In the first KBL game of the week, Peter Cano's Killers torpedoed Zubb Fleming's Subs, 45 - 34. Peter Cano led his team with 24 points, while Peter Kahn and Zubb Fleming scored 16 and 14 points, respectively, for the Subs. In the next game, Tim Duncan's Skunks sank the Subs, 36 - 27, while Sub center Peter Kahn watched the game on closed circuit TV in the infirmary. Tim Duncan led the Skunks with 20 points while Zubb was the high-point man for the Subs with 16 points. In the last game before the Junior Maine Guides left for Bemis, Cano's Killers topped Duncan's Skunks 49 - 33. Mike Wallace and Peter Cano tied for scoring honors with 18 points apiece for the Killers, while Tim Duncan pipped in 16 points for his team.

In the only counselor game of the fifth week, BA's Bounders crushed John Knowles' Bucketeers, 86 - 71. Pete Belskis ripped the nets for 42 points for the winners, and John Knowles hit for 38 to lead the Bucketeers.

GREYS PIN MAROONS by Dave Yale

The fifth week of camp was highlighted by the annual Grey vs. Maroon wrestling meet. To everyone's surprise, the Grey team, coached by Carter Messick and Juan Fuster, dominated the meet by winning each of the ten bouts. Especially fine performances were turned in by Andy Kohler, Andrew Detrick, Ed Fleming, and David Kindle, each of whom pinned their opponents. Other bright spots were Dave Fisher, Ron Held, and Andy DeLong, all of whom defeated highly-respected wrestlers. The final team score for the match-up was Greys, 46 points and Maroons 0 points.

RESULTS:

55 lbs. David Birch dec. Andy Graham, 24 - 0
65 lbs. Marc Olazabal dec. Doug Mueller, 7 - 2
75 lbs. Dave Fisher dec. Alex Nachman, 10 - 7
85 lbs. Ron Held dec. Tom Kindle, 6 - 2
100 lbs. Mark Nachman dec. Steve Smith, 11 - 0
115 lbs. Ed Fleming pinned Doug Thompson, 3:24
125 lbs. Andy Kohler pinned John Baker, 1:08
135 lbs. Andy DeLong dec. Marc Calvano, 9 - 0
155 lbs. Andy Detrick pinned Mike Wallace, 3:34
HWT David Kindle pinned Peter Cano, 1:29

HIT IT!!! by Bryan J. Singer

The fifth week of camp got off to an excellent start as far as skiing is concerned. The water has been smooth and the ski classes are full. Shane O'Neill was up and going on one ski for the first time this week. Under the superb direction of Josh Cook, Lars Jensen, and Bryan Singer, many kids passed levels as well. Passing their Beginner - Ron Held, Dudley Cates, Paul Troiano, Arthur Eldred, Brendan O'Neill, Adam DiPaolo, and Stephen Smith. Passing their Intermediate - Ron Held, Dudley Cates, Steve Martin, and Mike Zieg.

Many of the kids have experimented with the disk, a large round wooden board. There has also been another new addition to the ski department. For those days when the water is too rough to ski, there are ski movies in the rec hall. These films include, "The Greatest Show on Water," (films of the Cypress Gardens water show), "Ski Fever," (water skiing fundamentals films), "Match Race," (film about identical speed boat racing), "More Fun Per Gallon," (film about proper boat use).

Skiing is still the most popular activity at camp and is always one of the best ways to have fun on Lake Webb.

The mad-rush to Christmas

BASKETBALL by Will Fleming

The first game of week five was a Mosquito League game which pitted Doug Thompson's Bugs against Charlie Johnson's Chumps. The Bugs came out on top in a well-played game, 26 - 16, with Peter Brown leading the way with 16 points. In the second game, Tom Kindle's Court Cleaners defeated Charlie's Chumps, 32 - 19. Andy Zechiel led a balanced Court Cleaner attack with 14 points and Captain Kindle tossed in 11.

In the best-played game so far, Doug's Bugs edged Kindle's Court Cleaners, 26 - 23. At one point in the game, the Court Cleaners led 18 - 8, but then the Bugs, led by Peter Brown's 10 points, rallied to win. John Burton and Tom Kindle scored 8 points each for the Court Cleaners.

THE KAWANHEE LOG

by O.J. Altmaier

Yes, friends, the Log returns for a reporting of the true activities at Camp Kawanhee.

This week as all other weeks at Kawanhee has been the scene of many weird activities at the Webb Lake shore. On the sleepy front, David Sugar continues his fabulous sleep-walking and sleep-talking show. The show is so good Hawk S.C. Eric Jensen is thinking of charging admission to outsiders to watch the show. This week the show consisted of David getting out of bed and then yelling "Where's my mommy and daddy?" Then apparently not satisfied with no answer, he walked over to Warren Cronin and said, "Daddy? Daddy?" After Warren told him to get lost, David climbed on top of a bunk and when asked what he was doing he replied he was "looking for Mommy." Then at that precise moment, shaggy haired Rick Spencer walked in and David proclaimed "It's my mommy!"

Moose lodge did a great job of undercover work this week. It seems both Moose and Lynx were enjoying campouts on the lake. And during the evening the Mooser's came across the lake and enjoyed some quiet conversation with the Lynxer's. What the Lynx lodgers did not know was that while they were talking, a few Moose lodgers hidden in the canoes stole all the paddles of Lynx lodge. And in the morning the Lynx lodgers had more than a little trouble operating their canoes without paddles. Luckily they were saved by the ski boat.

Darin Held gets the week's "Cruelty to Animals" award, although it was an accident. Seems Darin was going to play a trick on Matt Woltrom by placing a frog in his bed. Would have worked great if Darin hadn't accidentally sat on the creature and then Matt's bed had frog outside and inside all over his sheets. Sometimes the Log is not pretty.

The other Held boy also came in for an award this week, the "Nurse Award." Apparently, Ron is being treated as royalty by the nurse for this comment to Sally, "Gee, Sally, how's your younger brother, Todd?"

The week's deep sleep award goes to Steve Smith who continued to sleep one minute after his bed was dumped. That's deep sleep. Also Pinetree Lodge reports that dedicated drummer Brian Birch continues to drum in his sleep with his hands on his trunk. Well, as someone might say, "You can't beat that."

In the dining hall this week, Al Goizueta, who is a very picky eater, got a handful of mushrooms; mushrooms he didn't like - seems Al thought they were chocolate-covered somethings.

Well, that's about it for this week. Good luck and work hard for the last two weeks.

COUNSELOR SOFTBALL GAMES UNDERWAY

by Jamie Robinson

The softball league for the Junior counselors and Senior counselors is off to a great start. The season has been very even with both teams at 2 losses and 2 wins. The first game saw the JC's go under in defeat as they seemed almost unorganized in a 10 - 1 romp by the SC's leading the way. Third baseman Brian Birch, Jr., was 3 for 3, and of course, the winning pitcher was BA Altmaier.

The second game saw a turnabout by the JC's as the SC's were missing some stalwarts and the JC's surpassed the SC's 6 - 2. The JC's were seemingly in control throughout the game. Game leaders for the JC's were John Knowles and Jamie Robinson, both 3 for 3. Winning pitcher was Tracy Arsenault.

The third game saw an even more exciting game with the SC's scoring 7 runs and the JC's making the move in the late inning but fell short as they went down in defeat 7 - 4. Leading the SC's were Mark Standen and Eric Jensen, both 3 for 3. Winning pitcher once again was BA Altmaier.

In game four the JC's displayed their tolerance by hitting the ball to all spots of the field and collecting 14 hits in all while scattering the SC's hits. Jamie Robinson had 4 hits, Lars Jensen had 3, and Tom Harrington and John Knowles each had 2. Tracy Arsenault was the winning pitcher.

The teams will both go down to the wire in the remaining games and it should be a close race.
