Greys Pick up Momentum, Eight Big Level Men Keep Ball Rolling

The Greys had good reason to yell when the score was read at the campfire on August 7. They were leading by 1226 points. The score stood: Greys, 8416; Maroons, 7190. A total of 5365 points had been turned in during the week and 3115 had been won by Greys.

The record of the achievement levels won to date gave an adequate explanation of the Greys' impressive lead. Of the ten campers who had passed more than 8 levels, eight were Greys. T. Williams was still far ahead, with an individual score of 16 levels worth 480. Next in order came three other Greys: W. Robson, Jr. A, with 12 levels worth 330; R. Sayre, Jr. C, with 11 worth 330; and P. Strong, Jr. B, with 10 worth 315. The other ranking Greys were B. Durell, Jr. A, and three Junior Cs, Defoe, Fincke and Wunsch. The leading Maroons were W. Licklider, Jr. C, with 11 levels and 315 points, and R. Gude, Jr. A, with 11 worth 295.

Maroons Score in Baseball

In four Maroon-Grey baseball games played during the afternoon of August 7, the Maroons scored a triumph of 90 points to 70 over their opponents. Each of the games carried 25 points for the winners to 15 for the losers. The Senior game was the only one which the Greys took, by a score of 15 to 8. The scores by which the Maroons won the other three were: Junior C, 11 to 7; Junior B, 30 to 8, and Junior A, 9 to 6.

Cards and Undefeated Red Sox Top Leagues, Tapped for Series

The completion of the final round of League baseball games on August 6 left the Cardinals and the Red Sox poised for the World's Series. These are the same teams which fought it out in the Series last summer, with the Cards taking a 15 to 5 decision.

Four make-up games were played on August 3. In the National, the Reds shellacked the Giants, 10 to 1, and the Braves beat the Cubs, 5 to 2. In the American, the Senators took a close one from the Yankees, 9 to 8, and the White Sox beat the Indians, 10 to 5.

In the final round, the Cardinals won the National League pennant by beating the Giants, 8 to 3. The Cubs upset the Reds, 16-12, and the Braves upset the Dodgers, 17-2. In the American, the Red Sox defeated the White Sox, 10-0, and thus gained the distinction of being the only undefeated team in camp. The Yankees took care of the Indians, 9 to 3. The Senators trounced the Tigers, 10-0, and thus took hold of second place.

Dr. Elmore and Outdoor Church Make Sundays Memorable

By S. GARMY, JUNIOR C

Every Sunday morning at Kawanhee, we have a church service. If it is a nice day, as it usually is, we have church on the shore. There is a little hill going down to the lake where we sit. On the very shore of the lake, between two trees, is a big white birch cross. It is very beautiful on sunny days. If the day is not so nice, we have the service in the Recreation Hall.

Dr. Elmore, who is our preacher at the Sunday morning services, is very nice and I think he preaches very well. He says just the right things so all of us can understand. Some of the older boys read the prayers and the scriptures. There is a quartet of men who sing hymns. They are Mr. George Frank, Mr. Raymond Frank, Mr. Myers and Mr. Kiefer. When we have church in the Recreation Hall, they have the piano to accompany them but on the shore they sing alone. We sing alone sometimes also. At the end of the services, there is always a boy with an offering box.

Baseball, Boxing and Bo Peep Featured on Variety Program

The Kawanhee Players presented a second variety program on August 5. The Moose Lodge gave the first stunt, dealing with a strange and wonderful baseball game. The Pine Tree stunt was a double-header; a scrappy three-round bout between JoJo LeFever and Dig Dignan for the mosquito-weight championship of the camp, and that classic of the Kawanhee boards, the shadow-pantomime operation. Then came a novelty, a competition in telling funny stories, with R. Lagemann representing the Maroons and H. Sengelmann as the Grey raconteur. The climax of the evening was an original drama dealing with the further adventures of the three little pigs. R. Watts was the director, J. Cloud the narrator and the cast was made up of Junior Cs. Acting honors were divided between Watts, as the false Bo Peep, and J. Fincke, who brought down the house with his dancing in the interpolated rendition of Shortnin' Bread.

PUNK FROM THE LOG

The camp aged perceptibly during the week. Sunday morning, three of the camp's most youthful members awoke to find themselves one year further along the road toward the full cares and responsibilities of the adult world. Danny Desmond chalked up eight years, Freddie Sater rang up nine, and Davey Bryant hit the jack pot — or so our weary hands informed us after we had finished clapping the years of his youthfulness.

Advancing age, however, did not cramp the style of Kawanhee's more enterprising sons.

Mr. Spangler had his barber scissors out again. As a result, several Junior Counsellors turned up looking very surprised over their ears. They would explain, "Oh, I've just been Spanglered."

The Drama went into high gear, with Dick Watts as the new impresario. He started preparations for the world premiere of a five act tragedy, entitled, Little Bo Peep Is a Wolf, or Look What the Manpower Shortage Has Done to Us! He seemed to be having difficulties in casting, for the sounds of continuous argument could be heard from the stage, "I'm a wolf. No, you're a pig."

Bob Borg got himself a lasso and the whole camp was fit to be tied. Fortunately Buck Borg didn't ride very long. The only thing he managed to lasso was one of his own hind feet, and that put up such a struggle, before he succeeded in throwing and tying it, that he decided to give the whole thing up.

A new comb-your-hair-before-meals edict, sent out from headquarters, produced some notable results. Gardner Defoe appeared in the dining hall sporting a combed dome with a smart part which needed only a handlebar mustache to complete the illusion of the Daring Young Man on the Flying Trapeze.

Ken Licht returned, deferred for the essential civilian job of playing on the Senior Counsellors' baseball team. His return had strange reverberations. Ross Coffin moved back into the Eagle Lodge. Next morning, Mike Griley woke up and shrieked in terror. He had forgotten what a shock it was to open his eyes and find himself faced, not with a bright new day, but with the same old Coffin.

The Chief took up sculling. He took a boat out to practice. The whole camp stood on the shore and gaped, under the impression that he was giving the boat a rumba lesson.
