Weather Breaks, Greys Move

The most welcome and newsworthy item this week is the spectacular change in the weather here on Lake Webb. A "three day blow" brought us a succession of brilliant, clear days after a fairly wet opening week which played havoc with baseball and trip opportunities. A track meet on Saturday was happily completed under excellent conditions, and the final score for the first ten days of camp revealed that weather or not, the Greys had been on the move. The score showed the Greys led the Maroons 1992 to 1632. Maroon Captain John Duncan was undaunted and felt that it was too early to learn much from the tally. He also pointed out that he was coming down from Tumble-down as the Tug-of-War commenced, and that this may have made a bit of difference in his team's performance. Both Captains again reminded their teams that perseverance in pursuit of individual levels would ultimately make the difference, as a heat wave descended on Kawanhee.

Trips

As weather cleared during the second week of camp several trips left, while others were planned for the following week. Hawk Lodge climbed Mt. Bald, then did Tumble-down later in the week. Lynx spent the night on Tumble-down beside Crater Lake where they were joined by Badger. Both lodges had a great meal and a great night for star-gazing. The next morning was warm and brilliant, so everyone went swimming, and a few made use of John Ireland's inflatable raft which had been packed up the mountain by the Badgers. Earlier in the week Crow Lodge had joined Badger for a canoe trip on Sandy Creek. The water was high and swift; few were spared capsizing but everyone felt the trip was worthwhile. Sunday was the occasion for the first of a series of swimming trips to Coos canyon; this was repeated on Monday.

Clarence "Bates" Bateman's traditional Monhegan Island outing was to depart on Monday, July 9, embarking on the "Balmy Days" from Boothbay Harbor at 10:00 A.M. The trip has been so popular that it will again operate in two sections, the second scheduled to leave on Wednesday, July 11, at 6:30 A.M. Highlights of the trip will include a deep-sea fishing trip and a visit to Manana Island, just across the harbor from Monhegan, the haunt of Ray Phillips the famous sheep-raising hermit of Monhegan. Phillips has lived by himself on this tiny island for more than thirty-five years without electricity or plumbing. He collects rain water in barrels for washing and warms himself and cooks with a wood stove. Apart from fish, which has an important place in his diet, Ray is fond of pancakes and oatmeal. Many Kawanhee visitors bring him an orange, a candy bar, or a bit of tobacco. Ray Phillips appears healthy and happy and claims that a lot of his visitors would trade places with him—if they could. "I wanted to be independent, have a pleasant life outdoors," he said recently. "I settled my mind to leave the city in 1931. There was just me to think about. I was never skillful enough to get married."

Ray Phillips' home is a rough dwelling built from boards and drift wood. He lives in one room and shares the other rooms with his sheep, his chief companion during the winter. He is never lonely during the summer; often 25 or 50 people come to visit.

Ray likes Kawanhee campers and is used to them. So is Monhegan. Because of Bates' shrewd planning and unflagging diplomacy, Kawanhee is the only camp allowed to pitch tents and camp out on the island. Those making the trip are (first section):

Kawanhee Staff Camp Nurse

JO STOCKHAUSEN, Hawaii, returns to Kawanhee for her second year as the camp's venerable nurse. Jo has one son at camp this year, Rick. Sick call at the infirmary is after meals (no connection between the two), and invariably, those who leave sick call are feeling better than when they came in.

Sailing

TOM TAYLOR, venerable and salty Commodore of the Kawanhee Yacht Club is back for his 15th year. Tom spent last winter as a dive master on a scuba diving project on Andros Island in the Bahamas. A polymathic master of many fields, Tom is currently refurbishing two antique Cape Cod Knockabouts, perfecting his folk-guitar technique and leading one of the happiest lodges in camp. Tom is a hiker and a linguist also but would rather be known as the master of the Periwinkle.

RICHARD DARMANIN, Puerto Rico, returns to Kawanhee for his 6th year, to assist in the sailing department. He attends Oxford Academy, where he is active in sailing. He is one of the top ten Puerto Rican Hobie Sailors, and secretary of the Puerto Rico Multihull Sailing Association. When not sailing, his hobby is girls; he will stay in the Deer Lodge.

JOHN ALDRICH, Bexley, Ohio, is in his fourth year at Kawanhee. He attends Bexley High School, where he has lettered in soccer. He will assist in sailing and live in the Pine Tree Lodge.

JOHN MCDONALD, Birmingham, Michigan, returns to Kawanhee for his 7th season, to help in sailing. Jim confesses to an insane lust for hi-performance cars, and plans to build one next fall and winter. His brother Jim is also at Kawanhee; John will stay in the Beaver Lodge.

CRAIG MILLER, Madison, Connecticut, is spending his 7th summer at Kawanhee. He attends Daniel Hand High School, and his hobby is music. He and his guitar will contribute much to Kawanhee songfests. Craig will live in the Bear Lodge.

Archery

JOHN MORR, Worthington, Ohio, returns to head archery in his fifth Kawanhee season. He attends the University of Wyoming. John is also a professional magician and has played at Kawanhee several times before. His big hobby, though, is movie making. He filmed the smash hit "Everybody Hates a Cop, Especially a Robber" (now playing at a theater near you.) He claims to be presently teaching Robert Redford how to act. He is the proud winner of three consecutive "Mr. Irresponsibility" and "Mr. Incompetent" awards, presented by Bob Zechial. When asked for comments or remarks to be printed by the paper, he said: "Redford can't act," "Kubrick can't direct," and "Newman can't do anything!" John resides in the Beaver Lodge.

BOB ZECHIAL, Irmo, South Carolina, returns to work part-time in the archery department. The 1973 season will be his eighth, and he has also had four relatives at Kawanhee. He has graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University. Zeke's hobbies are table-tennis, bowling, and home movies. He also enjoys golf courses. Bob has earned both his Eagle Scout and his Robin Hood (Archery) awards. Zeke stays in the Birch Lodge.

MARK SENGELMANN, Upper Arlington, Ohio, joins the Archery staff in his seventh year at Kawanhee. Mark attends Upper Arlington High School, and enjoys all sports, especially snow and water skiing. He has had five Kawanhee relatives, including his grandfather, father, and younger brother Jeff. In addition, his parents met at Kawanhee. Mark will stay in the Wildcat Lodge.

Athletics

Baseball

PETE BELSKIS, Rumford, Maine, will take time off from his married life this year to head Kawanhee Baseball. A husband since this June sixteenth, Pete will reside in Fragrance City (Rumford) and commute daily to camp. Pete is a counselor in the Crows Nest Lodge this year, which is his second. A great lover of baseball, Pete played well for the University of Maine, and is the Senior Counselor Short-stop-Left Fielder in counselor ball this year.

MIKE STANDEN, Closter, New Jersey, returns to Kawanhee for his thirteenth season and will be the other co-head of baseball. A sophomore at Lock Haven State College, Mike likes all sports and does well in most. Mike has a brother at Kawanhee, Mark, who is in the Moose Lodge. Mike himself will stay in the Pine Tree Lodge this year.

NICK GILL, Washington, D. C., joins the baseball department in his eighth year at Kawanhee. A grad of Landon Prep School, Nick is a cross country and wrestling man in addition to his baseball. He lists his hobbies as "Beating the S. C.'s, drive in movies, and meditation." Nick is a retired Kawanhee Little League coach, and his teams were once feared throughout the camp. He will stay in Birch Lodge this year.

JOHN GILL, Washington, D. C., returns to Kawanhee for his fourth year, although his first season was 1968. Nick's younger brother is a rather prolific sportsman, as he coaches a KLL team, plays on two softball teams, one soccer team, and one basketball team. In his early years, John earned two KLL Most Valuable Player awards. John likes the Weld area and its quiet beauty, saying that he is grateful for the chance to get away from the city life of Washington, D.C. He will help counsel the Hawk Lodge this year.

SHERMAN HANNA, Columbus, Ohio, joins the Eagle Lodgers in his third year of Kawanhee experience. Guitar pickin' Sherm has his own basketball team in the KBL this year, and participates in Kawanhee softball; and soccer also. He attends Bexley High School, where he will be a Junior.

Basketball

BOB ALTMAIER, Columbus, Ohio, returns to Kawanhee for his eighth year. Bob does more than just work in the Basketball Department: he is the basketball department. With the exception of a little bit of help from Sherm Hanna, B. A. is the only counselor in basketball. He manages it well, though, mostly with the assistance of some hard-working master campers. B. A. is another movie freak, and starred in last year's smash "Nobody Likes A Cop, Especially a Robber", along with Zeke and some other young talent. He attends Franklin University, and lives in the Panther Lodge.

Soccer

BOB ZECHIEL, a man of many talents and responsibilities, also directs soccer with help from "sidekick" (no pun intended) B. A. Zeke is a veteran player himself and played on one of the best college soccer teams in Ohio, the Ohio Wesleyan side.

JIM ESTABROOK, residing in the tower this season, returns to assist with soccer again; he is a letter winning varsity fullback for the Columbus Academy team and he also holds down the important post of score-keeper for the entire camp.

Boating

KEN CHAPMAN, Newtown, Pennsylvania, will be second in command behind MITCH GREENAWALT, (see last issue.) He attends Council Rock High School, where he will graduate next year. He is an experienced white water man.

DAVE BUGBEE, Boxford, Massachusetts, is a newcomer spending his first year at Kawanhee in the Boating Department. His father and uncle are former Kawanheecans. Dave attends Bates College in Lewiston, Maine, and enjoys canoeing, hiking, writing, and debating. He looks forward to a career in law and politics. Dave will stay in the Pole Cat Lodge.

CHRIS CHARYK, Washington, D.C., returns for his fifth season at Kawanhee. He attends Landon School and enjoys all aspects of guitar music. Chris is one of only three people in camp who have earned the coveted "boating stripes" award, given for boating prowess and service to the department. Currently, Chris claims to be bravely overcoming a skiing accident in which both of his legs were broken. Chris will stay in the Eagle Lodge.

SCOTT MCMINN, Hilliard, Ohio, returns for his sixth Kawanhee season. He attends Hilliard High School where he is active in Dramatics, and is a member of the technical crew. An avid reader, Scott is also helping to write and edit The Wigwam. He is staying in the Falcon Lodge.

LEE MCCLEAVE, Hadden Heights, New Jersey, will be working part-time in the Boating Department in his eighth Kawanhee season. Lee has many jobs around camp, but works hardest in Boating, where an extra counselor is needed. Recently crippled in a devastating game of water football, Lee will be sidelined for about a week or so and will probably end up spending a lot of time in the Deer Lodge, his home for the summer.

Campcraft

RALPH TICE, Hilliard, Ohio, is spending his 5th summer at Kawanhee and will work in Campcraft and the Junior Maine Guide program. He attends Hilliard High School, where he is active in football, wrestling, and tennis. A former Grey Team captain, his hobbies are camping, skiing, and sailing. Ralph will stay in the Moose Lodge.

JEFF COLON-BENNETT, San Juan, Puerto Rico, returns for his third year at Kawanhee. He attends Colegio San Ignacio de Loyola. His hobbies are water skiing, tennis, photography, reading, and hiking. Jeff is a Junior Maine Guide and is this year's Grey Team Captain. He will stay in the Wildcat Lodge.

JOHN BOCKELMAN, Tenaflly, N. J., is at Kawanhee for his first year. A graduate of Millersville State College, he is an Electronics teacher in Tenaflly. His hobbies are motorcycling, skiing, collecting antique clocks and watches, and he is a member of the Tenaflly Fire Department. John stays in the Bear Lodge.

JOHN DUNCAN, Tenaflly, New Jersey, returns to Kawanhee for his fifth year. He is a busy man in 1973, for he not only works in campcraft, but also is captain of the maroons this year, plays both Aaron and Counselor Softball, and soccer. John is well qualified for the Campcraft department, as last year he earned the Junior Maine Guide Award. He will be staying in the Lynx Lodge.

Nature

LYNNE BIRCH, St. Petersburg, Florida, returns in her fifth season at Kawanhee to head up the Nature Department. Mrs. Brian Birch, Lynne teaches Life Science at Largo Junior High School in St. Petersburg. Her son Brian, Jr., is in the Panther Lodge as a camper this year.

MARK HOSKET, Yellow Springs, Ohio, will head up the Lapidary Shop in the Nature Department. This is Mark's third year at Kawanhee, and he is spending it as S. C. of the Falcon Lodge. He attends Utah State University, and is a senior. A Boy Scout for eight years, Mark earned his Eagle Scout. He especially enjoys rock collecting.

Riflery

BRUCE BIRCH, Tenaflly, New Jersey, returns for another season at camp, this one as the head of Range. Herb's other Son, Bruce is the experienced hand needed in an activity such as Riflery.

HANK HISER, Falls Church, Va., returns to Kawanhee for his tenth season. He is a newcomer to the range, and will lend a needed helping hand in the absence of Tom Steenland. He is a grad of Landon High School.

Shop

KIRK NEISWANDER, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, is spending his first summer at Kawanhee, though he has vacationed on Lake Webb for seven years. He is a University School graduate, and now attends Denison University. In high school, he lettered in Football, Basketball, and Baseball. He is especially interested in woodworking; he built a kayak in 9th grade, and a 12-foot sailboat as a senior. At Denison he does the play by play broadcasting for the varsity basketball games as well as hosting his own disc-jockey show. Kirk will assist in the shop, and stay in the Lynx Lodge.

BRIAN BIRCH, St. Petersburg, Florida, son of Herb and husband of Lynne, returns to aid his father in his fifteenth year, in the camp shop. A graduate of the University of Tampa, he has his B.S. in Industrial arts. Brian is a shop teacher at the Nina Harris School for Exceptional Children.

Swimming

JIM BEAVER, Galena, Ohio, in his second season at Kawanhee, will head the swimming department. He will graduate from Ohio State in December with a degree in health and physical education. While at OSU, Jim earned six letters in football, basketball, and track. He lists as his hobbies sports, travelling, girls, and waterbedding (?), and his slogan is "get your pod in gear." Jim will stay in Crow Lodge.

MIKE HARRISON, Columbus, Ohio, is in his fourth year at Kawanhee and will help in the swimming department. A former soccer player at the Columbus Academy, he now attends Sewanee University, where he has earned three letters in swimming. He has also made three conference records in swimming, and was chosen as an "Outstanding College Athlete of America" in 1972. Mike's brother, Tim, and cousin, also named Mike Harrison, are at Kawanhee this summer. Mike lives in the Hawk Lodge.

JAMES KENY, Columbus, Ohio, is at Kawanhee for his fifth year. A graduate of the Columbus Academy, he is a freshman at Harvard. He has earned letters in soccer and swimming, and has made a hobby of ornithology. Jim's brothers, Tim and Geb are at Kawanhee this summer. Jim lives in the Falcon Lodge.

PETE WETHERBEE's claim to fame is his hometown of Galena, Ohio. He is in his third year at Kawanhee. Pete plays basketball at Big Walnut High and enjoys reading, playing the guitar, and listening to music. He will stay in the Panther Lodge.

Trips

BILL PROCTOR, Englewood, New Jersey, returns to be co-director of trips in his ninth Kawanhee summer. Bill attends Unity College in Unity, Maine. This coming winter, Bill and his brother Jim (also a Kawanheean in years past) will be starting a Proctor Tree Service in Englewood. They will both also coach hockey teams at the Englewood Field Club. Bill is staying in the tower.

KEVIN MORRIN, Columbus, Ohio, will assist Bill in his second year at Kawanhee. A teacher at Columbus Academy, "K.C." is also the editor of The Wigwam, and lives in the Badger Lodge.

Wrestling

MARK STANDEN, Closter, New Jersey, returns to Kawanhee for his fourteenth season to head up the wrestling department. Mark is going to Colby College, where he wrestles in an intramural league. In High School, he lettered in baseball and wrestling. Now residing in the Moose Lodge, Mark lists two Kawanhee relatives: Roy Nickerson, his grandfather, who was a Kawanheean years ago; and his brother Mike who is a counselor in Pine Tree Lodge.

LORENZO BAKER, Bexley, Ohio, is spending his sixth year at Kawanhee in Badger Lodge. Bake is an unmistakable figure around camp, not only because of his decidedly red hair, but because he finished second in the state of Ohio 185 lb. weight class tourney. To say the least, Lorenzo is big. In '73 he will lend his hand as needed in the wrestling department, as well as working with the Junior Maine Guide prospects. He will also help out with some trips. The all-league high school football star plans to attend Western State College of Colorado this fall.

TIM KENY, Columbus, Ohio, joins the Wrestling Department in his fifth year at Kawanhee. Tim is a graduate of the Columbus Academy, where he earned three wrestling and two football letters. A counselor this year in the Lynx Lodge, Tim makes early morning jogging a habit. He enjoys nature, and is a bird watcher and mineral collector in his spare time.

Baseball

Cook, Galbreath, Howard, Stockhausen star in first week of K.L.L.

Despite a week and a half of rain on Chip Button Memorial Field the K.L.L. has kept up to date thanks to the hard work of the Baseball Department.

In the opener there were 42 walks in 4 innings totaling 19 runs. The Blue Plate Special Jrs. put up Freddie Borras against Tom Gyrfas of the Yellow Submarines. Trailing by 5 going into the bottom half of the last, the Subs exploded for 6 runs on six walks and a hit batsman. With one out and the bases full, little Bob Cook unloaded a two run double to right pushing across the winning runs. The final score was 15-14.

The second game featured the Red Necks against the Soyilent Green. The Reds took an 8-4 decision on the 3-hit pitching of Matt Howard. Howard fanned 15 while the Soyilent pitcher Squire Galbreath whiffed 13, giving up just 4 hits. A wild streak in the first by Galbreath produced 5 runs and put the game virtually out of reach for the Soyilents.

Howard collected his second victory at the expense of the winless Blues in a 12-1 tilt. "Mighty Matt" struck out 12 and allowed just 2 hits. Pete Shaw's lack of control and poor team defense led to the Blue's downfall.

The fourth game of the week matched the Soyilent Green and Submarines. The Greens could do little wrong as they teed off for 9 hits and 14 runs behind the explosive bat of Rick Stockhausen who belted a three-run homer and collected 5 RBIs on 3 hits. Galbreath settled down this time to allow just 2 runs on the first no-hitter of the 1973 season. He added eight K's to balance out his 9 free passes. Bob Cook, hero of the first game, suffered the loss for the Submarines.

Family Slips By Tough Rebels, Card Second Straight Victory

The Coming of the Chief combined with The Coming of the Monsoon Season canceled many a contest on drenched Button Field this past week, but right in accordance with a dubious schedule, the second Aaron softball game was somehow played. The featured contestants were Frank Finetto's Family, fresh and confident from their mobbing of Morgan's Marauders, and the untried and unproven team of John Ireland's Rebels.

Both teams have their experienced players, and both teams have their rookies. One of the league's most experienced players, however, was denied a contract because of his advanced age. Ageing utility-player Jim Beaver will not be playing Aaron Ball this season, to the detriment of the league.

The Rebels drew home team, so The Family came to the plate first. Pitcher Scott McMinn lead off the game with a single, followed by Pete Wetherbee, Mark Schiewetz, John Gill, and Tim Harrison, who did the same. Chris McGinnis walked and Chris Yardley had a double in the inning, and before the inning was over, the Family had batted around and tallied six times, for what was a seemingly insurmountable lead.

But in the bottom of the first, the Rebels rebelled against pitcher McMinn, and scored three runs. Bruce Benua lead off with a walk, and pitcher Jack Hexum followed with a double. Benua was cut down at third on the two-bagger, but the next batter, Dave Durell, smashed a double of his own to score Hexum from second.

Cleanup man Kent Wallingford popped out, but captain-first baseman John Ireland slammed a triple to score Durell. Henry "Hank Aaron" Hauser followed Ireland with a single, scoring the captain. So before they went out onto the field, the Rebels had done two things: cut down a towering six run lead to a reachable three run lead, and proven that they could compete with the powerful Family.

The Family bided its time in the second, as Hexum settled down and allowed only one baserunner. The Rebel guns were also silenced in that inning, as they went down in order.

The Family suffered a similar embarrassment, that is, going down one-two-three, in the top of the third. But the Rebels moved in their half of the inning. They scored an additional duo of runs, by virtue of Dave Durell's second hit of the day (he had four in the game), a booming triple, and singles by Wallingford and Hexum.

Both teams were blanked in the fourth, and The Family managed only one baserunner in the top of the fifth. In the bottom of that inning, however, the Rebels wiped out the Family's one run lead and took the lead themselves by scoring twice. Captain Ireland's second extra base hit, this time a double, sparked the rally. Hammerin' Hank Hauser also pitched in with a single.

The Family discovered that it was behind for the first time in the game. So in the top of the sixth, they tied it up on two Hexum walks and a bunt single by McMinn. The Rebels couldn't break the tie in the bottom half of the inning.

Mark Schiewetz, who had relieved McMinn in the fifth, coming in to pitch from his first base position which McMinn then occupied, led off the seventh and final inning by reaching on an error. John Gill then slammed a triple, scoring Schiewetz, and scored himself on Tim Harrison's single. George Pierce added a single, and the Family had a two run lead.

A tough Schiewetz finished off the Rebels for good in the last of the seventh, allowing but one hit and striking out a batter. Thusly, then, did the Family notch their second victory in two outings.

Weekend Split

Contrary to the ridiculous statement at the end of last week's counselor softball-series article, the senior counselors have won again and they didn't have to wait long to do it. They won the Sat. night game of the weekend double-header by a score of 4-3. They wasted no time and scored a run in the top of the first inning on successive hits by Mark Standen, Brian Birch, and Pete Belskis. The JC's got three runs of their own in the bottom of the first on two hits and three SC errors. Ahead three to one, the JC's followed the first inning with eight scoreless innings, five of them "three up and three down." The SC's meanwhile, scored two more runs in the third inning on a double by KC Morrin, a single by BA, a sacrifice by Mark Standen, and another single by Brian Birch. The winning run came in the seventh inning when BA, collecting his third hit of the game, singles in Mark Hosket.

The Seniors looked very tough again on Sunday night as they held the JC's to seven more scoreless innings while scoring three runs themselves. However, disaster struck in the last two innings. Well-timed hits, combined with several costly errors which have plagued the SC's during all three games so far, provided three runs in the eighth inning and one more in the ninth. Holding the SC's scoreless in the bottom of the ninth gave the JC's the win by the same score they had been defeated by the night before.

The series now stands two games to one in favor of the JC's. Both games this past weekend were close and well-played. The remainder of the series looks to be much the same. The big surprise so far this season is BA who is now playing for the SC's. Not only has he added mound strength to the seniors, but he is batting a sizzling .500 (second only to Pete Belskis' .545 right now), and has collected the first RBI that he can remember (and that was a game-winner). He attributes his success to the sagacious planning of SC coaches Mark Standen, Pete Belskis, and Zeke in giving him the leadoff spot in the batting order. The fans are still wondering one thing though—when are they going to see his "power to left."

Soccer

New Soccer Loop Opens; Kickers throb Hearts

Kawanhee saw its first official soccer match on July 5th. The Bobby Charlton Youth Soccer League has been formed and will play an eight game schedule. The three teams in the new league are Mark Schiewetz' Kawanhee Hearts, John Ireland's Weld City Kickers, and John Aldrich's Maine Arsenal. The first match was between the Hearts and the Kickers and was marked by venturesome play on both sides despite a lack of organization and positional sense which was painfully apparent at times. Much of the game was actually a study in aggressive defense and thwarted scoring opportunities; certainly both goalkeepers had their sparkling moments. Much of the midfield play was dominated by the redoubtable Mark Sengelman who proved that he is capable of scoring shots from long range; perhaps his only fault is a tendency to shoot impulsively rather than pass off or through to a forward striker. John Ireland was the outstanding halfback for the Kickers, but it was unclear whether he was a forward or a halfback through much of the game, and it is the opinion of this observer that this confused his strikers, Jack Hexum and Dana Gregory. Ireland also had a tendency to hold onto the ball and on at least two occasions was challenged by his younger brother, Will, who took the ball away from him (Will, ironically, also has a tendency to hold onto the ball while positional advantages are lost).

Hanna Canna

Both teams had their chances but the Kickers probably made better use of their talent than the Hearts did. The Kickers made obvious and creative use of their wings; this finally resulted in a resolution to the 0-0 stalemate. In the final two minutes of play, Lorenzo Baker, who had started the game as a fullback, quickly moved to a threatening position in mid-field, fed a perfect pass to Sherman Hanna on the right wing, and then watched with satisfaction as the veteran Bexley forward drove a low, accurate shot past goalkeeper Miller. The final whistle sounded after a final attempt by the Hearts who were so ably led by their Captain, Mark Schiewetz. The game was somewhat unevenly whistled by officials Fritz Monroe and K. C. Morrin under drizzling skies.

Both teams were without valuable veterans; the Hearts were without Tim and Jim Keny while the Kickers lacked Mike Harrison.

Maine Arsenal Outgunned By Hearts 2-1

It was July 10 in the afternoon. A pleasant day. Aldrich had gone sailing as is his wont, but he had, at approximately 3:45 P.M., gotten himself sadly becalmed down the lake. His team's match against Kawanhee Hearts got under way at 4:00 P.M., as scheduled, but without the spirited halfback from Bexley, who was still looking for the wind. In his absence John Gill, a talented halfback from Landon took over; he did a creditable job but his side still suffered from lack of organization. Hearts scored early on a defensive miscue in front of the Arsenal goal; Keeper Duncan came out too quickly and collided with his own fullback, John McDonald as Hearts striker John Postlewaite fired a perfectly placed shot to the right side of the goal. By the time Aldrich had located a zephyr to tack in on, Jose Margarida had scored again for the Hearts on a thirty-yard gem (this time off McDonald—Duncan moved to fullback and later to center forward) which was the best shot of the game and proved that Sengelman was not the only man on the side with a powerful foot. Aldrich arrived just as Gill was preparing to take a penalty against Schiewetz, and he watched as Schiewetz capably deflected the shot giving away a corner kick instead of a goal.

Canny Kenys

The real difference in the sides, however, was the presence of the Canny Brothers Keny who returned to the Hearts lineup after missing the opener against the Kickers (a third Keny, sibling Geb, will arrive in August to play out a contract for the Ireland club). Tim started at wing and was able to create countless creative opportunities for the other liners, while Jim played an intelligent game at fullback stifling the Arsenal flurries again and again. His one moment of awkwardness did result in a John Duncan goal and a lift for the Arsenal battery, however. The game ended with the catch-up effort of Aldrich's mates who had a chance to tie it in the closing minutes, but couldn't.

Sailing

The Second Summer Series Regatta, July 7, 1973

The sails of the Kawanhee Yacht Club burst forth upon the bright, blue waters of Lake Webb as one of the best and most exciting days for sailing was upon us. At precisely 1400 hours, the Preparatory (White) flag was hoisted for the start of the tech dignities, the first of three classes which were racing in this the largest and most complex regatta so far this season. The other two classes were sunfish (private boats belonging to Martin Frey and Frank Finetto), and the two staunch Cape Cod Knockabouts, the "queens" of the Kawanhee Fleet.

In the first heat, Jim McDonald skippered his tech to victory with Tim Harrison, Will Ireland, and John Ireland following. Martin Frey defeated Jeff Morgan in the Sunfish, and John Aldrich in Sea Hawk defeated Frank Finetto in the Sea Gull.

The second heat saw John Ireland, Jim McDonald, Tim Harrison, and Will Ireland cross the finish line in that order in the techs. Martin Frey repeated his Sunfish victory over Jeff Morgan; however, Frank Finetto's Sea Hawk far outstripped the Gull in this heat.

In over all standings, in the techs, came Will Ireland with 17 points; Jim McDonald with 16; John Ireland, 14; and Tim Harrison, 13. In the Sunfish, first was Martin Frey with 14 points, and second, Jeff Morgan with 10. In the Cape Cod Knockabouts, John Aldrich defeated Frank Fin-

Kawanhee Inn Staff

LYDIA DETRICK, Delaware, Ohio, returns to the Inn for her fourth season as dietitian in charge of the dining room. A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, she is the mother of four. Lu Ann is at Arcadia, and John, Sam, and Drew are at Kawanhee with their father, John, who is Assistant Director and Head Counselor. Lydia replied, "Isn't living with John enough?" when asked about her hobbies, but added that she enjoys French cooking, swimming, and mountain climbing.

GREG RACKLIFFE, Farmington, Maine, is head chef at the Inn for his first year. When not stirring up delicious meals, he enjoys winter sports, especially skiing. He attended S.M.U.T.I.

ANN RACKLIFFE, originally from S. Portland, is the wife of head chef Greg, and is also spending her first summer at the Inn. She works as Mrs. Estabrook's secretary. She attended S.U. and U.M.F. and enjoys working on handcrafts as a hobby.

MARC LAMB, Arlington, Texas, is another newcomer this year. He is active in football, basketball, and track at Arlington High School, and also enjoys snorkeling. He washes pots and pans in the Inn kitchen while listening to music through his earphones.

KIM MERCHANT, Loving, New Mexico, is spending his fifth summer at the Inn. He is a student at Eastern New Mexico University, where he has earned two letters in baseball. He is a cabin boy for the Inn, garbageman for the camp, also personnel man in charge of communications.

DAVID ALEXANDER, Springfield, Ohio, is spending his 7th season at Kawanhee, and his 20th year at Lake Webb. He divides his time between teaching water skiing at camp and bartending at the Inn. He attends Wittenberg University. His wife, Nancy is assistant bartender, but he says his hobby is teetotaling. Dave and Nancy were just married on Mt. Blue Ledges on June 23, and claim to be the "first Kawanhee couple to live in a remodeled outhouse" — Woodshed Haven.

LOU YARDLEY, Naples, Florida, is spending her first summer as a housekeeper in the Inn. She attends Naples High School, and enjoys flying planes. Her parents, Beanie and Bill Yardley, are Camp Mother and Father, and her brother Chris is a camper in Wildcat Lodge.

MAUREEN MILLISON, Rumford, Maine, is a waitress for her first year at the Inn. She attends the University of Maine at Orono, and her hobbies are water and snow skiing.

POLLY VAN DEN HONERT, Pittsfield, Mass., returns to the Inn for her second year as a kitchen girl. She attends Boston University, and enjoys skiing, skating, sailing, and teaching swimming.

CANDY CRANE, Berwyn, Pa., is a newcomer to the Inn, working as a waitress. A student at Ohio Wesleyan University, she is a Lacrosse and Soccer statistician. Her hobbies are "zeke", skiing, sailing, and sewing. She spends her spare time looking for coydogs and being thrown in the lake with all her clothes on.
