Greys Enter Home Stretch Far Ahead

The Grey point-winning drive continued to pick up speed as the season rolled through its seventh week. At the campfire of August 15, Del Tracy reported a total score of: Greys, 14,375½; Maroons, 12,918½. This increased the Grey advantage from 1166 to the total of 1457 points, such a lead as few teams have enjoyed as it entered the season's last lap. It only remains to be seen whether the Greys can make a clean sweep of the summer's score reports by clinching the final one at the banquet, or whether hidden point-winning potentials of the Maroons may produce a last minute upset.

For so late a period in the season, scoring was comparatively light between August 8 and August 15, a fact easily explained by the number and magnitude of the trips out of camp. During the week, nevertheless, the Greys were able to add 3290 points to their total, and the Maroons, 2999.

Curiosity as to the year's high point winners begins to rise at this time in any summer. Predictions would be futile, particularly since no non-level activities, such as Life Saving, have yet been entered on the charts. On the basis of Achievement Level work alone, however, it is easy to name four campers who will rank high. On August 15, Dick Duvall led both the Junior B division and the whole camp with 380 points. Close on his heels was Charlie Kurtz, the ranking Junior A, with 350. Hank Schwarzell topped the Seniors with 250, and Drew Adams the Junior C's with 135.

The campers who completed Levels between August 9 and August 15 were as follows:

AQUATICS, Junior C—First Level: A. Adams.
AQUATICS, Junior B—First Level: J. Reeves, R. Robinson.
AQUATICS, Junior B—Second Level: R. Brandes, C. Davenport, R. Robinson, J. Stoddard.
AQUATICS, Junior B—Third Level: C. Davenport, S. Wolfe.
AQUATICS, Junior A—First Level: J. Brown, G. Collins, D. Johnson, B. Wilson.
AQUATICS, Junior A—Second Level: J. Brown, W. Wilson.
AQUATICS, Junior A—Third Level: D. Kerr, W. Wilson.

Range and Archery Awards

At the weekly campfire on Saturday, August 15, Howell Windle reported that the bullets had been flying fast and thick at the rifle range during the previous week. These were the campers whose names were read and to whom Mr. Windle presented National Rifle Association awards:

Pro-Marksman: D. Angerer, J. Fazekas, P. Kuhns, G. Meiling, A. Smith, S. Wolfe.
Marksman: D. Anderson, S. Dexter, H. Hamilton.
Marksman First Class: C. Creith, S. Cushman, D. Tuttle, J. Whitson, B. Wolfe.
Sharpshooter: G. Collins, D. Helsley, A. Hoster, R. Irwin, E. Johanson, D. Kerr, E. Knezevich, D. Pratt, J. Whitson.
First Bar: W. Wilson, T. Wolcott.
Third Bar: J. Sanders.

Eighth Bar: R. Hahn.
Ninth Bar: R. Hahn.

Herb Hedges' Archery Department has presented one hundred more medals than the department has awarded in any previous summer. The following campers are sporting shiny new badges this week:

Junior Bowman Pin: J. Fazekas, G. Kirk, J. Lewis, R. Matthews, D. Platt, D. Pratt.
Junior Bowman Arrow: D. Hall, D. Hoover, G. Kirk, J. Lewis, R. Matthews, D. Pratt.
Bowman Pin: D. Hall, D. Hoover, J. Lewis, R. Matthews, D. Pratt.
Bowman Brassard First Rank: B. Emerson, D. Hall.
Bowman Pin Sharpshooter Gold: D. Earle, D. Helsley, R. Irwin.
Archer Pin: D. Earle, R. Irwin, B. McCoy.
Archer Brassard First Rank: R. Irwin.

Boys Pass Jr. and Sr. Life Saving Tests

Joe Driscoll's Aquatics Department has been working on a crop of Junior and Senior Life Saving Students for a large part of the season. Camp Kawanhee, in conjunction with the American Red Cross, awards both Junior and Senior Life Saving badges each year to the campers who can qualify. The requirements are rigid, and it takes many long hard hours of work and practice, both in the water and on land, for a camper to meet the Red Cross requirements.

By winning the status of Junior Life Saver or J.L.S., as it is called by all the boys at camp, each respective camper wins seventy-five points for his team. Those boys who qualify for the Senior Life Saving badge, or S.L.S., are given a special bonus of one hundred and fifty points for their team. Joe Driscoll is certainly to be complimented for turning out such a fine group of Life Savers. Those boys who have completed their training and satisfactorily passed their tests are as follows:

Junior Life Saving: D. Angerer, R. Baker, S. Cushman, W. Dichl, P. Earle, B. Emerson, D. Fisher, W. Gibson, R. Harris, S. Hesse, R. Irwin, E. Johnson, R. Johnson, D. Kerr, G. Kirk, T. Krumm, J. Lewis, B. McCoy, M. Matthews, R. Matthews, S. Miller, J. Murray, J. Pethick, D. Pratt, C. Salembier, H. Schwarzell, J. Schwarzell, W. Wilson, J. Wright.
Senior Life Saving: D. Earle, B. Evans, T. Hickey, R. McCurdy, B. Miller, J. Sanders, J. Tribou, J. Waterfall.

Trips Dominate Week's Activities

This week's evenings' entertainments were somewhat snuffed out due to the large number of boys out on trips. Monday, August 10, in the morning the Pine and Hawk lodges went to Kawanhee's Outpost Camp on Swift River for a two-day trip and in the evening the campers in camp enjoyed the show, The Jackie Robinson Story, and a short, Olympic Thrills. Tuesday the Junior C's and B's had a campfire at which they joined their voices in song and were enthralled with Merrill's entertaining story, The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County. Wednesday morning after breakfast the Polecat, Panther, and Falcon lodges went for their rewarding two days' experience at Kawanhee's Outpost Camp; also, the boys who signed up for the Mt. Washington trip left the same morning for their four-day trip, while the boys back at camp enjoyed free evenings both Wednesday and Thursday. Friday, right after breakfast, ninety-two campers and counselors left Kawanhee on the largest trip ever to go to Popham Beach, with all who went enjoying themselves immensely. Returning a little late they had supper and all were given a free evening. Saturday, a swimming meet was held with the traditional campfire that night.

Sunday service was held in the outdoor chapel with Dr. Elmore delivering the message, What Have You in Your Hands? The theme of his sermon was that you may not have prominent talent in everything, but use to the best advantage those talents that you have. In the evening vespers service Rev. George Tittmann from Arlington, Virginia, brought the message of the importance of a friend whom we can look up to to keep us on the straight and narrow way. He said that God is our best friend and that we should not do wrong because of our knowledge of the love of God.

Canoeists Explore Chain of Ponds

On Tuesday, August 11, the season's last canoe trip left for the Chain of Ponds which lie along the Arnold Trail, north of Eustis and Rangeley and just below the Canadian border.

We left early in the morning, and after being on the road for about one hour, we stopped and ate. On we went, and again we stopped and the whole truck saw a deer, peering inquisitively at us. Finally, about fifteen miles past Kingfield, we reached our starting point and launched our canoes for the trip through the five ponds, which are Island Pond, Mud Pond, Round Pond, Natanis Pond, and one other.

After arriving at camp, right off Natanis Pond, we set up our tents and then ate dinner, with Nick's wonderful corn pone. Some boys, after dinner, went up the river, and it was on this excursion that Ronnie Baker, Stephen Hesse, Tom Vicary, and Renny O'Connor swamped their canoe.

An interesting experience happened to Bates, Tony Hirsch, Stu Klapp, and George Kraft. That afternoon Tony and Bates discovered a deer's salt-lick in an abandoned gravel pit. That night we crept up to the pit and baited it with more salt, then sat in the truck and waited with headlights trained on the place, ready to flash on at the first sign of anything. All of this was of no avail, however, for we saw nothing but a Great Northern Snow Owl.

The next day we awoke early and took a trip into Woburn, Quebec, Canada. Here we often saw signs reading in French that which we so often see in English, such as "The Pause That Refreshes," or "It Likes You, You Like It," etc. We bought souvenirs and post cards, and then went immediately back to camp.

At camp we packed and started on our journey down the five ponds, totaling about seven miles in distance. There were many sore muscled paddlers by the time we met Bates at the place where we ate lunch. With our stomachs satisfied we headed for Camp Kawanhee giving the Kawanhee cheer for our leaders—George Kraft, Stu Klapp, Nick, and Bates.

A promised article on the very successful Mt. Washington trip, led by Mr. Chace and Dean Miller, failed to materialize in time to meet the deadline for this Wigwam. If it is produced later and if space permits, it will be printed in the next and final number of this season. To avoid repetition, articles on the week's Swift River and Popham trips are not printed here, since reports on similar trips have already appeared in the Wigwam this summer. Ed.

Well Known Visitors Welcomed in Camp

The closing weeks of the season have found several good friends of Kawanhee returning to the Webb Lake valley. Ken Beck arrived in camp on August 12. After spending the first part of his vacation in R. O. T. C. training in Virginia, he chose to round out his summer by rejoining the Kawanhee staff to lend a hand in the season's busy last lap. Ken's appearance almost caused a few hard pressed departments to come to blows in the rush to obtain his experienced services. The Score and the Wigwam seem at present to have staked out the most successful claims on Ken's time.

The welcome awaiting the Heimbergers and the Piersches was equally enthusiastic, if somewhat more disinterested, since everyone has at long last stopped trying to shove a hammer or a saw back into Fred's and Noel's hands. Dr. and Mrs. Frederic Heimberger reappeared in Weld on August 11, and expect to enjoy their summer home near Center Hill until the middle of September. The same day witnessed the return of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Piersche to the cabin near the Inn which is traditionally theirs. For a really complete gathering of the clans, it is only to be regretted that their return could not have coincided with the all too brief visit of Dean and Mrs. Sidney E. Sweet at the Inn on July 30 and 31.

There was opportunity to review more Kawanhee history with Chuck Windle before August 17 when he, Jan, and their daughter Holly, aged three months, concluded a two week vacation spent with his parents, the Howell Windles, and his grandparents, the H. C. Marshalls. The Charles Windles are moving soon from Washington, D. C., to Columbus, Georgia, since his work in experimental psychology for the Army is taking Dr. Windle (After all, he is a Ph. D. from Columbia!) to Fort Benning.

Another voice from Kawanhee's past, and one particularly well remembered, was heard on August 16 when the Rev. George Tittmann of Arlington, Virginia, spoke to the camp during an impressive vesper service on the beach. George's family is again spending the summer at Pine Lodge and George himself has been among those present on an off-again, on-again basis since the early part of July.

It is unfortunate that no record has been kept of the former campers who have dropped in since the beginning of the season, for the list would make interesting reading this year. Not only have visitors of this type been both numerous and welcome, but several of them were men who had not seen Kawanhee since they concluded notable camp careers many years ago. Their invariable comment seemed to be, "It's just as I remembered it!" One such prodigal was Bill Bittenbender, a camper and counselor in the 1930's whose name and repute have remained evergreen in Kawanhee, and another was Dr. Ed Yantes, of Wilmington, Ohio, who could date his Kawanhee memories back to 1924 when he began a ten-year membership in the tribe as a "Midget", a class designation long since superseded by the more dignified term, "Junior C".

The Wigwam's earlier comments on straying Kawanhee men has brought two reactions. The ink was barely dry on that report when Colin Carter, last summer's Tennis Counselor, stopped by briefly to express some surprise at the news that he was supposed to be in Europe since, in point of fact, he is spending the summer in summer school at Harvard. Less disconcerting, and very welcome, was a letter from Art Kiefer, conveying his "warmest regards" to all his Kawanhee friends. To that greeting all those Kawanhee friends return a hearty "Likewise".

Campcraft Stresses Outdoor Skills

At the Woodcraft Cabin, the Kawanhee boy learns how to live in the woods. Woodcraft, or as it is often called, Campcraft, is the science of existing in the woods, or the science of camping.

Here the boy learns how to build fires for cooking, warmth, and for festive occasions such as the Council Fire ceremony. Here he learns how to cook out of doors with and without utensils. Here he learns first aid, the handling of tents, how to make a bed-roll and envelope pack which will be waterproof, how to tie knots, how to use a compass in the wilderness, how to track and how to build trails.

The purpose of the Campcraft Department is to teach these skills not just for the purpose of passing tests and gaining points for the Maroons and Greys, but to give the boys knowledge which will serve them in emergencies which they may meet in life. To this end, the department desires that trips serve both as a means of using skills learned during the periods, and as a means of passing tests.

The personnel of the department is made up of Edward K. Chace, head counselor; and Dr. Ross Miller. Stuart Klapp, Todd Ross, George Kraft, Jay Sanders, and John Tribou, junior counselors, have assisted. Raymond C. Frank served during the two weeks when Mr. Chace was away and at other times when Dean Miller and Mr. Chace were on trips.

The department has sponsored several bushwhacking trips on Tumbledown and Jackson, as well as a trail-blazing trip up Mt. Blueberry, which had never before been climbed by a Kawanheean.

Great credit is due to Dean Miller for his personal touch in making the Campcraft Department successful in 1953. His never-flagging enthusiasm has been contagious, and the boys have reflected his spirit in mastering tests such as fire without matches, trail making, good outdoor cookery, and the use of the knife and axe.

The department is confident that Kawanhee boys will be able to cope with emergencies in the woods and will carry on the tradition of being woodsmen. The department believes firmly that the great near-by woodcraft laboratory of Tumbledown Mountain should be used much more by all the boys above the Junior C level. Few camps, if any, have the marvelous facilities of this grand old mountain with its many peaks and summit-lake so close at hand.

"Ready, Wrestle!"

For the past few seasons at Kawanhee the sport of amateur wrestling has grown to become one of the most popular activities in camp. Last year under the grand coaching of Dan Whitacre, a member of the Ohio State wrestling team, this sport became more and more popular. This year the Wrestling Department has had to manage without the fine coaching of Dan, but it still seems to hold the interest of the campers who are now preparing for the annual camp tournament. Directors Jock Duncan and R. Richey have been teaching the boys the fundamental rules of the amateur sport, and how this type of competition differs from the so-called fake, or professional, wrestling. The young up-and-coming wrestlers have been acquainted with various holds and rules which pertain to this sport.

All of this preparation is done so as to get the boys ready who are interested in competing in the tournament. This year's wrestling matches should prove to be very interesting in demonstrating the real sport of wrestling. Such campers as Abe Whitney, Al Martin, Bill Keating, Dick Duvall, and many others have shown definite signs of becoming future stars in the amateur wrestling world. The boys who compete in the 1953 tournament have shown an admirable ability in both the art of learning and good self-defense. Amateur wrestling will never harm any boy, and can be taught as a good lesson in sportsmanship and competition. The campers at Kawanhee who have participated in this sport at camp for the past few years will have learned a type of athletic competition which will always prove beneficial.

The 1953 tournament will be held between August 17 and August 22. Approximately forty-four boys will be competing in this year's matches, which will be divided into eleven different weight divisions. They are all looking forward to a highly competitive tournament, and everyone hopes to come home a blue-ribbon winner. As soon as the referee calls "Ready, wrestle," two boys of the same weight class will be battling for their respective team, and of course their own honor and achievement. They have learned the various take-downs, reversals, escapes, etc., and are now ready to present their skills and abilities in a sport which has given them much difficulty because of its "newness."

Yanks Clinch Flag; Moles Reach Top

Barry Birch's Yankees, under the leadership of Clay Davenport, clinched an undisputed Intermediate League pennant August 12 by winning over Gelpi's last-place Gimmicks 17 to 4. The impressive victory completed the schedule for the Yanks, giving them an undefeated record for the season. The Yanks collected fifteen of their runs in a nightmarish third inning when lack of control seized four Gimmick pitchers all at once, resulting in ten walks and three hits. Three errors helped to prolong the barrage. For the Gimmicks, Pete Gelpi and Mike Barr had a single apiece, the only hits given up by Yankee hurler Ben McCoy.

Terry Wolcott came through with a clutch single in the eighth inning, August 11, to drive home the winning runs in the Molesters' 8-6 win over the previously undefeated Demons of Dave Earle. The Molesters roared into a first-place tie with the Demons as a result of the victory. Each team has one game remaining to play. The Molesters have yet to face Abe's Babes, while Dun's Puns will form the opposition in the Demons' final game.

Terry Hickey scored the first run of the game in the second inning, and Jim Murphy doubled home Don Stoddard in the third to give the Molesters a 2-0 lead. The Demons came from behind, though, to take a 3-2 lead in the bottom half. Three runs came across in the fifth and one in the sixth to give the Molesters a seemingly safe 6-3 lead, but after a two-run sixth, Squirrel Earle singled home his brother Dave with the tying run in the seventh for the Demons. Dana Pratt was called out on a disputed play at first, retiring the side and preventing the winning run from scoring in the person of Dick Duvall.

Don Stoddard opened the extra eighth inning by grounding out, but Jim Murphy followed with a single and advanced to third when Hickey lived on an error. Terry Wolcott then stepped into the box and blasted a line drive off the outstretched fingertips of Dana Pratt into right field for the game-winning single.

All Junior League teams are tied with records of two wins and two losses as a result of the Lions' 9-4 victory over Stoddard's Blasters August 11. Trailing 3-1 at the end of three innings, the Lions opened the fourth with a barrage of base hits for eight runs, breaking up the ball game. Harold Wood was the leader of the offensive parade with two singles in two trips during the inning.

Maroons Edge Greys in Wind and Waves

A sweep of the Junior Counselor events gave the Maroons a 54-50 edge over the Greys in the water meet August 15. John Waterfall and Brock Evans traded off places in those events while the Greys were unrepresented because they were unable to place in the prelims a week earlier.

The Grey forces almost swept the Junior B section of the program, but Steve Wolfe of the Maroons managed to come up with a third in the breaststroke. Tally Krumm of the Greys copped all of the "B" first places with seeming ease. In the Junior A, the Maroons swept the breaststroke as Pratt, Hirsch, and Diehl finished in order. The sweep gave them an important 18-9 lead in the "A" events. John Whitney proved the number one clown of the day as he jumped the gun four times in the Senior Freestyle. He did manage to come in second in the event.

This meet will not be used to determine the camp swimming champions because of the high winds and waves which made top flight swimming difficult, and also the fact that some of the better swimmers were on the Mt. Washington trip at the time. These champions will be determined at a later date. Those placing in the meet are listed with their times as follows:

JUNIOR B: Freestyle — 1. T. Krumm (G) :23.7; 2. S. Cushman (G) :25.7; 3. J. Denise (G) :27.3. Backstroke — 1. T. Krumm (G) :29.6; 2. S. Cushman (G) :31.1. Breaststroke — 1. T. Krumm (G) :31.3; 2. J. Denise (G) :33.3; 3. S. Wolfe (M) :37.5.

JUNIOR A: Freestyle — 1. P. Earle (G) :21.0; 2. D. Pratt (M) :21.5; 3. M. Mathews (M) :22.5. Backstroke — 1. M. Mathews (M) :26.4; 2. P. Earle (G) :30.8; 3. C. Salembier (G) :32.5. Breaststroke — 1. D. Pratt (M) :29.2; 2. T. Hirsch (M) :29.9; 3. W. Diehl (M) :31.7.

SENIOR: Freestyle — 1. D. Helsley (G) :20.4; 2. J. Whitney (M) :20.6; 3. D. Earle (G) :22.8. Backstroke — 1. D. Helsley (G) :25.5; 2. J. Whitson (G) :25.7; 3. R. Burleigh (G) :28.7. Breaststroke — 1. J. Whitney (M) :24.7; 2. D. Earle (G) :29.0; 3. H. Schwarzell (M) :29.4.

JUNIOR COUNSELORS: Freestyle — 1. B. Evans (M) :20.4; 2. J. Waterfall (M) :23.5. Backstroke — 1. J. Waterfall (M) :23.5; 2. B. Evans (M) :28.2. Breaststroke — 1. B. Evans (M) :25.5; 2. J. Waterfall (M) :26.0.

Tribe Bows to Dixfield, 3-2

Three runs in the third inning via three hits, two walks, and three errors gave a youthful Dixfield baseball team a 3-2 win over the Kawanhee Tribesmen, Sunday, August 16. Billy Elliott of the Dixfielders would have had a shutout except for a fielding lapse in the first inning which produced the two runs. With two out and Dunbar Helsley on first, John Whitney took a called third strike which Dixfield catcher Norman Twitchell dropped. Whitney lit out for first, and Twitchell tried to pick off Helsley on a force play at second. The longer throw went wild, and all hands were safe on a play that should have retired the side with a strikeout. Both runners scored a moment later on Terry Hickey's double down the left field foul line. That double was the first of Kawanhee's four hits, which Elliott kept well scattered. Only one Kawanhee runner reached as far as third base after that. John Whitney stole second and third after singling with two out, but died there when Hickey fanned.

Quite a strikeout show was put on during the afternoon. Elliott, in going the route for the town team, fanned fourteen Tribesmen. Kawanhee starter Terry Hickey whiffed nine in his 6 2/3 innings, and fireman John Whitney struck out five of the six men he faced. The only man he was unable to fan was Terry Robinson, who worked a walk.
