The Maroons Did It Again

Once the Maroons were in high gear there was no stopping them and so they marched onward and upward earning levels which added valuable points to their slight lead of the previous week. The satisfying taste of victory gave Bill Proctor and his Maroons an incentive to remain No. 1 in the race for points; therefore, they applied the "Three D's" to their daily schedule: DRIVE, DETERMINATION AND DESIRE.

Tim Williams and his Greys dragged their feet somewhat during the week but they were able to keep their heads above the water in a few departments. They were, nevertheless, outscored by 355 points for the week by the Maroons. This, added to their lead of 266 points from the previous week, plus the points earned for winning the watermeet Saturday, put the Maroons out in front by 758 points for the season.

Both captains informed their boys that the levels were there to be earned and if they were desirous to be No. 1 when the season ends, they must get in there and do their best to earn points as they learn valuable skills.

As the season turns the half-way mark and heads for the home stretch, those valuable second and third levels will be a significant factor as the battle for points gains momentum.

The victory cheers given by both teams indicated that the battle is not over yet, but just getting started. The season total thus far is: Maroons 8,313; Greys 7,555.

NOTICE PARENTS !

It doesn't seem possible, but the camping season is gradually coming to a close and it is time to make arrangements for your son's return trip home. Have you made plans yet? If so, please inform us of your plans. We have made tentative reservations on TWA for the Ohio boys and bus reservations for the Eastern Boys.

The plans are as follows:

Ohio Boys

Leave camp via Greyhound at 12:00 noon, August 23rd, arriving Boston Logan Airport around 5:00 P.M. They will leave Boston on Flight #287 at 6:00 P.M. arriving at Port Columbus, Columbus, Ohio, at 7:47 P.M. This is a dinner, non-stop flight.

Eastern Boys

Leave via Greyhound from Lewiston, Maine, August 23rd, at 11:35 A.M., arriving New York at 8:25 P.M. Port of Departure, Greyhound Bus Station. They will be supervised all the way and will be served lunch en route.

Kawanhee's "Wet" Watermeet

The grey skies released some raindrops Saturday but the Maroons didn't care as they upset the Greys in the second watermeet of the season, 161-124. Director of Activities, Del Tracy, announced at the noon meal that the meet would go on, rain or shine, and with the threat of lightning non-existent, the team members lined the beaches with wet heads but high spirits.

In the Junior C dog paddle-free style relay, Jeff Luce "barked" his way to victory in the dog paddle and Tim Bolon sped in the free style to win it for the Maroons. Scott Daugherty and John Detrick went the two laps for the Greys. Tim Bolon and Mike Darmanin stretched every muscle fiber in the rowboat race. Mike was so small he had to sit on the life cushion to get the proper balance to row. They were neck-n-neck going to the turning buoy. The requirements of the event called for them to jump out of their boats, climb back into the boat and race to the finish line. Mike Darmanin, by virtue of his quick in-and-out, crossed the line just ahead of Tim Bolon.

The innertube relay saw Detrick and Tulloss Inc. pitted against Detrick and Tulloss Inc. as Rees Tulloss and John Detrick kicked and paddled past John Tulloss and Sam Detrick to win the event for the Greys. I must say, the margin of victory was not too great as the junior members of the Detrick and Tulloss families really gave it their all to keep up with big brothers.

The first test for the Junior B's was the underwater swim for distance. Kirk Harrison and Don Mykrantz broke water at the same spot to tie for first, with Tom SiFontes coming up second and John Vail following for third.

Herman Tice and Jeff Sengelmann won over Squire Galbreath and Art Simpson in the breaststroke-elementary backstroke relay to show how teamwork can win for you. Squire turned on both jets to give his team a slight margin but Art Simpson was left in the back wash of Jeff Sengelmann as he glided over the 100 foot span as if it were just a mere foot or two.

Hollis Macomber slipped over the two canoes with ease in record time as he won the over-canoe steeple chase. Mike Haynes was close on his heels to tally second with George Pierce and Karl Klinges finishing a few seconds behind.

In the Junior B free style relay, Stuart Brengman couldn't keep up the pace of Danny Thomas in the first lap of the relay, thus giving Mike Haynes a definite edge over Jeff Sengelmann in the last lap of the relay. Jeff started his lap with a half-lap deficit but managed to close the gap considerably with his all-out effort.

Starting off the Junior A events, Bill McCandless and Will Ireland showed their proficiency in Junior Lifesaving as they won in the Tired Swimmer's Carry relay over Charles Hauser and Pete Mykrantz. Charles and Pete had a little difficulty keeping their heads above the water which is a must if you are going to save a person's life.

The next Junior A event was the breaststroke-side stroke-elementary backstroke free style relay won by the Maroon team of Dave Gardner, Roger Sweet, Peter Mykrantz, and Eric Durell. The Grey Team of Luis Vinas, Frank Finetto, Tad Mitchell and Bill McCandless finished a close second.

Roger Sweet and Raub Smith won the broom-paddle canoe race as John Ireland and Pete Freimanis had trouble mastering the J-stroke with their brooms and cut a wide corner to slow down their progress. However, I must say, they paddle better with a broom than they sweep with a broom.

Saturday's kayaking race was a little different for the Seniors as they paddled innertubes from Skunk Ridge dock to the swimming area. The lighter and more maneuverable Dave Means won over Craig Miller, John Duncan and Chris Charyk.

Lee McCleave found the hidden doll's leg in the underwater, snorkel search. The leg was a birthday present to Andy Williams which he generously donated for the search. Others in the snorkel search were: Alan Sweet, John Ireland and Dave Klinges.

The Senior Canoe Race ended in a little dispute but the judges declared it legal so Ralph Tice and Jeff Colon-Bennett were the winners. Both canoes were neck-and-neck until Tice and Colon cut Sandy McCandless and Pete Wetherbee off at the finish line by turning in front of them and causing them to capsize. This is a very difficult race as the contestants were standing on the gunwales while paddling which makes it very difficult to keep your balance.

The Greys won the final event but to no avail, as Manuel Vinas, Pete Wetherbee, Juan Soto and Sandy McCandless won the breaststroke-side-stroke-backstroke crawl-free style relay. Swimming for the Maroons were: Dave Gardner, Ralph Tice, Craig Miller and Enrique Beckoff.

Doug "Walrus" Means authored, organized and announced the boating events, which emphasized the skills taught in the Boating Department.

Veteran counselor and former camper, Scott Tracy, visiting camp, aided in the day's judging with his friend, Jeff Schneider. Mark Hoskett scored for the day and Andy Williams and Fritz Monroe of the Swimming Department were the starters while Rich Davis was the Master of Ceremonies for the meet.

As the meet progressed, the sun peeked from behind the clouds and the afternoon wound up, sunny and dry. However, no one seemed to notice the rain or the sun. When you are having a good time, who cares about the weather. A free swim for the entire camp concluded the second watermeet of the 1971 season.

The results and entrants were as follows:

Canoeing Campers Conquer Chain

On Monday, July 26th, the "Bouncing Buggy", with Bates at the Helm, headed for a three-day canoe trip at Chain-of-Ponds, Maine, near the Canadian border. After a lunch at the Cathedral Pines picnic area, we drove on to the ponds. Upon arrival at Natanis Point, we found the campsites taken, so we took the old farm campsite in the middle of the Chain-of-Ponds.

After setting up camp, we took a swim in the nearby fourth pond. The evening meal was prepared by our own French Chef, Hank Hiser. As soon as the dinner dishes were cleaned, Lloyd Davidson, who owns the Natanis Point Campsites, paid us a visit and told us some stories of the area.

On Tuesday, a heavy rain greeted us as we awakened; this was deemed an opportune time to visit the near-by town of Woburn, Quebec. We loaded into the "Buggy" and headed for the border. After passing through customs at Coburn Gore, Maine, we rode two miles to Woburn. After buying goodies and admiring the local scenery, we returned to our campsite in time to find the sun peering through the clouds. A quick lunch of P.B. & J's was enjoyed, and a short canoe trip was in order.

Six canoes and one kayak headed north, paddling into a strong wind, with the Horseshoe River as our destination. We stopped at the Natanis Point Bridge for a swim before proceeding up the river. On our return trip, we had the wind to our backs, which provided good sailing. One canoe was outfitted with a raincoat as a mainsail, and a beach towel for a jib; but, the wind proved too strong, and the canoe capsized.

Bate's beef stew greeted us upon our return, a good hearty meal for the tired canoeists. We sat around the campfire, and then turned in for the night.

Wednesday morning, a trip down the ponds to the dam was planned. Upon arrival at the dam, we enjoyed fishing and swimming. Soon we realized it was getting late, so we returned to our campsite and loaded the truck and trailer. After everything was packed, the "Bouncing Buggy" headed for Stratton, where we had supper. The return trip was made in time for the baseball game at camp.

Campers taking the trip were: John Anderson, Ted Anderson, John Bell, Bruce Benua, Eric Durell, Pete Freimanis, Angel Franco, Don Godfrey, Mike Haynes, John Jenkins, Will Ireland, Geb Keny, Dave Means, George Pierce, Greg Schurman, Art Simpson, Raub Smith, Roger Sweet and Tom Licht. The counselors were: C. F. "Bates" Bateman, Hank Hiser and Doug Means.

Leaping Lizards!

Monday night started the first competitive frog-jumping contest of Camp Kawanhee. The frogs came in all sizes and colors, and it turned out that the little ones jumped better than the big ones. All sorts of stimulants were tried to produce a good series of three jumps. They ranged from stomping on the ground, to pleading, to whispering and bellowing through the official megaphone.

The longest series of jumps was by a "dark" frog from Badger Lodge with an official jump of 6'6½". Beaver had a practice jump of 8'11"! The eventual winner was Lynx, with a fine jump of 5'6½"! "Ribbet!"

Kawanhee's First Play In '71

The first play was a hit and if you don't believe me ask Si Dunkel who came in as a man asking the fake King for a baseball diamond. That was a very good crack and the King answered that he didn't have any jewelry.

The King, Doug Pray, was tired of being a King and he traded outfits with the Jester for the day. He wanted to have fun and be a common person for once. The new King or fake King was David Lamb who had trouble remembering how to answer the questions put to him. In order that he would remember the right answers they had a signal that he was to follow. However, they were a little mixed up at times. The real King was then the Jester and he had trouble clowning around too. But that is what made the play funny.

Si Dunkel was the star of the play with his acting as an American baseball commissioner asking the King for a diamond. The King thought he meant jewelry. Then Stuart Brengman asked the King for help in fighting their wars. Stu was an Arab and really looked authentic. Fritz Lamb was an Englishman asking the King for advice on which girl he should marry. The King was of no help and Fritz left without an answer. Jon Trayner and Jeff Shaw were excellent in their rolls as Valet and Secretary. Angelo Franco was the King's Herold. Jerry Wolf and Chris Stallman were the King's guards. They got the giggles during the show.

The two big hits were Stuart Brengman and Si Dunkel who were honored with a standing ovation. The whole play was interesting and enjoyed by all.

Chris Cooper, Deer Lodge Camper, Age 12

Skipper's Report

On August 1, the KYC held its 5th Regatta. For the first time this season, two classes were raced at once. The two Cape Cod Knockabouts raced a boomerang course around the leeward mark, back by the starting flag and on to the windward mark. Simultaneously, the four Tech Dingies raced around a triangular course, using the same markers. However, their first leg was a beat to the windward mark.

The Cape Cod Knockabouts were scheduled to race a best two-out-of three series. Only two races were needed though as John McDonald and his crew, Rich Darmanin, swept the first two races, defeating Eric Etherington and his crew members, Ramon del Valle and Juan Soto.

The Tech races were a little closer as Ken Chapman with his crew, Raub Smith, squeaked by Dave Klinges and crew, John Schaffeld, by a mere 3 points. The other two second mates, racing for the first time, came in third and fourth. They were: Jon Blayman with crew, Ted Anderson, 3rd; Chris Charyk with crew, John Cunningham, 4th.

The sunny afternoon was highlighted by the second race when all six boats crowded together while rounding the leeward mark. The Knockabouts were flying their orange and white spinnakers as they came bearing down on the Techs. McDonald rounded first as Etherington was held up in traffic. In the Techs, Chapman led the pack to the finish-line with Blayman close behind. Altogether, it was another great day of sailing.

O. J. and Mez Return to the Courts

The Kawahee Basketball League had its most active week ever in the history of the league, playing five games and holding its mid-season draft. The mid-season draft was the biggest ever and it marked the return of "O. J." Altmaier, who had retired from the courts after helping lead his team to the championship last year. O. J. was drafted by Monroe's Mob and should help them greatly. Another big name in the draft was Mike Meserole, better known as "Mez" by his fans and better known as "Laverne" by his fellow players. Meserole, Commissioner of Baseball, retired from the courts in '63 and hasn't returned until this year. He was drafted by the B.A. Bounders and should help them greatly, if not as a player then as a morale booster, in the quest for the championship.

Mid-Season Draft

TO B. A. BOUNDERS

Enrique Beckhoff
Dave Klinges
Mike Meserole

TO DAVIS' DUNKERS

Jim Davis

TO MONROE'S MOB

Mike Altmaier
Mike Chaisson
Ted Lewit

TO HISER'S RISERS

Chip Carver
Mike Mephesen
Jean Thompson

Bounder's - Mob

B. A. Bounders won their first game, beating Monroe's Mob 56-46. Bob "Zeke" Zechiel led all scorers with 23 points for The Bounders and was helped by B. A. himself with 18 and Tom Ruhle and Mark Schiewetz with 8 and 6 respectively. Ruhle, in his first start, was a great help on the boards and shows promise to do the same in future games. The Mob was led by "Hondo" Mark Standen with 14 and Mike "the Pearl" Standen with 13. Final score—Bounders 56, Mob 46.

Riser's - Mob

Hiser's Risers won their third in a row, beating Monroe's Mob 44-37, without their star Hank "the Cannon" Hiser. Juan Soto led all scorers with 19 and was helped by Jeff Monroe with 12. Don Childs, Mr. Basketball himself, led the losers with 18 and was helped by Mike "the Pearl" with 17. Final—Hiser 44, Mob 37.

Riser's - Dunkers

Hiser's Risers won their fourth game in a row over Davis' Dribbling Dunkers 69-37. The Risers had little trouble with the Dunkers (who were playing without their star Hiser). The winners were led by Juan Soto with 29 and Jeff "the Rex" Monroe with 20. Jim Davis led the losers with 20 points.

Bounder's - Riser's

B. A.'s Bounders, in a crucial contest, won their second game in a row, beating the undefeated Risers 49-39. Bob Altmaier led all scorers with 17 and was helped by Bob Zechiel and Tom Ruhle with 15 and 10 points respectively. Hiser was high for the losers with 13.

Bounder's vs. Dunker's

In a must game for both teams, the B. A. Bounders walked all over the Davis' Dribbling Dunkers by the tune of 64 to 44. The B. A. Bounders, who just two weeks ago were beaten by the Dunkers, gained their sweet revenge and their third straight victory in a week by placing a well-balanced attack led by Bob Altmaier's 28 points and Tom Ruhle's personal high of 18. The Davis team, after dropping their 4th straight game, had but one highlight in the game. That was Mike Van Ost's 34 points which broke Johnny Rullan's previous high of 33. If Van Ost's season high holds, it could very well be the first time in Kawanhee history that a KBL rookie has rewritten the record books. However, for superman Van Ost to lead his lowly Dunker team out of the cellar in the KBL league, he'll have to perform even greater super-human feats, as his 34 point, one-man team effort proved futile against the team play of the Bounders.

K.B.L. Standings

	Won	Lost	Games Behind
HISER'S RISERS	4	1	0
B. A.'s BOUNDERS	3	1	½
MONROE'S MOB	1	3	2½

Tight 4-Way Race Developing in KLL

Passing the five-week mark in the 1971 season, The Kawanhee Little League finds itself in one of the most hotly contested, four-way races in league history. The first-place Orange Sox lead the fourth-place Red Herring by only two games with second-place tied up between The Green Gestapo and The Blue Crew, only one game back of The Sox.

With three games remaining over the next two weeks for each team, any one of the four teams can finish in first. In addition, with the camp series being decided this year with a two-out-of-three-game play-off between the first and second-place finishers, the battle for second place will be just as heated. As the KLL turns into the sixth week and heads down the home stretch, one mere factor of pennant importance emerges; the Sox, Crew and Gestapo will all be losing an all-star performer after this week — Chip Harrison of the Oranges, Kirk Harrison of the Blues, and Tad Mitchell of the Greens. The dark horse Red Herring will lose no one.

The fifth week of the Little League action tightened up the standings. The Sox were "hung out to dry" by the Crew and Hollis Macomber, 4-2. Big Bill McCandless blew out the candles on The Blues with two booming triples and pitching help from Pete Mykrantz as The Red Herring won 4-3 in extra innings, and The Oranges broke a first place tie with The Greens by beating The Gestapo, 5-3, in a make-up of a previously washed-out game.

The Crew-Sox game saw Hollie Macomber throw his third straight sub-three-hit game, a one-hitter to add to his two-hitter and no-hitter. Going six innings to bring his record up to 3-0, Macomber struck out thirteen and walked five. At the plate, crewmen Kirk Harrison (2 for 2) and Charley Rodgers (3 for 3 with 3 RBI's) supplied the offensive punch The Blues needed to win. Mark Oliva, on loan from The Red Herring to offset the Chain-O-Ponds drain, got The Sox's only hit, a fifth-inning single.

The following Friday evening, with season ticket-holding members of the Standen and Macomber families in attendance at Button Field, The Red Herring finally started to make their run for the roses. In a thrilling, seven-inning fracas, they ran over The Blue Crew by a 4-3 score. Strong Don Mykrantz catching and keeping the base runners honest, along with some superb power hitting by Bill McCandless, lowered the boom on The Crew. The Crew rallied for two runs in the top of the sixth to tie the game but could get no closer. The Reds won in the bottom of the seventh with a lead-off triple by McCandless, followed by a shot to left by Pete Mykrantz that dropped behind Mike Haynes for the victory.

In last Sunday's make-up game, The Oranges and Greens squared off to see who should lead the league, and after six tight innings, The Green Gestapo found itself on the wrong end of a 5-3 outcome and in a tie for second place with the Blues, led at the plate by steady-hitting Tim Harrison and half-season acquisition, Karl Klenges, who tripled and doubled, respectively, accounting for three of the five Orange runs, and on the mound by the president of The Willie Stargell Fan Club, Squire Galbreath, who relieved starter Greg Schurman in the third inning, the Sox played near flawless ball. The Gestapo, however, was out of goose-step all afternoon, making three errors in the field and scraping together only one hit, a first-inning single by Herman Tice, at the plate.

All-Amerks Clinch Crown, Bunch Bow, Wonkas Win

Doug Sensenbrenner and his incredible All Americans managed to clinch the Babe Ruth League pennant in just about record time this past week by sweeping to their fifth straight victory of the summer. Although they lost later in the week to the Chocolate Factory, as the week ended there was no way The Factory or Ralph's Bunch could better the All-Amerks' ledger with only a handful of games to go.

On Tuesday, in the pennant-clincher, The Americans edged out Ralph Tice's Bunch in a defensive gem, 13-12. It is, or rather was, only fitting that The All-American himself, Sensenbrenner, deliver the decisive blow for his ball-club in the bottom of the ninth with the score tied at 12-all. Singling to lead off the inning, Sensenbrenner set sail for home on a single by Don Long and a two-hot-to-handle grounder through shortstop by Rich Darmanin. While he was at it, Sensenbrenner picked up the victory as the pitcher of record.

In the next game, the undefeated Americans carried their spotless 5-0 record into the land of Will Wonka and while coming close to victory, they were denied the spoils for the first time this summer. In a seven-inning popcorn-eater, The Wonks came away as the victor thanks to a bottom-of-the-inning, three-run home run by Craig Miller who crushed a long "tater" into the long jump pit. Although periodically inspired at the plate by Pete Wetherbee and Tom Benua, who also homered, The All-Americans' streak was over, but thanks to the victory skein, their reign as champs was just beginning as they prepared to meet a combined Bunch-Wonka super club in the eighth week of camp.

SC's Quit Fooling Around, Regain Two-Game Edge Over JC's

Big John Detrick "busted" out of a summer-long batting slump with two lengthy triples and three runs batted in, and Bob Zechiel returned to the mound for a pair of victories as the Senior Counselors awakened from their sleep walk of last week, that saw them lose two straight to the Junior Counselors and spanked the JC's on consecutive Saturday and Sunday nights by 13-5 and 12-4 scores, to regain their two-game series lead at 6-4.

In the Saturday game, eight of the ten-man SC line-up collected two hits or more each in an evening of hit and run that saw thirteen runs cross the plate on 18 hits. Andy Williams, Mark Standen, who cracked a tremendous two-run homerun to the basketball courts in left center that would've brought three points in the ABA, Brian Birch and the amazing Larry Pray, each drove in two runs.

Sunday night was Detrick's, however, as the rangy SC guardian of the gateway, accounted for half of all the senior runs, driving in three and personally scoring a trio. Jim Davis knocked in a pair of runs for the Seniors, and Bill

Proctor who batted in two teammates Saturday night, added three more RBI's Sunday, most notably on a drive to right that got behind Golden Gloves ex-champ, O. J. Altmaier.

Weekend At Kawanhee

The weekends at Kawanhee seem to be of the same variety. The weatherman cooperates during the week but he forgets that we at Kawanhee have an extensive program of fun and games planned. However, since the weatherman didn't cooperate with sunshine this weekend, we proceeded with our usual activity of a swim meet and the rain just added excitement and adventure to the event. It was a warm rain and the cool waters were refreshing to the swimmers and spectators. In fact, the Maroons liked the effects the dismal weather had on the results of the meet, as they won their first swim meet of the season.

Of course, due to the inclement weather, our Saturday night campfire was forced indoors. We have had just two outdoor campfires this season; but even though we don't have the pleasant atmosphere of the stately pines and the stars shining overhead to add to our festivities, we still have a good time in the "Old" Rec Hall. The rafters vibrate when the campers sing their favorite songs such as: "Dinah", "I've Been Working On The Railroad" and the Camp Kawanhee Fight song, "Oh, Give Me Camp Kawanhee." I'm sure Mr. Ottaviano, composer of our new song, could hear the boys singing even in Tenafly, New Jersey. Many levels and achievements were awarded at the campfire and the boys stood with pride to receive their recognition for a week's work well done. The program ended with a story by Ed Chace.

Sunday morning the weather had cleared and the sun was shining brightly. The Catholic boys journeyed to Wilton for Mass and the rest of the camp gathered to worship God in our outdoor Chapel, overlooking Lake Webb and Mt. Tumbledown. Rev. Stanley McCleave conducted the service with Larry Pray assisting.

The usual Sunday afternoon of "do your thing" prevailed at Kawanhee. Trips into town, trip to Coos Canyon for a swim, writing letters, relaxing on your bunk, sailing regatta, free swim and a full afternoon of waterskiing for anyone interested. This is the afternoon that no program is planned and the campers have their choice of relaxing, leisure-time activities.

Sunday Evening Vespers were conducted by Larry Pray and Tom Taylor. They led the group in singing "I'm a Christian" to set the mood for the evening program. Directors Larry and Connie Pray presented to the campers a play entitled "The King's Jesters". Larry and Connie and the cast worked for many weeks on the play and their efforts were not in vain. The audience applauded its approval of the production. Si Dunkel, as the American Baseball Commissioner, dressed like "Cauliflower McPugg" stole the show as did Dave Lamb with his hilarious antics as a jester. A Spanish tone was added to the production as Angelo Franco portrayed the King's Herold. The entire cast of: Jeff Shaw, Jon Trayner, Fritz Lamb, Doug Pray, Dave Lamb, Jerry Wolf, Stuart Brengman, Angelo Franco, Si Dunkel, and Chris Stallman are to be complimented on a production well done.

Lee McCleave's melodious TAPS echoed throughout the camp Sunday evening at 9:15 P.M., calling a halt to a very busy and productive week at Camp Kawanhee, a place where boys learn to become the leaders of tomorrow.
