CAMP KAWANHEE

Rich Estabrook Wins — Overcomes Eight-Year Jinx

Rich Estabrook was determined to break his eight-year losing streak and led his Greys to victory for the 1969 season. Rich and the Greys clouded up (with the weather) and rained all over the Maroons by some 6000 points in the last two weeks of camp.

The Greys started their move early in the camp season and there was no stopping them as their momentum increased week by week as they marched merrily on their way to victory after victory throughout the camp season. Their motto "ONWARD AND UPWARD" added to the Kawanhee Motto "FINISH WHAT YOU START AS YOU HAVE FUN WITH A PURPOSE" spelled "doom" for the Maroons and "victory" for the Greys.

The Maroons seemed to have placed more names on the high point winners list, but the Greys held the top position with Greg Sweney tallying 980 points for the top spot. All the Greys tallied several hundred points each which aided in the victory; whereas, the Maroons had several campers who added very little "point wise" to their team's score.

But as Rick Whimyre said, when addressing the audience before the ceremony began, "We are all winners at Kawanhee, win or lose when the score is read." He thanked each of his teammates and assured them that their efforts at camp this summer were not in vain, even if they came out short on the score.

Del Tracy, head scribesman, added to the suspense of the event by slipping in and out of the window during the ceremony and added several numbers to the score, leaving the last number for the last event — some two and one half hours into the program. When the last number was read and the Greys were victorious, Rich Estabrook was led to the lake for the victory "dunkin". However, Rich didn't need much help as he was so elated that he jumped from the high dive into the beautiful waters of Lake Webb. He added a few extra drops of water to the lake as he was bubbling over with joy and happiness over the summer's events and his team's victory.

Thus the 1969 camp-wide competition of points came to a close for the 49th season with the Greys tallying 27,825 points to the Maroons 21,805.

Summer Stock At Kawanhee

All day long on the 18th of August, there was an atmosphere of curiosity throughout the camp as it had been announced in the dining hall by the premier playwright, producer and director of sensational stage productions in Kawanhee Hall, Rick Whitmyre.

Curtain time came and the Hall was buzzing with excitement. What was the production to be about this year? Why had the members of the camp been barred from a preview? Even Del Tracy was denied a slight peek at a rest-hour rehearsal.

The curtain parted (a great effort was needed to open the luxurious, satin curtain). The opening scene depicted Chief Kawanhee, Mike Meserole, returning to Kawanhee uttering the complaint "I'm here at the beginning and the end of the camp; what happens here while I am away?" He is conducted on a typically routine week of events at Kawanhee by G. R. (Jack Pray.)

The play was interspersed by several parodies applicable to Kawanhee. The shop, a trip on Bate's "Bouncing Buggy" that never returned and a song about (always popular) the dining hall were featured.

The production was very cleverly done and the reactions of the audience underscore the talent and effort involved.

The program reads as follows:

Campers Complete Presidential Circuit

The date: Thursday, August 14, the Place: Pinkham Notch Base Camp; the occasion: the ascent of the Northern Presidential.

We were a working trip leader detail out of Special Trips Division. At 11:23 A.M., under the cover of clouds, we left our accomplice, Clarence Bateman, and proceeded up the Tuckerman Ravine Trail. Upon arriving at the scene in Tuckerman Ravine, the clouds had made a clean getaway. After a brief lunch-break, everyone continued up the Headwall. Arriving at the snow arch, created by the melted snow running under the lower snow field, the hikers paused for pictures and a snowball fight. While some stayed to enjoy the snow and the view from the headwall, Reverend McCleave led the rest of the group to the Lakes-of-the-Clouds Hut. Upon our arrival at the hut, we made our beds and signed the register, while others flirted with the girls and climbed near-by Mt. Monroe. At 6:30 P.M. the hikers were served a delicious three-course meal and then retired.

Friday, August 15, the clouds had returned to the scene and had engulfed the Presidential Range. After downing a two-course breakfast, interrupted by blanket-folding French climbers — hutboys showing us the A.M.C. method of blanket folding, we picked up our trail lunches and headed for the summit of Washington, the highest mountain of the Presidentials. After spending an hour at the Tip-Top House on Washington, we descended via the Gulf-side trail to the Clay Loop. From there we proceeded across the peaks of Clay and into Sphinx Col for our lunch. We then rejoined the Gulfside Trail for the hike over Jefferson and into Edmund's Col. After filling our canteens at the spring and resting at the shelter, we climbed to Thunderstorm junction. From there we ascended Adams and I proceeded down to the Madison Spring Huts along the Star Lake Trail. Once at the hut, we enjoyed dinner and climbed Mt. Madison before retiring for our much-needed rest.

Saturday, August 16, a small group of boys climbed John Quincy Adams before descending via the Air Line Trail. We continued down the Air Line Trail until we reached the Chemin Des Dames. Descending rapidly, we reached the floor of King Ravine and stopped to explore some caves. We then hurried down the Short Line to Appalachia and met Chuck Hoffhine and the big truck. In all, the trip lasted three days and covered the following peaks: Mt. Washington (6288'), Mt. Adams (5798'), Mt. Jefferson (5715'), Mt. Clay (5532'), Mt. John Quincy Adams (5470'), Mt. Monroe (5385'), and Mt. Madison (5363').

Receiving awards for the trip are: Ted Waller, the Miller Twinkle Toes Award; Jeff Seilhamer, the Adhesive Tape Award; Jimbo Barnes, the Don Juan Award; Tom Ruhle, the Chuck Hoffhine Shutterbug Award; Doug Means, the A.M.C. Blanket Folding Award; and Stan McCleave, the Old Man of the Mountain Award. Those on the trip not receiving special awards were: Wally Whitmyre, Walker Putnam, Todd Tremble, John Morr, Chris Schaefer, Blas Reyes and Pablo Murphy.

DOUG MEANS, A.M.C.
TOM RUHLE, A.M.C.

Labels Come Alive; 'Machine Stalls: Aunts Show Up Chips In Pennant Showdown As Season Closes

August 11, 1969. Late-blooming John Wambaugh and pitcher Rich Germain led the cellar-dwelling Black Labels past the third place Green Machine today by a 6-1 score. Taking care of offensive and defensive business, Germain and Wambaugh doubled and singled at the plate, while Rich blew past The Greens on three hits. The victory was the first for The Blacks who exhibited the long dormant power that many had been expecting for some time. Gordon Glidden took the loss for the sputtering Machines.

August 13, 1969. In the season's big one at Button Field, the league-leading Red Aunts found themselves up against the wall and threatened for all the marbles by the surging Blue Chips. Red hurler John Gill held the challengers to three runs while his teammates exploded in the third inning for four runs and coasted to a 6-3 decision. Limiting The Chips fearsome threesome of John Duncan, Doug Addison and Greg Sweeney to one run each, Gill was in control all the way, backed up by superb defense all the way. In fact, the most spectacular play of the evening was made by the occupying Red Aunt forces as the underdog's darling, Hollis Macomber, cut down Blue Chip base runner Jeff Morgan at the plate to end the game and a desperate, late-inning Chip bid.

August 15, 1969. With an outside shot at third place, the red-hot Black Labels took on the high-flying Red Aunts tonight with hopes of forcing The Green Machine into a play-off. But The Labels were to be denied as The Aunts, tuning up for the All-Star game, collected seven runs in the first two innings, with Honest Hollis Macomber rapping out a pair of doubles, and ran away with the clinching game that officially gave them the pennant. Tom West collected his second triumph of the season against one defeat, humbling The Blacks to three safeties and the short end of a 9-4 score.

August 18, 1969. Going into the season's final league tilt, The Blue Chips, knowing that their chances for first were gone, and The Green Machine, aware that they had just escaped possible exile into the K.L.L. cellar, locked horns in a lackluster finale. The Chips ended the campaign one game in back of the champion Reds by a 9-2 margin. Joe Leiper upped his unblemished record to 3-0 as he held The Greens to three hits and two runs, while John Duncan and Doug Addison forged four hits in support of the youngster. Falcon Lodger, Brooks Nolan took the loss for The Machine in his first season start.

Aunts Upset Star-Studded Cast In Ten Inning Nail Biter

August 20, 1969. In a drawn-out ballgame that saw large amounts of walks and strike outs, the League Champion Red Aunts knocked off the All Stars of the rest of the league in a tremendous upset that saw K.L.L. Most Valuable Player John Gill go the entire route while The Stars went through their entire inventory to no avail. The Aunts jumped out to a quick 2-0 lead; The Stars cut it to one then tied it up after six. Then the All Stars seized the initiative and pulled ahead in the eighth as Greg Sweney slid under a close play at the plate. The Red's Tom West counted in the bottom frame taking advantage of a timely Blue error to knot the game again. Then Ready Freddy Abels waited until the bottom of the tenth to run across the plate on another Chip miscue and take the victory for The Aunts.

Highrisers Clobber 2nd Team All-Stars In Babe Ruth Finale

August 20, 1969. In a rare morning contest at Chip Button Memorial Field, the high and rising Highrisers of Charles "Chuck" "Henry" "Hank" Hiser encountered the All Stars of the KBRC and beat them to a bloody pulp. Unrelenting from the start, The Hisers were unmerciful in the first five innings, scoring a total of seventeen runs to the Stars one. Leading The Risers to the unprecedented 18-6 thrashing was The Rick Whitmyre, who while overpowering The All-stars from the mound, went three for five at the dish with two doubles and a homer. Wally Whitmyre, Peter Haines and Jed Zirato also kept the opposition busy, splitting eight hits. Scott Leiper, Mark Standen and Bill Procter tried to get the All Stars on the ball by linking up in the sixth and seventh innings for five runs; but The Hiser had too many runs and too much class to be bothered.

Banquet — Awards Ceremony — Campfire Closes The 49th Season

All too soon, enjoyable things which we experience must come to an end. At Kawanhee this is also true. The old dining hall, decked with holly and bunchberries, came alive for the 49th banquet of the Kawanhee history, Friday, August 22nd. The day was full of excitement — waiting for the banquet, the awards ceremony, the final score and the going of the Chief. The aroma coming from the dining hall was tantalizing to all and the hour of the "bell" seemed to never come. However, as all things do, the hour arrived, the bell sounded and the campers assembled, dressed in their whites to partake of a gourmet's delight. The chef, Leonard Taylor, and the pastry cook, Flora Burgess, had really out-done themselves and treated the campers to a menu of: turkey, dressing, giblet gravy, string beans, cranberry sauce, olives, celery, mashed potatoes, "scrumptious" hot rolls, butter, apple pie and ice cream. It was no surprise when the chant "we want the cooks" sounded during the meal. However, today, the campers gave Leonard and Flora a standing ovation to show their appreciation.

The court of awards followed the banquet. Here the entire camp assembles to receive recognition for honors received throughout the camp season. Plaques are awarded, ribbons awarded, and meritorious awards are given to those campers who have shown outstanding ability in every activity. As Del Tracy, the Director of Activities, stated, ribbons are important but the plaques the campers receive for his own personal achievements throughout the season are more important. "Everyone can't be a champion, but everyone can achieve by just trying and earning levels here at Kawanhee." The plaque is earned by receiving levels in three different activities. The reading of the score and the "dunking of the winning captain, Rich Estabrook of the Greys, concluded the ceremony.

After a postponement from a windy Thursday, Friday gave many indications that the wind once again might cancel the GOING OF THE CHIEF. But as evening drew near, the wind subsided and the campers, counselors and many guests gathered once again to view, for the 49th time, an event that has come to mean so much to us at Kawanhee.

After Chief Kawanhee (Ed Chace) had been summoned by Herb Birch, the Chief was asked to bestow blessings on the Braves of 1969 and bade them a safe journey home and hoped that they had used his home as a place to live and learn of the many wonders of his happy hunting grounds (Camp Kawanhee). He hoped that they had learned to live together as brothers, learning things that would be valuable in the days ahead. The Chief, bedecked in full Indian regalia, took from the blazing fire a torch and inscribed a "K" on each boy's heart to emphasize loyalty to Kawanhee and one's self. He asked each camper to place a burning candle in a North window, facing Kawanhee this Christmas Eve, to bring together in spirit the brothers of the camp.

The ceremony was one of the most impressive of many such ceremonies. The Central Fire was lighted by a flaming arrow which had been released from high atop one of the sky-reaching pines. The fire and its ignition was engineered by Tom Ruhle, Senior Counselor in the Campcraft Department.

As the fire blazed skyward among the stately pines, taps sounded in the background to bring to a close the 49th season at Kawanhee, a good place for a boy to live, work and play.

Acknowledgements

The campers have gone, the counselors have gone, the boats are in dry dock for the winter, the lodges are closed for the winter, and all the excitement has gone from Camp Kawanhee. Everything is put to bed but THE WIGWAM, and it is about to go to the press. Before closing all communications from Camp Kawanhee, THE WIGWAM would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who have helped make the paper a success. We hope that the parents have been informed satisfactorily concerning their sons' accomplishments and achievements during the season, as we know those letters home are rather short on information.

I would like to thank Chuck Hoffhine, Fred Ball, Steve Ruhle, Doug Means, Tom Ruhle, Tom Taylor, Rev. McCleave, Kay Taylor, Katy Estabrook and John Wetherbee for their informative articles for the paper. A special "Crossed golden bat" to my most able assistant Mike Meserole for keeping us up to date on all the baseball activity in the camp, and a pair of "Gold Glasses" to Del Tracy for proofreading the entire season's production.

Most of all I would like to thank the campers for making the camp exciting and successful this season and a special vote of thanks and appreciation to you, the parents, for sending Kawanhee the greatest group of campers yet. Kawanhee now says "Bon voyage" until next June.
