Maroon Momentum Tells

The revelation that Maroon mentor Tim Keny was needed for early football practice and was to return home disconcerted some of his Maroon tribesmen, led to deep speculation among the Greys, and lent interest to the contest of the closing weeks. Actually, Keny and his seasoned cadre of sachems were completely prepared for his departure, for Jim Keny was named to replace his twin brother in the leadership of the team during the final two weeks of camp. The question facing Jim was whether Maroon momentum could be maintained, particularly in the crucial effort to win third levels for the completion of plaques. The Greys had narrowed the margin separating the two teams to a matter of a mere 200 points by early August, and the Ticemen sensed an upset. Jim Keny held repeated team meetings and stirred the Maroons to new competitive and individual heights, however, and as the Maroon victory was announced at the Court of Awards, the ecstatic Maroon tribesmen seized Jim and threw him into Lake Webb in traditional fashion. In the dunking of Jim, it was understood that the absent Tim was being dunked as well — by proxy. For Ralph Tice and his Greys it had been a long campaign, but a campaign which they had come close to winning. The spirit of the Greys never faltered, and they were quick to congratulate their opponents. The announcement of the final score by Jim Estabrook and "Big John" Detrick was: Maroons 28, 069; Greys 25, 087.
