Williams Grey is the Color

The weather around Kawanhee this past week was sunny and brisk but Tim Williams and his Greys didn't let that hinder them as they pushed onward and upward tallying points to place them No. 1 when Del Tracy, head scribesman, read the first score of the 1971 season at Saturday night's campfire.

Bill Proctor and Tim's nerves were a little frayed during the prolonged reading of the score — Bill Proctor, the Maroon Captain, was trying desperately to be calm, but Grey Captain Tim Williams' squirming was topped only by his remark "I have to go to the bathroom". Since it appeared to be an emergency, Del immediately read the score for the week which was 1761 for the Greys and 1264 for the Maroons; however, the news of a Grey victory seemed to relieve Tim's emergency.

The Maroon Captain reminded his teammates that 497 points were a mere drop in the bucket compared to the many points yet to be earned during the remainder of the season. He reminded his boys that the levels are there to be earned and levels bring in points, so dig in and work, work, work for points while you learn new skills. The cheer the Maroons gave their rivals displayed determination — determination to change the color brighter when the next score is read.

Tim and his Grey bunch made the rafters of the old Rec Hall shake, rattle, and roll with their victory cheer. The fortissimo of their cheer indicated that the Greys like the succulent taste of victory and they are not about to give it up.

For those of you who are not familiar with the point systems at Kawanhee, they are as follows: First level — 15 points; second level — 35 points; third level — 50 points. However, in tennis the first level is 35 points; second level — 50 points; third level — 65 points and the fourth level — 100 points.

Kawanhee has a New Song

Kawanhee is proudly sporting a new fight song. Mr. Gene Ottaviano, father of Ron Ottaviano of the Deer Lodge, a professional song writer, presented Camp Kawanhee with its first fight song. Now we can join the ranks of colleges with an alma mater and a fight song.

"Roar Wild Cat Roar", our Alma Mater, will not be forgotten as we add "Oh! Give Me Camp Kawanhee". The song was presented at Saturday night's campfire and was received with a standing ovation. Mr. Ottaviano graciously presented the camp with recordings and sheet music which made it easy to teach to the campers. Needless to say, it was the highlight of the Saturday night program. We send our thanks to you, Mr. Ottaviano. Your song will live forever in the hearts of Kawanhee braves.

Greys First on the Water

Spirit was high Saturday afternoon during the first Camp Kawanhee aqualympics of 1971. Competition was tight but the Greys, led by Captain Tim Williams, were the victors by a slim, scoring margin, 86-79. The Greys received an extra 100 point bonus for their victory. Bill Proctor got his Maroons an early lead as they won the first two events outright, but the Greys steadily fought back to achieve the final victory.

The Junior Cubs entertained the crowds with their antics in the innertube relay. John "Jet Stream" Tulloss and Sam Detrick splashed and kicked their innertubes across the 100 feet with precision, to leave Scott Daugherty and Chip Trayner in their backwash. Chip had a little difficulty staying in a sitting position on the tube so he said the "heck" with it and he dived through it and swam his stretch with the innertube around him.

In the Dog Paddle, Free Style relay, Jeff Luce stretched out in the Dog Paddle and Willie Rigsby turned both jets loose and propelled across the docks leaving Mike Darmanin and Rees Tullos running a close neck and neck battle. Francis Dono, Scott Montgomery, and Tim Bolon hung in there to finish their laps with the old Kawanhee determination.

In the Junior B events (for 10 and 11 year olds) the team of Hollis Macomber, Fred Bullwinkel and Tom SiFontes finished just a bit before Stuart Brengman, Squire Galbreath and Mike Haynes to add additional points to the Greys.

The next three events were sprints in free style, backstroke, crawl and elementary backstroke. Jeff Sengelmann and Herman Tice swam neck and neck in the free style sprint with Sengelmann tallying a split second before Tice, with Danny Thomas and John Mansfield closing the gap. Jeff doubled his victory in the backstroke crawl as he finished just ahead of Herman Tice again. Don Mykrantz and Squire Galbreath gave them a run for their money to tally third and fourth respectively. The elementary backstroke sprint was won by scrappy Will Ireland, followed closely by John Vail, Chris Stallman and Manuel J. Vinas.

A four-man relay of Breaststroke, Backstroke Crawl, Sidestroke and Freestyle in the Junior A events was won by the Grey team of Luis Vinas, Tom Tipton, Tad Mitchell, and Bill McCandless. The Maroon Team was neck and neck with them until the final wire. They were represented by John Bolton, Pete Mykrantz, Raub Smith and Eric Durell.

A change of pace race; the fins, mask, snorkel relay ended in an even draw as both teams crossed the finish simultaneously. Entrants were: Eric Durell, Roger Sweet, John Ireland and Frank Finetto.

A good race was seen in the Junior A free style sprint. Bill McCandless won it for the Greys and Roger Sweet finished second followed closely behind by Tim Harrison and Manuel J. Vinas.

The Seniors had fun in the innertube relay. Mark Sengelmann and John McDonald won over Rich Hemry and Ken Chapman of the Maroons. Ken had trouble half-way through his lap and he fell out of the innertube, but he finished with a smile.

A good match was seen in the Senior, 4-man relay of breaststroke, sidestroke, backstroke crawl and free style. The Maroon Team of Jeff Colon-Bennett, Pablo Baez, Craig Miller and John Rullan won the event over Manuel Vinas, Mark Sengelmann, Pete Wetherbee and Juan Soto.

The final event of the day included participants from all age groups. The Junior Cubs dog paddled their lap, then a Junior B showed his skill in elementary backstroke; Junior As breaststroked their way between the docks and the Seniors finished with free style. The Maroons won the combination event to no avail; the Greys had already clinched the meet. Winners in the event were: Willie Rigsby, Don Mykrantz, John Bolton, and John Rullan. John Detrick, Fred Bullwinkel, Luis Vinas, and Pete Wetherbee made a good showing for the losing Greys.

Between events, demonstrations were given in diving and kayaking. Ken Chapman showed his kayaking skill by performing complex maneuvers as the Eskimo Roll, tipping himself over in the kayak and righting himself again without leaving the boat.

John McDonald and Mike VanOst entertained with precision diving from both the high and low boards.

All in all, it was a very good afternoon. Judges for the afternoon were: Andy Williams and Fritz Monroe. Jeff Monroe was official starter, Mark Hoskett official scorer and Rich Davis announced the meet. The Swimming Department is looking forward to the next Grey-Maroon meet to be as well matched and exciting as this one.

Kawanheesans Invade Monhegan Island

Two contingents of Kawanheesans invaded Monhegan Island this past week. The first group left at dawn Monday, July 12 and the second group left at dawn Wednesday, July 14th. The ninety-mile journey to the coast was made via "yellow" Greyhound driven by Peter Dragoon of Dixfield, Maine.

When we arrived at Boothbay Harbor, we were greeted by Del and Jane Tracy and Ann Havener who were going to spend their day-off on the Island. Also in the company was Mrs. Schiewetz, a guest at the Kawanhee Inn and mother of Mark "Wildcat" Schiewetz.

The hour and three-quarter boat ride on the Balmy Days (Barfy Days) across the eighteen-mile stretch of "choppy" Atlantic waters was interesting and exciting, to say the least (especially for some more than others). Upon our arrival at the Island, we unloaded and quickly proceeded to the Trailing Yew to pick up our lunch and head for the oft-mentioned shipwreck. Here the boys ate their lunch, inspected the shipwreck and watched the surf smash against the rocks, all of which was under the close supervision of Bruce Birch, Tom Ruhle and Tim McKee. During this period, however, Hollis Macomber found it more practical to gather barnacles for fishing bait.

Next, we secured the campsite and the boys squared away their tents and gear for the three-day campaign. Upon completion, we saw the initial Kawanhee wave return to the mainland as well as the "brass" in the Day-Off Party. The boys then had free time to fish off the wharf, hike around the island or just relax back at the campsite until dinner. After dinner, there was much of the same as well as souvenir buying and "red-dog" was the game of the evening back at the campsite. Finally, the boys turned in for the night and as taps sounded at the top of the island to close an almost perfect day.

Thursday morning activity began early at 6:15 A.M. After breakfast, the first fishing trip embarked from the wharf. The first fishing trip proved to be an eventful one with Thorp Minister saying "I wonder when we are going to catch some fish" and then he proceeded to haul in a fifty-four pound cod with the assistance of Tom Ruhle supporting the rod. This was not only the first fish but the largest of those caught on either trip and possibly setting a Kawanhee record.

Meanwhile Bruce Birch held a biology seminar on the Wharf-Starfish 101 and Tim McKee guided hikers on the numerous trails covering the Island Extensive Exploration 202. The fishing trip returned with many fish stories like the "big one that got away!"

Then it was time for lunch which was "injected" on the shore by the wharf while The Balmy Days came into port on its daily excursion. Following lunch, the second fishing trip left for open waters and an afternoon of fishing fun. All in all, there were almost two barrels of fish caught by the entire second task force ranging from cod to mackerel and even a few dogfish, which are in the shark family. Si Dunkel, Chris Cooper, John Bolton, John Jenkins, Mark Sengelmänn, and Rich Morr all caught fish weighing over 24 pounds.

That evening, after dinner, a few of us were informed in a local store of a possible visit by Senator Edward Kennedy. No sooner had the words been spoken and there in the water by the wharf was the "Nomad" a sixty-three foot, double-masted sailing vessel with Teddy at the helm. He was spending the night at James Wyeth's house. James is the son of Andrew Wyeth the famous artist. Joann and the kids were also in the party and it was quite a spectacle. Another famous person on the island at the time of our visit was Zero Mostel, well-known Broadway and T.V. personality. Ann Havener was brave enough to ask for his autograph.

The next day Senator Kennedy took a few of his island

friends for a brief cruise and then sailed toward the horizon. Some were disappointed and some rather elated at his departure. When his arrival was first reported at the campsite, it was met with considerable disbelief but only a look at the vessel was sufficient to convince anyone. The evening concluded with another game of "red-dog" and "beat your buddy". As the sun set over the Island and taps sounded, it drew to a close a day full of great experiences.

Friday morning brought another early rising and after breakfast, the group headed for Mahana Island where Ray Phillips, alias "The Hermit", lives with only the Coast Guard Station, a few visitors and his sheep for company. After presenting Ray with some small gifts and talking with him for a while, the boys inspected his split-level home (seven levels) and routed twenty-four sheep out onto the hillside. The unusual visit terminated, we returned to Monhegan for lunch and to welcome the Balmy Days once again. We packed up the campsite (hopefully leaving it cleaner than when we had found it) and loaded the Balmy Days for our return trip. Since we were running on a tight schedule we were not able to take the trip around the island for a farewell.

The boat ride to the Mainland was extremely entertaining. First, we had Scott McMinn in the stern flying his second Monhegan kite, approximately six-hundred feet in the air after losing his first one to the waves shortly after leaving the island. When we reached the harbor, there were passing boats with heads turned at the sighting of this flying albatross hovering over their heads (a black kite with two yellow eyes). He began pulling in the six hundred feet of string but the kite was almost lost a few times when we would change direction in the harbor. However, a great cheer went up from the Balmy Days when it was safely aboard after a fantastic flight from Monhegan Island to Boothbay Harbor.

The second portion of entertainment was offered by John Cunningham, the impersonator. He had not only enthralled the people on the island with his repertoire but his captive audience on the Balmy Days was greatly impressed with his great talent. After renditions of The Munchlens from the Wizard of Oz, Howard Cosel at ringside and Louis Armstrong with "Hello Dolly", he received deferring applause.

We had a reception committee waiting for us at the docks comprised of the Davises and the Williams on their day-off. We unloaded our equipment and said goodbye to Charlie Wade, the captain of the Balmy Days, and thanked him for a pleasant ride.

We ate dinner at Boothbay Harbor and boarded the bus for the final leg of our journey. We made one "pit-stop" for ice cream cones on our trip to Kawanhee which is Bates' way of adding a nice touch to an excellent trip. We arrived in camp at dusk with a Kawanhee cheer for the bus driver and Bates. The bus was unloaded and the boys headed for their cabins, a little tired perhaps but with a great experience behind them and a memory that will remain with them for the remainder of their lives.

The boys making the trip were: John Anderson, Ted Anderson, Bruce Benua, John Bell, John Bolton, Fred Bullwinkel, Chris Cooper, John Cunningham, Rich Darmanin, John Duncan, Bill Dudley, Si Dunkel, Eric Durell, Eric Etherington, Angel Franco, Scott Fisher, Don Godfrey, Rich Harrison, Kirk Harrison, Henry Hauser, Will Ireland, John Jenkins, Geb Keny, Fritz Lamb, Tom Licht, Hollis Macomber, John Mansfield, James McDonald, John McDonald, Bill McCandless, Louis Mitchell, Thorp Minister, Richard Morr, Scott McMinn, Pete Mykrantz, Artemio Rivera, Willie Rigby, Bill Rodgers, Charles Rodgers, Mark

Deer Lodge Discovers the Head of the Lake

On Monday, July 12, the Deer Lodge packed up shortly after inspection and embarked on both Cape Cod Knockabouts for an exciting and thrilling day-long trip to the Head of the Lake and back. We left Kawanhee Cove at 10:00 in a near flat calm. However, before we had cleared Pine Point, a Gap breeze came down Webb Lake and we did not lack for heeling excitement. We beat upwind past Bowley Rock, Dummer's Beach, and up to a beach at the extreme northern end of the Lake. Because of the strong wind, we were able to reach our destination in record time, only an hour and a half after leaving camp. Approaching the beach, we luffed up so that we could watch the bottom in order to find a good anchorage. After setting the hook and furling sails, we waded ashore, carrying our lunch box and towels. We ate lunch on the beach and spent about two hours there swimming and sun bathing.

At 2:00, we reboarded the boats, hoisted sail, tripped the anchors, and began the quick run back to camp. On the way back, we set the huge orange and white spinnakers which soon became almost impossible to hold in the stiff breeze. We skimmed along with incredible speed, reaching Bowley Rock after less than a half hour. Soon we lowered the spinnaker and decided to spend some time tacking upwind for some excitement as we had plenty of time before we were scheduled to return to camp. So we again tasted the joys of beating to windward back up past Bowley Rock with the stiff wind holding us over and the large waves spraying us from over the windward bow. It was really a glorious afternoon. Finally we downed helm and ran with the wind back to camp, passing Bass Rock on our way. We reached our mooring at 3:50 in Kawanhee Cove and set foot back in Kawanhee just as the end-of-activities bell was ringing at 4:00. It was a great trip and one to be remembered. The sailors making the thrilling voyage were: Tad Mitchell, Chip Harrison, Kirk Harrison, Mike Haynes, Ron Ottaviano, Mark Melvin, Rocky Smith and Tom Taylor. The rest of Deer Lodge was on the Monhegan Deep-Sea Fishing trip.

Herring Help Pull Crew Within One-Half Game of Sox

As the Monhegan-abbreviated, third week of the Kawanhee Little League comes to a close, a hot race is starting to shape up for first place. After seven games so far this summer, The Orange Sox hold a slim half-game lead over the second-place Blue Crew. The battle for first was intensified this past week as both The Sox and The Crew saw action and in both cases tangled with the lowly Red Herring. For The Crew it was a chance to gain ground on The Orange, which it had, beating The Reds 4-2. For The Sox, it was a chance to stay undefeated and 1½ games in front, which didn't happen, as The Reds won their first game of the season 7-6. Meanwhile, The Green Gestapo enjoyed a profitable week, gaining half a game on The Orange Sox lead while not even playing a single inning.

In The Herring-Crew contest last Monday night, Hollis Macomber notched his second victory of the season, throwing Following an open day Wednesday, league action returned Friday night with the first-place and undefeated Orange Sox taking on the last-place and victoryless Red Herring, in The Red's second presentation of the week. In the campaign's first major upset, The Reds edged out The Hose 7-6, coming from behind to do it. For The Herring and pitcher John Stillman, who was bombed out earlier in the week, the season's initial success was a sweet one. Down 2-0 after one inning, 4-2 after two, and 6-2 after three, The Reds rallied for five runs in the last three innings to halt The Orange at three straight. Salvation came in the batting form of Bill McCandless whose run-scoring double in the fifth and two-run, game-winning single in the bottom of the sixth saved the day for The Reds and boosted the hopes of The Blues as well.

Kawanhee Inn

Kawanhee Inn was happy to welcome the following guests during the past week: MR. AND MRS. DANFORTH HAYES, Worcester, Mass.; MR. AND MRS. T. H. WOLF, Columbus, Ohio, visiting sons, Jerry, of the Hawk Lodge and Steve, Jr. Counselor in the Birch Lodge. MR. AND MRS. SHERMAN DENISON, Newtonville, Mass.; DR. AND MRS. ARNAULT, Middletown, Conn.; MISS RAYE ARNAULT, Middletown, Conn.; MISS VICTORIA LYNCH, Tenaftly, New Jersey, MR. AND MRS. B. LEMKE, Tenaftly, New Jersey, MR. AND MRS. FRANK BARTUCCA, Bristol, Conn.; MR. AND MRS. JACK MONROE, Oberlin, Ohio, visiting sons, Fritz, Sr. Counselor in the Wildcat Lodge and Jeff, Sr. Counselor in the Badger Lodge; MR. AND MRS. FRED WIGGINTON, Oberlin, Ohio, MRS. JOHN G. BELL, JR., Closter, New Jersey, visiting son, John, of the Pine Tree Lodge.

Weekend at Kawanhee

The week at Kawanhee was great, the weather was great, the activities were great and the campers were great. Two Monhegan trips went out, several mountain hikes were scheduled and many levels were passed.

The first Maroon-Grey water competition was held Saturday afternoon, with the Greys winning 86 to 79. However, all good things must come to an end some time or another and so did the sunny weather at Camp Kawanhee. During the evening meal, a storm came over the mountains. This was a spectacular sight for the campers to watch a storm come down the mountain side and across the lake. The rain was badly needed in the area to keep Maine beautiful and green. It was a warm rain that followed the storm and the campers enjoyed "splash" football and "splash" kick ball. The traditional Jr. and Sr. Counselor softball game was called due to the rain, however.

The campers changed into dry clothing and gathered in the Rec Hall for our usual Saturday night campfire. It is not as impressive indoors as it is in our council ring, but when you get a group of happy campers and counselors together, you have fun whether inside or outside.

Mr. Birch presented the new Kawanhee song written by Gene Ottaviano, "Oh! Give Me Camp Kawanhee", which was the highlight of the evening. After listing to the recording, Tim Williams accompanied the group in singing their new camp fight song. The group caught on to the song immediately and enjoyed singing it through several times before going on to other favorites such as: "Swing Low", "Happy Wanderer". Larry Pray told the campers a short story to conclude the program.

Sunday the campers awakened to a brisk, sunny day, but the announcement Del Tracy, Director of Activities, made soon turned the atmosphere a dismal grey. "The barbers were arriving in the afternoon — an announcement received with no enthusiasm at all. However, no one was forced to be sheared and did that information make numerous boys very happy. Let's face it; hair is here to stay for awhile. We did insist that we be able to recognize who was underneath just in case we needed immediate identity.

The wind was ideal for sailing and the Kawanhee Yacht Club was happy to finish their sailing regatta that had been postponed the day before. Trips into town for goodies climaxed the afternoon while the Moose and Beaver Lodgers enjoyed a swim at Coos Canyon.

Pizzas, potato chips, orange drink and chocolate cake for "suppah" set off a chain reaction of "We want Leonard and Flora". This chant is becoming a regular order of the day when the campers report for meals.

Sunday evening the Senior Citizens of Kawanhee "whomped" their juniors in a softball game climaxed by Larry Pray's homer in the last half of the ninth inning.

Sunday night vespers were conducted by Tom Taylor, Chris Charyk, Tom Steenland and Herb Birch. Rev. McCleave told the story of Joseph in preparation of playing of the record portraying Joseph and The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. A short movie concluded the evening program.

As Lee McCleave played TAPS, the stars high overhead twinkled down upon a camp full of happy boys who had just finished a week of fun and adventure at Camp Kawanhee on the shores of beautiful Lake Webb, high in the mountains of northern Maine.
