers portrayed the cow in the selection and for "beavers" Mark Sengelmann, Bill Prescott and Ken Chapman really came forth with loud "moos". Blas Reyes added a Spanish touch with his "moo".

Bob Zechiel, the Leonard Bernstein of Kawanhee, led the Bears and Wildcats in singing "She'll Be Coming Around

The Mountain." Zeke is excellent in Archery, but I think he has missed his calling and should change to that of a conductor, as the campers followed his direction and sang with finesse.

The Crows and Badgers concluded the musical with their rendition of "I've Been Working On The Railroad". Preston Crabill, Mark Standen and Tom Heer of the Crows were really stretching the vocal cords, trying to out sing (I think that is what they were trying to do) Tom Thomas, Bill Williams, and Andy Kauffman of the Badgers.

After the musical, the levels and achievements were read and the boys stood with pride before the blazing campfire to be honored for their accomplishments of the past week. TAPS concluded the program and the evening.

Sunday At Kawanhee

The beautiful weather of the past three weeks gave way to a summer shower Sunday and our worship service was forced indoors. Rev. Stanley McCleave used as his topic "Fear", pointing out that everyone is afraid at sometime or other, but even though we are afraid we should realize that God is always with us. Dick Morton read the scripture and the Kawanhee Chorus furnished the spiritual music.

Sunday afternoon found the campers hiking into Weld for "goodies" to tide them through the week. Showers had ceased and the sun came forth in all its glory once again.

Kawanhee's campers, counselors, staff and visitors enjoyed a particularly interesting Vesper Service Sunday evening. The program began with a lively chorus of the old camp standard, "The Happy Wanderer", which seemed appropriate considering the two Monhegan trips that went out last week.

Following the group singing, the Kawanhee chorus again excelled with its rendition of "Good News". The light-hearted mood soon changed as we listened to the guiding words of the Rev. Stanley McCleave, who delivered his first Vesper Service of the 1968 camp season.

The finale of the program was a wonderful presentation of fur and game animals by Warden Vernon Moulton of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Game. Warden Moulton, a citizen of nearby Weld, told about his work and some exciting experiences in the "North Woods". Judging from the number of questions and the crowd of campers surrounding Mr. Moulton following the program, everyone found the talk and the prepared skins of Maine animals fascinating and enlightening.

This program ended the fourth week at Kawanhee on the shores of Lake Webb.
