GREYS FINISH FIRST

In a stunning last-minute reversal, the Grey team, lagging behind all season, surged ahead to win the summer camp competition. Scorekeeper B.A., master of suspense, brought the waiting crowd to its feet as he slowly divulged his secret. At the final revelation, the sunshine broke out on Chris Charyk's face and was still glowing after his team threw him in the lake. It was a hard loss for John Aldrich's Maroon team, who had captured the lead with the first tug-of-war and still held it two weeks ago.

The final score was close; Greys 40,573 and Maroons 40,004. Both teams deserve commendation for a fine effort, as do their excellent captains who demonstrated leadership and good sportsmanship.

Many parents attended the awards ceremony, held outside by the lake, and were rewarded by seeing their sons achieve special recognition. It was a high-point summer; 99 boys earned 400 points or more. Will Ireland topped everyone with 1438 points.

Busses, trucks, and cars loaded up the next morning for the exodus of most campers. Gradually all traces of human habitation will vanish and the forest animals will reclaim the area for the winter, lone observers of the silent snow-drifts.

HERB BIRCH PRESENTED WITH KAWANHEE HONOR AWARD

The Kawanhee Honor Award given in memory of such great sachems as Raymond C. Frank, "Dean" Ross Miller, Carl Elmore, Roy Nickerson, Arthur Keiffer, and Tom Ruhle was awarded to Herb Birch by Chief Kawanhee at the final awards assembly.

This award is a solid gold tie clasp with a genuine Indian arrowhead cemented to it. The arrowhead is emblazoned with the Kawanhee maroon K.

It was first given in 1971 to George R. Frank, Co-Founder of Kawanhee and again in 1972 to Leonard Taylor, Chef and Director of the Cuisine. George Frank has been a director of Kawanhee since it was founded in 1920. Leonard Taylor receives standing ovations ("We want the Chef!") almost every day for his craft in satisfying Kawanhee appetites.

Herb Birch has spent 30 years as a Kawanhee Staff Member. He is, literally, "Mr. Kawanhee". Without him Kawanhee would not be all that endears it to men and boys. In accepting the Kawanhee Honor Award, Herb received a standing ovation.

There are no set requirements, but to those Kawanheeans who knew and know the men mentioned above, it is enough to say that it is given for them.

— Ed Chace

As darkness fell over the Webb Lake Valley, several of our band climbed to the top of the ridge to look at Lake Webb shimmering in the moonlight. It was a sight which truly filled us with a great respect for the valley and the mountain. The Lake seemed to be a living sapphire that constantly changed hues and dimensions as it winked at its small observers high up on the slopes of Tumbledown. It was a moment to treasure for a lifetime.

Soon, weariness overcame us, and we trudged off to our sleeping bags for the welcome rest that comes after the accomplishment of some difficult and noble goal.

The rays of the sun were hardly opening into the woods when we arose and began cooking breakfast. In spite of our small single burner, the meal proved to be so good that we continued to cook bacon and John Aldrich's famed French toast far into the morning. We packed up, cleaned up the area as best we could (shocked by what some other people had left), and headed off to scale the east peak of the mountain.

From the top of the East Peak, we took our last glimpse of the majestic views before plunging into the col to the Loop Trail. The top of this trail is quite steep, and the boys found it very exciting to climb down over the rocks. The Lemon Squeeze required us to dismount our packs and pass them through before following afterward. It took some time to get thirteen packs and people through the narrow opening and down the iron rungs inside the squeeze. The remainder of the descent was rather steep, but not so spectacular. After quite a while, we arrived on Junction Plateau where the Loop Trail joins the Chimney Trail. Here we finished off the rest of our bread and then ended the climb, passing Dean Miller's rock at the base of the mountain.

Our late breakfast and our extra stops made us about an hour late to our rendezvous with Big John. However, after not finding us at the Brook Trail, he returned, and we climbed into his Scout and Tom Taylor's VW. We were too late for lunch at the camp, so we were treated to sandwiches at the Inn.

The hardy traversers of the mountain tops were Henry Blau, Pedro Borras, Tom Erchinger, Jim Haas, Pedro Iturrequi, Eric Jensen, Hector Jimenez, Jim LeBlond, Brian Long, Steve Neri, William Warren, John Aldrich, and Tom Taylor.

KAWANHEEANS CONQUER KATAHDIN

Early Friday, August 2nd, twenty-one Kawanheeans set out for Baxter State Park to climb Mt. Katahdin. We stopped outside Skowhegan along the Kennebec River, where we saw part of the Arnold Trail. Then we travelled on to Old Town. After our peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, we visited the Old Town Canoe factory showroom. The boys were intrigued with the beautiful canoes and shocked at the beautiful prices.

We entered Baxter Park and set up camp at Avalanche Field on the beautiful Avalanche stream. Bill Proctor soon had the boys putting up tents, flies, and a fire. Soon we could detect potatoes frying and hamburgers being grilled. Chef Proctor called "Come and get it." After a delicious main course of hamburgers, fried potatoes, and onions, we were greeted with the surprise of the day — Lorenzo Baker's homemade strawberry shortcake. After dinner, several of us visited Sandy Sheen Pond to watch a cow moose feeding. Later we enjoyed a swim in the ice cold water of Avalanche Stream. Soon all was quiet except the tent of John Tulloss and John Detrick were visited by a moose.

At dawn on Saturday, the camp stirred as the fire was brought back to life and bacon began merrily cooking. The French toast was grilled and topped with Bill Proctor's special Blueberry Syrup. Late sleepers Will Ireland and John Duncan finally appeared, and we were all ready to leave by 7:30.

The day was overcast with a 60% chance of rain. The forecast proved correct; we had rain for almost all of the 3½ miles of the trail to Chimney Pond. When we reached the end of the trail, the rangers told us we couldn't climb any further because the trails were too wet. But we waited, and soon received the "green light" to begin the challenging and difficult Cathedral Trail. We climbed hand-over-hand, enjoying every glistening minute, and reached Baxter Peak exhausted and happy.

At the beginning of the Appalachian Trail we met Warren Doyle who was celebrating the first anniversary of his own completion of the entire Trail — 2,035 miles in 66½ days, a record time. (In 1973, Mr. McCleave had met Doyle on the Trail in Virginia).

Soon, we left Baxter Peak and headed for South Peak, then on to the dangerous Knife's-Edge, then over and through the Eye of the Needle to Pamola Mt. Here we joined the Dudley Trail, which is almost perpendicular. We could look down and see Chimney Pond directly beneath us. On we travelled, down, down, down. All of us were tired, thirsty, and a bit timid. Then what should appear but a gushing cold mountain stream right beside our trail. Everyone enjoyed a refreshing drink before hiking on to Chimney Pond. Here we rested and waited for Herb Birch and the rear guard of Amy Jordan, Chuck Hoffine, and "Walrus" Means. We arrived back at Avalanche Field camp about 7:30 after almost twelve hours of hiking, having covered 14½ miles of the most difficult mountain climbing in New England. Every boy on the trip proved himself a man; never once did we hear a complaint.

The hikers were Bob Brooks, Andy Burris, John Detrick, Will Ireland, Dan Jackson, Jeff Luce, Dave Minus, Dave Oster, Richard Popp, Chris Poulton, Dionisio Trigo, Jim Knepshield, John Duncan, John Tulloss. The leaders were Herb Birch, Chuck Hoffhine, Bill Proctor, Lorenzo Baker, Amy Jordan, Doug Means, and Rev. Stan McCleave.

CAMPERS CAN TELL TIME

The much-needed clock in the center of camp was donated by Henry (Butch) O'Neill, Jr., a former camper, counselor, and enthusiastic alumnus of Kawanhee. Mr. O'Neill is president of Beverage Management in Columbus, Ohio. He just completed a two-week vacation at the Inn with three of his four children, two of whom are potential Kawanhee campers. The staff and campers appreciate his generosity and admire his ingenuity in delivering the enormous timepiece.

Since the accompanying photograph was taken, Candy Zechiel, camp mother, has painted Chief Kawanhee in full headdress on the face of the clock.

BLACK POWER WINS K.L.L. TITLE

The 1974 Kawanhee Little League ended this year with the Black Power winning the best of three camp series two games to one.

It was only the second time in Kawanhee history that the regular-season second place finisher upended the regular season champions.

Le Rouge Hoz, behind regular season M.V.P. Dave Erchinger, dominated play in the first game, scoring 17 runs through six innings. The Hoz managed two doubles and a triple, supplied by batting mates Dave Erchinger and Frank DiGiacomo. The final score was Hoz 17, Black Power 8.

Down by one game, the Power displayed an incredible hitting barrage to even up the series at one apiece. John White led all hitters with an impressive four-for-four day which included two homeruns and eight RBI's. Tom Erchinger, ace pitcher, had pinpoint control in his six inning performance.

Defensively, Brian Long, the Black's Centerfielder, made a couple of spectacular plays that provided the polish to the 18-3 victory.

The third game saw the Erchinger Bros. go at it again. The last time these two pitchers went at it, Dave came out the winner. The story changed, however. Poised and confident, Tom hurled a five hitter. Backing him up, The Power pushed across 17 runs and 14 hits.

Leading the assault were Peter Carnahan, who had three hits including a double, and Hector Jimenez, with two hits and a triple.

With the victory, The Black Power became the 1974 Kawanhee Little League Champions.

KAWANHEE HANK AARON LEAGUE FINAL REPORT

The last six games of 1974 brought exciting, high scoring to Chip Button Memorial Field as the Kawanhee Hank Aaron League wound its way to a dramatic conclusion.

Yale's Ales 22, Scotland Yardleys 9

The Yardleys were without Tom West, their number one pitcher, again, and this time interim hurler Jeff Sengelmann could not fill his shoes. He walked eight batters, gave up 15 hits, and saw no daylight at all as the Yale's Ales swamped him for 22 runs, ten in the first two innings.

The Yard managed to draw first blood, tallying twice in the top of the first inning to take a brief 2-0 lead. But in the bottom of that inning, the first five Ales to come up to bat reached safely and eventually scored, and the Yardleys were never close again.

Despite their total of 22 runs, the Ales had no extra-base hits. Dana Gregory, new addition Don Long, and "And Devotion" Burris collected three hits apiece in the winning effort.

Long was picked up by the Ales, who were at the time 1-3, in the mid-season draft. He proved to be an invaluable addition to the Ale squad.

Pitcher/captain Steve Yale showed excellent control, allowing only eight hits, two walks, and no earned runs.

Yale's Ales 22, McDonald's Farm 3

It was a Yale day all the way, particularly for captain Steve, who watched his team rocked into contention with a 22-3 smashing of the suddenly hapless McDonald's Farm.

Steve stretched his pitching prowess into two consecutive games by allowing a mere eight hits, walking no one, and letting only one earned run cross the plate, the first in his last thirteen innings pitched. He also had a good day at the plate — 2 for 5 — which has been a rarity for him this year.

The Farm never really had a chance, as the Ales struck for three runs in the first and four more in the second. They scored in every frame but the third.

Boomer Markarian was the hitting star, collecting four safeties in six plate appearances. Don Long got his three hits, along with Pete Mykrantz and Will Ireland. Mykrantz and Long had doubles, and Dana Gregory knocked a triple. The victory made the Ales 3-3, while knocking the Farm into the basement with a 2-4 record. This put them only a game back of the Scotland Yardleys, who led the League with a 4-2 pace.

Yale's Ales 24, McDonald's Farm 21

In their second consecutive matchup, the Yale's Ales and McDonald's Farm played a much closer, high scoring game which saw the upsurging Ales come out on top once again, 24-21. This raised the Ales' run production in their last three games to an almost unbelievable 68.

The Farm crossed the plate five times in the first, and seemed a threat to run away with the game and the Ales' pennant hopes. But in the bottom of the first, the Ales struck back, scoring eight runs, taking advantage of McDonald moundsman Mark Schiewetz's early control problems and some Farm mishaps.

The Farm was helpless and runless in the second, but the Ales notched four more runs and appeared to have the game under control with a 12-5 lead after two frames. But in the top of the third, the Farm came back and scored nine times to go ahead 14-12. Paul Montgomery contributed a single and a double in the inning, scoring twice. He was three for four on the day.

The Ales fought back in the third to retake the lead, scoring six runs and upping their half of the score to 18, and the Farm was unable to catch them as they added six more in the remaining four frames.

Don Long added his customary three hits to the winning effort, and Boomer Markarian matched that total with three of his own. Dana Gregory had a double and a triple.

The Farm outhit the Ales 19-17, getting three-hit performances from Paul Montgomery, Mouse Chapman, and Phil Hall. Hall also had a triple.

Nobody knows what happened to Steve Yale's former pitching brilliance. He allowed 11 earned runs and walked five. Still, he upped his pitching record and his team's record to 4-3, and the Ales were suddenly a challenger for the Aaron pennant.

Scotland Yardleys 21, McDonald's Farm 4

The Yardleys, apparently unworried by the sudden upsurge of the Yale's Ales, outhit, outfielded, and generally outplayed the suddenly hapless McDonald's Farm in a four inning, 21-4 rout that was called early out of mercy.

The Yardleys were held scoreless in the first two frames by Farm pitcher Mark Schiewetz, who appeared to be on his way to an unprecedented shutout. The Farm scored twice in their half of the first, on a pair of triples by Schiewetz and captain Jim McDonald, plus a Kent Wallingford sacrifice fly.

But in the top of the third, the Yardleys flexed their muscles. Rick Stockhausen led off the inning by reaching on an error, and eventually scored along with the next eight batters to follow him.

Schiewetz watched in dismay as his defense crumbled around him, committing six errors in the inning. The Yardleys accomplished the nine run inning on only four hits.

But the worst was yet to come. The Farm managed a feeble two more runs in the bottom of the third, and, as Schiewetz, McDonald, and company looked on in disbelief, the Yardleys scored nine more consecutive runs and a total of twelve to compile an incredible total of 21 runs in two innings. The Farm committed four more errors, and the dilapidated defense saw nine hits pass through them, including a double and a home run by Jeff Morgan — all in the fourth inning.

In the bottom of the fourth, the Farm managed but one single by Doug Rechsteiner, and were quickly put down. Then the game was called, and the Farm walked back to their cabins in defeat, finding nothing funny in their sudden and overpowering demise.

For the Yard, Pete Leslie and Jeff Morgan had three hits apiece, and Chris Yardley contributed two to his team's winning effort.

Yale's Ales 13, Scotland Yardleys 10

And so it was that, on August 14, 1974, the Yale's Ales and Scotland Yardleys came into the last regular season game with 4-3 and 5-2 records, respectively. If the Yard was victorious, the season was over. But if the Ales could pull out a third win over the Yardleys, the season would be extended a game to determine the true Hank Aaron champion.

The Ales showed they meant business in the first by scoring five times on two hits, one a Pete Mykrantz homer. Pitcher Tom West, who came into the game undefeated and virtually untouched, walked three batters in the inning.

But the Yardleys were accustomed to being down, and in the bottom of the first struck back with six runs to take the lead. West himself contributed a double, Dave Jackson and Jeff Morgan singled, and Tom Evans cracked the second homer of the game. Pete Leslie and Chris Yardley finished the inning with RBI singles, back to back.

In the second, the Ales climbed on top again with three runs, once again taking advantage of West's early control problems and two Yard errors. They did not get a hit in the inning.

This made the score eight to six in favor of the Ales, but in the bottom of the second the Yardleys tied it up with two more runs on a double by Jackson, a Leslie single, and an Ale error. This made the score after 2, eight all.

Both teams were runless in the third, adding to the suspense, but the Ales put the game out of Yardley reach in the fourth with three more tallies on four hits.

In the bottom of the sixth, the Yardleys staged a small rally with two runs on a Yardley double and a Pete Leslie triple. After six, the score stood at Ales 11, Yardleys 10. But, in the top of the seventh and final inning, with Mike Haynes at first and two outs, Dana Gregory stepped up and smashed a dramatic two run homer to seal the victory for the Ales and extend the season by one game — the all-important championship game, which was played the next day — August 15th.

Kawanhee Hank Aaron League Championship Game

Chip Button Memorial Field has seen many a championship softball game since it was converted to its present use from a potato field in 1920, and there have been many a close and hard-fought contest there. On August 15th, 1974, in true Kawanhee sports tradition, the entire summer's softball efforts in the Hank Aaron League had boiled down to one game. One game for the Hank Aaron pennant, one game for the league championship.

The two teams, Scotland Yardleys and Yale's Ales, having left McDonald's Farm in the wake of their equally victorious seasons, squared off on that sunny Thursday, both with the knowledge that their seasons rested on the result of this game.

Both came into the game with 5-3 marks, and if there was a favorite to be picked, the oddsmakers had their money on the Yale's Ales. In the previous four games between the two, the Ales had been victorious three times to one win for the Yard. Still, at no time had there been this much pressure on the Ales, particularly on pitcher/captain Steve Yale, who had had an up-and-down season and was unpredictable. Yardley moundsman Tom West had been beaten only once — the day before — and that was a close game.

The Ales struck first, with three runs in the first inning. Dana Gregory started it off with a single, and Pete Mykrantz and Don Long followed him with singles of their own. Boomer Markarian's sacrifice fly brought in Long and the Ales were ahead 3-0.

But the Scotland Yardleys, as they are accustomed to doing, bounced back for three runs of their own in the bottom of the first. Three consecutive singles by Rick Stockhausen, Dave Jackson, and Tom Evans plus two Ale errors did the trick.

Neither team scored in the next two frames, leaving the score 3-3 after three. In the bottom of the fourth, however, the Yard tallied twice on a leadoff homer by captain Chris and two more Ale mishaps to pull ahead 5-3.

After a scoreless fifth, the Yardleys looked to be the winners if West and their defense could hang on. But in the top of the sixth, Will Ireland reached on an error. After Dana Gregory had flied out, Pete Mykrantz and Don Long lashed back-to-back singles and Boomer Markarian came through with a double. When the dust had cleared, the Ales were on top, 6-5.

Chris Yardley led off the bottom of the sixth with a single, and Jeff Sengelmann followed him with what looked like a sure base-hit line drive to the left side of the infield. But shortstop Don Long — perhaps the key to the Ales' late season success — nabbed the drive and whipped it to first, catching Yardley off guard and off the base for a double play.

Jeff Morgan and Chris Poulton tried to relight the doused rally with back to back singles, but Bob Erchinger flied out to end the inning without a score for the Yardleys.

In the top of the seventh, captain Steve Yale tried to add some insurance but struck out, and Dave Van Houten flied out. Then the team rallied again, opening their lead to a five-run insurance as Will Ireland singled, Dana Gregory doubled, Pete Mykrantz walked, and, you guessed it . . . Don Long knocked them in with a double. Boomer followed with a single which made it a four run Ale inning.

And so, for the Yardleys, the whole season came down to the last half of the last inning of the last game. They were down 10-5, and were facing a suddenly tough Steve Yale. But they had the top of the order — Rick Stockhausen — coming up, and a game is never over until the final out.

But the Yardleys were helpless, and managed only one baserunner in the seventh, Tom Evans — who reached on an error. Steve Yale set down the side, and his team was the champions — the pennant winners — the best in the Hank Aaron League.

Don Long and Boomer Markarian were the heros of the day, with six hits between them — Boomer had a single, a double, and another of his almost-a-homer triples which saw him thrown out trying to reach the plate. Long had two singles and a double. Dana Gregory was two for four with a double, and Pete Mykrantz also collected two hits.

So, until next year, Chip Button Memorial Field has its Aaron champion — Yale's Ales.

KAWANHEE BASKETBALL LEAGUE

Before a sell-out crowd at Kawanhee Garden, the Belskis's Big Shots went for their fifth straight victory against the B.A. Bounders. The game was one of the closest of the summer and it was also the hottest.

The Big Shots won the game 56-53 in two overtime periods. The Bounders played their hearts out and actually should have won the game, but the Big Shots, being the team they are, won the game by three.

Pete Belskis led all scorers with 22 points for the winners, and was backed strongly by Fritz "The Cat" Monroe and Tim Keny, who had 13 and 10 points. Dave Alexander led the losers with 20 points and played an outstanding game. He's the reason why the Bounders have played so well in their last three games. The only trouble is that they have lost two of the three by a few points, which has really hurt them in the standings.

Dave was backed by B.A., Zeke, and O.J. who had 11 points each.

The Belskis's Big Shots finished the season with a 6-0 record as they beat Morgan's and Shevy's Shooters 75-57. They are only the second team in K.B.L. history that has gone through the regular season undefeated. The B.A. Bounders were the first, and Pete Belskis was on that team.

Pete Belskis had 29 points for the winners and was backed strongly by John Ireland who had 20. Fritz "The Cat" Monroe and Tim Keny added 14 and 12 points to round out the scoring.

Mark Schiewetz led the losers with 29 points and he was backed by Jeff Morgan and Bako who had 16 and 12 points.

The B.A. Bounders and Standen's Stars went at it in a game which meant a lot to both teams. If the Stars won the game, they could claim the other playoff spot. If the Bounders won, it would keep their hopes alive for a playoff spot.

It was a close game and the Stars won 55-47 to clinch the other playoff spot, which set up the two out of three championship series between the Stars and the Big Shots.

Mike "The Pearl" Standen led all scorers with 20 points. He was backed by Wally who had 19 and Pete Mykrantz who had 10. Dave Alexander played another great game at both ends of the court and had 11 points for the winners. Zeke, also playing an outstanding game, led the losers with 16 points. The Altmaier brothers (B.A. and O.J.) each added 10 to round out the scoring and their season.

The last game of the regular season was played between The Standen's Stars and Morgan's and Shevy's Shooters. The game didn't mean anything as far as playoffs went, but it was one of the best games of the year.

The Stars won it 59-58 but were trailing most of the game. The Shooters had the last shot of the game, but Mark Schiewetz missed it from the corner with a second on the clock.

Wally led the winners with 23 points and was backed by Mike "The Pearl" Standen and Pete "The No Tennis" Mykrantz who had 15 and 14 points. Mark Schiewetz led all scorers with 36 points for the losers.

The Big Shots Win it in Two

The first championship game was played between the Standen's Stars and Belskis's Big Shots before Kawanhee Garden's biggest crowd ever. The Big Shots jumped off to a big lead and led at halftime 42-26. — The Big Shot himself had 28 points at halftime.

In the second half, the Stars couldn't miss, and, before the Big Shots knew it, the game was close. In the last ten minutes, the lead went back and forth. The Big Shots made a last minute basket to win the game 56-55.

Pete Belskis had 42 points for the winners to lead all scorers. Wally led the losers with 22 points and was backed by Mike "The Pearl" Standen who had 20 points.

The second championship game was also won by the Belskis's Big Shots, 52-40, so they won the series in two games. This entitles them to the "Jim Duffey Memorial Trophy" which means they are world champions for Kawanhee basketball in 1974.

Pete Belskis led all scorers for the winners with 27 points and was backed by Tim Keny who had 14. Fritz "The Cat" Monroe played another outstanding game as Kawanhee's all-around best player. This was Fritz's third straight championship along with captain Pete.

Mike "The Pearl" Standen led the losers with 15 and he was backed by Wally, Mark Sengelmann, and Mez who had 11, 9, and 6 respectively.

K.B.L. JR'S REPORT

An exciting game was played between McDonald's Quarter-Pounders and Stockhausen's Stockade. The game was close most of the way, but the Quarter-Pounders came through in the end and won the game 32-23. This meant that both The Jackson Five and the Quarter-Pounders clinched a place in the K.B.L. Jr's Championship Game which was played in the last week of camp, the winner receiving the "Shorty Wetherbee Memorial Trophy."

Pete Van Leer led all scorers for the winners with 18 points and he was backed by Jeff "The Mouth" Sengelmann who had 10 points. Rick Stockhausen had 16 points for the losers and played an outstanding game.

The last game of the K.B.L. Jr. season was played between The Jackson Five and McDonald's Quarter-Pounders. Both teams had already clinched a playoff spot and the game meant the winner would win the league championship.

The Jackson Five won the game 37-28 to win it all. They led most of the game and really had a big lead in the first half. But the Quarter-Pounders fought back and at one time trailed by just one point.

Dave Jackson led all scorers with 22 points for the winners and played an outstanding game. Jim McDonald led the losers with 16 points and was backed by Jeff Sengelmann who had six.

Jackson Five Eat The Quarter-Pounders Alive

The K.B.L. Jr. game was played between McDonald's Quarter-Pounders and The Jackson Five before a packed crowd at the Kawanhee Garden. The Jackson Five really had a feed with the Quarter-Pounders and won the game easily 46-16 to win the K.B.L. Jr. championship. This entitles them to the "Shorty Wetherbee Memorial Trophy" given to the champion of the K.B.L. Junior for 1974.

Dave Jackson and Boomer Markarian led all scorers with 14 points apiece for the winners. They were backed by Dave Jordan and Greg Allen who had 11 and 7 points. Jim McDonald led the losers with 10 points.

COUNSELORS SERIES

In the eighth counselor softball game of the season, the seniors overpowered the juniors with twenty hits and fourteen runs to go up six games to two in the overall series.

The JC's started off with a run in the top of the first which was matched by the SC's in the bottom of the first. After a scoreless second inning and top of the third, the seniors exploded for four runs on six hits, five of them consecutively. The JC's came right back in the top of the fourth with three runs of their own to stay within one run of the SC's. However the SC's continued to hit in their half of the fourth getting four more runs putting the game out of reach. The JC's added one more and the SC's five more making the final score 14-5. With only four more scheduled counselor games, the JC's found themslves with their backs to the wall; they would have to win all four games to tie.

August third saw the last of the JC-SC games for the 1974 season as the senior counselors managed to slip by a determined but injury-ridden JC team to put the series out of reach. B.A., the JC star pitcher did not play the game as he injured his leg only that morning in a KBL basketball game. Mike Standen, who had injured his wrist early in the week, was playing but could only use one hand, as the other one had to be taped securely to his chest to avoid excessive strain. Despite his injury, Mike Standen played a very effective center field for the JC's, making no errors, nor allowing extra bases on balls hit to him. Don Long filled in at short for Standen and Nick Gill played third, providing a strong left side. The juniors went out in front with a run in the first on a double by Fritz and a single by Don Long. The seniors tied it up in the second on a single by O.J. Altmaier, and a triple by Bruce Birch. The JC's went ahead by two with a run in the third and another in the fourth. The SC's stayed close with a run of their own in the fourth. The SC's took the lead for the first time in the game in the seventh inning when they scored two runs. They got two more in the eighth to lead 6-3 going into the last inning. The JC's started to rally in the ninth but it fell short producing only one run, making the final score 6-4. This made the series score 7-2 in games in favor of the seniors.

All-Stars Travel to Rumford

July 28th the Kawanhee All-Stars traveled to Rumford along with 100 campers to take on the Rumford Eagles on their home field. The trip necessitated a caravan of vehicles which included Pete Draggon's bus, the "Bouncing Buggy," and numerous cars. The campers completely filled the stands on one side of the field. After both teams had taken some fielding and batting practice, the game began. The All-Stars couldn't get anything going in the top of the first, but they impressed the fans with strong defensive play getting the Eagles out one-two-three in the bottom of the first. Zeke led off the second for the All-Stars, and after two strikes, got the first hit of the game lacing a double to left field. He was followed by three successive singles by Don Long, Billy Proctor, and Fritz Monroe. Nick Gill walked, Mike Standen doubled, and after two fly-outs, Pete Belskis came to bat and made it all the way home on a single and errors. Zeke then came to bat for the second time that inning and sent the center fielder to the fence with a long drive that was caught for the third out. By that time however, the score was 7-0. The Eagles jumped right back in the game in their half of the second with a walk and three doubles and an error to produce four runs. After a scoreless third inning, the All-Stars scored in each of the last four innings making a total of sixteen runs. The Eagles, got three more in the fifth and one in the seventh to make the final score 16-8. With two outs in the seventh, the Eagles looked as if they might rally. With two men on base P. Williams hit a long drive to center field, but O.J. Altmaier, former winner of the Golden Glove award made a spectacular catch to end the game.

SIXTH REGATTA OF THE 1974 SUMMER SERIES MONDAY, AUGUST 5, 1974

This Regatta was begun at 4:25 in the afternoon and was postponed after the first race by a squall from the Gap. It was continued after supper in light varying winds from the direction of Spruce and Walker Mountains when the remaining three races were run.

Sailing for the Greys were teams consisting of Paul Montgomery and Henry Blau, and David Van Houten and Charles Ward. The Maroons provided David Jordan and Greg Allen, and Doug Rechsteiner and Jim Haas to defend the Maroon lead in the Summer Series. In the First Race at 4:25, Rechsteiner got a good start and maintained his lead throughout the race. Jordan pulled in a second, and Montgomery came in third. Van Houten was disqualified after being protested by Montgomery on a leeward over windward situation.

After supper and the squall, the Second Race found Jordan now with the good start and a heavy lead. He came in first with Van Houten, Rechsteiner, and Montgomery following. The Third Race in the very light winds found Rechsteiner again in the lead, followed by Jordan, Montgomery, and Van Houten. The Fourth Race ended in the following order: Montgomery, Jordan, Rechsteiner, Van Houten. The final places and points were: First, Doug Rechsteiner with 17 points; Second, Dave Jordan with 13 points; Third, Paul Montgomery with 12 points; and Fourth, Dave Van Houten with 8 points.

LAST WEEK OF CAMP SAILING EXCITEMENT

The last week of Camp saw the conclusion of the Summer Series and Bass Rock Cup Regattas and the holding of the K.Y.C. Final Regatta to determine 1974's Camp Champion. The seventh regatta of the K.Y.C.'s Summer Series was held on Saturday, August 10th, and was one more race won by the sailing Maroons. Rick Stockhausen was disqualified from two races but came in first and second in the other two. Rick Seeley also was disqualified from one race, but came in with two firsts and a second to capture first place overall. Si Dunkle with a first, a second and two thirds came in second, and Mark Chapman won honors for coming in last in all four races. This regatta concluded the Summer Series Grey-Maroon Team Racing for the Kawanhee Yacht Club's 1974 Season. The Maroons won five regattas for 149 points, and the Greys won two regattas for 129 points. The Maroons earned 150 extra points for winning, so the final score for the 1974 K.Y.C. Summer Series was Maroons: 299, Greys: 129.

The Third and Final Heat of the Bass Rock Cup Match Race was held on Wednesday, August 14th to the tune of a good Gap Wind. This Race, held in the Camp's large 18-foot Cape Cod Knockabouts, is the pinnacle race of the K.Y.C. The winner of this "America's Cup-type" race earns 500 points for his team, and the loser, true to cup racing, gets only the memories. On this good day for sailing, with the teams matched with one win apiece, the competition was high-spirited. John Ireland started first and maintained the lead although it appeared, as the boats approached Bass Rock, that the Gull's Grey skipper, Frank Finetto would catch him. However, "Fast" Frankie was not quite fast enough, and John rounded Bass Rock and headed on a close haul to Bowley Rock the second mark of the Match Races. Maroon Ireland continued to lead and crossed the finish line about 2 minutes before the Grey boat. Thus, although the Sea Gull had won the two previous races, the Sea Hawk won the crucial one that brought 500 points to the Maroon score.

The crews sailing for the Maroons were Rick Stockhausen, John Tulloss, and Will Ireland. For the Greys, Ken Yavis, Si Dunkle, and John Detrick sailed.

The Kawanhee Yacht Club Final Regatta for 1974 got under "weigh" on August 8th. Rick Stockhausen, the favorite, won it with 18 points. Second was Rick Seeley, who has impressed the sailing staff with his abilities this summer, came in second with 14. Eric "the Red" Jensen earned 8 points for third place, and Paul Montgomery was awarded fourth place for no points due to a broken rudder. Stockhausen gained the right to sail in the Finals.

The Second Heat, on August 9th was won by Oscar Shamamian with 13 points. Second was Shields "Chickcharnie" Ferber with 10 points. Third was Mike Haynes with 7 points. Shamamian won the laurels and a place in the Finals.

On August 12th, the Third Heat was won by Will Ireland with 15 points. "Winning Wynn" Parrish took second place with 8 points, and Mark Bauer scored third with 7. Si Dunkle thought the wind was not right for him, so he forfeited the race. The "luck" of Ireland added to some pluck, won for Will the chance to sail in the Finals.

The Final Heat of the Preliminaries on August 13th found Doug Rechsteiner first with 22 points; Steve Neri, second with 17 points; Phil Hall, third with 11 points; and Dave Jordan, fourth with 10 points. Rechsteiner thus found a ticket to the Finals.

The Finals of the K.Y.C. Championship Final Regatta took place on Wednesday, August 14, 1974. The wind came up fresh from the Gap and it was a perfect day to hold the Finals in contrast to the drifting days which had made the Preliminaries somewhat difficult and unpopular. The Finals were very exciting with Stockhausen and Ireland battling over firsts and seconds. Stockhausen got two firsts, a second, and a third; Ireland got three seconds and a third. Shamamian gained two thirds and two fourths; and Rechsteiner picking up some bad luck, had to settle for breakdown points in the first and fourth race. In the first, a rudder slide broke, and in the fourth, his rudder broke in half. He gained a third and a first in the other two races. The Final Results were posted with Stockhausen first with 18 points, Ireland second with 17 points, Rechsteiner third with 15 points, and Shamamian fourth with 9 points. It was a very close race and a very fitting way to close the summer's sailing at the Kawanhee Yacht Club. So from the Raft in Lake Webb, we bid you all an affectionate farewell and a happy winter season.

McMINN AND FRIENDS SURPRISE ALL

Lake Webb is five miles long, a fact which can be verified by Scott McMinn, Peter van den Honert, and Jim

Keny. Last week on a hot, dry day, the trio decided to swim all five miles of it. Accompanied by Ken Chapman and Gail Greenawalt in the motor boat, they spent an entire afternoon swimming. Pete passed his father sailing off the Inn beach, and managed a weak, "Hi, Dad."

Pete and Jim collapsed at the camp beach, but "Minnie the Minnow" refused to quit and swam on for another half hour! The sunburned swimmers were met later with a round of applause. "Minnow" McMinn even collected a bet from John Duncan (who didn't believe he could do it!)

SKITS AND MORE SKITS

Skit nights have been revived this summer with much success. Each lodge has been ingenious in devising an original show and the audience has enjoyed seeing fellow campers and counselors on stage.

Wildcat Lodge added music to their show, in parodies accompanied by Chris Charyk. To the tune of "My Favorite Things," they sang:

We clean the cabin until it looks dandy
Wait for Bill Brutscher who'll give us all candy.
Finally it's over and we start to sing:
That's one less day of the inspection things!

The final show of the season featured Badger, Bear, and Crow. Badger Lodge used counselor Bill Proctor's know-how and demonstrated how to cut down a tree. Unfortunately, "Proctor's Tree Service" failed, and expert Bates was called in to save the day with his chain saw. Bear Lodge's orchestra was directed by Ferd Schoedinger with some hilarious assistance from John Morr in an unbelievable disguise. Crow Lodge produced a most professional version of the Lorenzo "Johnny Carson" Baker Show, complete with Jim "Doc" McDonald's band, and guests Mark "Truman Capote" Chapman, Jon "Rich Little" Trayner, Oscar "Groucho Marx" Shamamian, and Rock singer Chris "Johnny Winter" Yardley.

Ed Chace topped off the evening with Lord Dunsany's one-act play, "A Night at an Inn" in which he took all the parts. An accomplished actor, he held the audience enthralled with his portrayals — we could almost see the golden idol with the ruby eye.
