Greys Stay on Top in Semifinal Report

Going into the season's home stretch, the Greys remained in the lead. At the campfire of Saturday, August 16, Dave Fergus announced the scores as: Greys, 13,643; Maroons, 13,038. During the preceding week, the Maroons had bent every sinew to overtake their rivals. The Greys, however, had stretched exactly the same number of muscles to stay out in front, with the result that, 9532 points later, the two teams found themselves in virtually the same positions relative to one another which they had held at the beginning of the period. The Greys had added a scant twenty points to their advantage, boosting it to 605. This did not look too impressive in the face of the flood of points which would be pouring in before activities closed at noon on Friday, August 22. In other words, the race for the final score was still wide open!

The Maroons had enjoyed quite a profitable week in sports events. Of five Maroon-Grey contests — a water meet, a rifle match, and individual track meets for the Junior B, Junior A, and Senior classes — the Greys had salvaged only the Senior field day. This gave the Maroons a very satisfactory edge in sports points — 431 to 321, to be exact! The Greys, however, had countered this on the levels charts, where their week's take was 4455, as opposed to 4325 for the Maroons.

McCoy Wins Junior Maine Guide Award

The Junior Maine Guide program in boys' and girls' camps in Maine endeavors to train boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 in actual living in the woods. The training period starts with the opening of camps about July 1, and culminates in a testing program under rigorous camping conditions at a testing center set up by the official state committee. Testing is done under the guidance of trained men, many of whom are Maine Guides.

Camp Kawanhee entered the program for the first time in the summer of 1955, when the program was set up by the Campcraft, Trip, Boating and Nature Departments. Of the six boys who went to Bemis for the testing at the end of July, Art Downey was successful, although the Mathews brothers and Bill Roys came closely behind. This achievement is considered outstanding in the first year.

Testing of candidates is classified into twenty separate tests on: canoeanship (including repair); shelter and fireplace-building; cooking; building wet-weather fires; axmanship; first aid; assembly and use of trip equipment; mapping the camping area as well as comprehensive knowledge of the reading and use of topographical maps; trees; forest fires and fire fighting; state fire regulations; sketching the map of Maine from memory, as well as placing principal cities, mountains, lakes, rivers, state and national parks, etc.; fishing regulations; rifle rules and regulations; swimming; and group encampment. The last of these tests the individual's ability to work with others under wilderness conditions. As can be imagined, these tests are designed to ascertain whether a camper can take a group into the woods and keep that group dry, well fed, warm and safe. Hence the tests are, as the boys say, "rough".

In 1956 six boys again went to Bemis for the testing program. John Pethick, passing 18 out of 19 tests, won the honor in one season, but Bob and Mike Mathews, in their second year, also were awarded the Junior Maine Guide certificates and pins. Last year twelve boys took the tests. Of these Bruce Greene and Bruce Harmon passed the tests in their first year, and Bill Chipman passed in his second season.

This year nine boys took the tests. Ben McCoy, passing 20 out of 20 tests in this, his second season in J. M. G., won the award. Mike Mathews assumed the role of co-ordinator this year and deserves much credit for setting up the training program. Clarence Bateman, Chuck Kirkpatrick, Ed Chace, Forrest Dexter, Raymond Frank, Elmore Putman, John Pethick and others assisted in untold ways. Mr. Bateman was official tester on Trees at Bemis. Boys who took the tests this year were: R. Livingston, J. Fulda, T. Dunlap, T. Knowlton, W. Dutcher, T. Cayten, C. Clarke and T. Lawrence. Each did well and nearly passed. Ben McCoy, the successful candidate, received his award on August 18 at the J. M. G. presentation ceremonies in Augusta.

Fishing and Camping Outpost Established

Along with this year's fishing revival, which still continues vigorously, the Fishing Department has undertaken a big project on Skookamee Beach across the lake from Kawanhee. In co-ordination with the Campcraft Department, the woods behind the beach for about 50 feet back have been cleared and a series of lean-to's are being built. The two presently under construction are being built by campers for Campcraft points in "shelter".

The original idea was conceived by Pete Schofield, Director of Fishing, while he was on the first Monhegan Island trip of the season. Upon his return to camp, Pete requested permission of George and Raymond Frank to initiate the project. Permission was granted. The Fishing Department then cleared the area for shelters which would serve as places where overnight fishing parties could spend the night. Thus Kawanhee's Fishing and Camping Outpost was born.

When Campcraft joined in the project, however, it progressed full blast. The project has provided the department with an excellent place for campers to put up shelters, build latrines, spend overnights, and bury garbage. It is for the passing of these tests that boys are given their Campcraft levels. The combined skills of Pete Schofield and Dave Goss have resulted in a large sign for the beach, so that outsiders may be advised that they are not welcome.

When completed the area will fill a need for Kawanhee, one which it has had for years. Pete Schofield is to be commended for observing the need and for his whole-hearted and fruitful effort to fill it.

Campers Find the Going Great on Kennebec

Friday, August 15, by the dawn's early light, eighteen older Kawanhee boys from the Badger, Crow, Bear, and Wildcat Lodges pushed off on what promised to be one of the most exciting trips of the camp season. And we certainly weren't disappointed. With Paul Gatsch and Chuck Kirkpatrick at the helm, we were off to shoot the rapids of the Kennebec River. By 8:00 A.M., with six canoes in tow, the camp truck, known uncomfortably at times as Bates' "Bouncing Buggy", was on its way towards the Kennebec, a swiftly moving stream 95 miles northeast of Kawanhee.

Our first view of the stream came just north of a little town called Caratunk. At a quick glance, this appeared to be merely a peaceful body of water flowing through the silence and the solitude of the green Maine woods. A closer inspection, however, revealed a swift current moving along at nearly ten miles an hour.

While a brief shower dampened our spirits during lunch, we perked up as we pushed off down stream with Paul Gatsch in the lead. The river now lived up to everything that we had hoped for — the pace was fast and furious. As the current pushed us swiftly along, the miles rolled by quickly. Soon we were in rapids. Our canoes rushed forward into the crests of the breaking waves — high into the air, then down into a trough — then up again. A fine, cool mist of spray splattered our faces and then the turbulent waters rushed past us. Suddenly, the water was calm and flowing again. Five or six times on that run, our canoes went tumbling through rapids. Then all too soon we reached the point where we were to take our canoes out of the river, and return by truck with them to the original starting point to make the run once again. Our plan now was to make a trip twice as long as the first one — some eleven miles in all. It was on this part of the trip that the only unscheduled incident occurred. Two canoes, plunging through rough water, swamped, but a cool head on the part of Chuck Kirkpatrick, the counselor in one of the boats, prevented the mishap from adding up to anything more than a dunking.

Our run down the Kennebec now completed, we loaded the canoes back on the trailer for the final time and settled back as best we could in Bates' Bouncing Buggy for the long trip home.

S. DORRANCE

Thursday, August 14, a group of thirteen campers under the leadership of Ed Chace and Sturg Dorrance climbed Tumbledown by the Parkers Ridge Trail during the afternoon and ate supper on the south peak. The party was drawn from several age groups and composed mainly of campers in pressing need of "trip points" to pass Campcraft levels.

Track Scores Favor Maroons

The Maroons won two of three track meets squeezed into the early part of the week to eke out, with the aid of the 25-point bonuses riding on each meet, a 266-259 advantage for the whole series. The Maroons won the Junior A meet at 4:00 P.M. Monday and the Junior B program run off Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at the same hour, while the Greys captured the Senior meet Monday evening. ## Maroons Take Shooting Match

Thursday afternoon, August 14, a three-man team of Maroon sharpshooters won a decisive 479-415 victory over a Grey squad in a rifle match for the Junior Counselor and Senior Camper division. Each contestant shot four targets — from prone, sitting, kneeling and optional positions — for a possible maximum score of 200. Star of the afternoon was Maroon Steve Dexter with a total of 191 after shooting 49's from both prone and optional, and 48 from sitting. The other individual scores were: T. Cayten (G), 139; C. Dorman (G), 135; T. Dunlap (M), 172; J. Fulda (M), 116; and T. Knowlton (G), 141.

Maroons Scuttle Greys in Water Meet

The water meet of Saturday, August 16, produced two major switches in the customary order of things — the weather was perfect, and the Maroons won! The hitherto winless Maroon mermen triumphed by the resounding score of 115-62, while the Greys had to content themselves with the moral victory of dislodging the solidly anchored Maroon Tug-of-War squad.

Colorful events, both in competition and as exhibition, enlivened the program. The summer's first diving matches featured not only the well applauded front flip of R. Barnes and T. Dunlap's admirable back dive, but also a jackknife with both the corkscrew and bottle-opener blades unfolded. In the Tub Race, K. Burr tensely navigated his teetering, twirling craft between the docks to win, while his opponent, A. Dore, grew progressively more waterlogged as the result of sinking every ten feet. A tame bout of canoe-tilting concluded at last in the anticipated splash when Dunlap unhorsed — or would it be "uncanoeed"? — W. Unckrich. The "canoe tugs-of-war" were a novelty — a Maroon and a Grey seated in each canoe facing one another and paddling in opposing directions. A demonstration of life-saving techniques by members of this summer's J. L. S. class proved to be of great interest, and a suitably spectacular climax to the program was provided by Gardner Defoe's exhibition of slalom skiing from a jump take-off.

Midway in the afternoon both spectators and contestants were puzzled by the appearance in the cove of a funeral barge bearing a shrouded figure simultaneously reminiscent of Elaine, the Lily Maid of Astolat, and Boris Karloff as The Mummy. Reaching the swimming area, the "corpse" rose up, addressed a sepulchral "Oh Kawa-a-a-anhe-e-e" to the, by then, convulsed shoreline, and subsided. The Duke, that mysterious individual with more lives than nine cats, was dead once more!

The summary:

Sunday Morning Service

The cool, bright weather of Sunday, August 17, allowed the morning service to be held in the Chapel on the Shore, a setting which gave special meaning to the singing of the hymn For the Beauty of the Earth, led by Dave Forry. Ben Bennett read the scripture passage. Music of particular note graced the service when a quartet composed of Mr. Raymond Frank, Mr. George Frank, Mr. William Heimberger and Mr. Bennett sang Mary, Don't You Weep. Dean Miller introduced his sermon as one in which he was "interested in pitching a tent with tent-pegs that will stay put even when a hurricane blows." His prayer of the morning is quoted below:

"Our Father".

"We thank Thee for the big chance we have to amount to something fine — to settle our lives on solid rock that storms can't destroy from beneath us."

"Help us to play the game hard and clean — and win, no matter what the score book shows!"

"Make us discontent until we tackle some job that's hard, and get it done with honor."

"May we live, before our friends, as if we had our roots deep in soil where eternal springs of water flow."

"Help us to find Thee about us — in the stars, in the mountains, in the trees, and in the friendships that we enjoy."

"When we go home, keep us loyal to the finest experiences of this summer."

"When we catch up to the tasks that await us, make us strong with an integrity we know is dependable."

"Pitch our tent on Thy mountains!"

"Help us to play, and work, and love, and worship, like Christian gentlemen."

"In Jesus name. Amen."

Champion Red Devils Lose to All Stars

On Sunday afternoon, August 17, the Kawanhee Little League All Stars, a group of the best players from the Black Hawks, Blue Eagles and Green Hornets, beat the League champion Red Devils 7-1 behind the superb 2-hit pitching of Mike Olson. Mike pitched four innings of hitless ball after allowing one run in the first inning.

The afternoon's festivities started off with a parade to the Athletic Field led by the newly formed Kawanhee Marching Band under the able leadership of Dave Forry. The game started after the introduction of the Red Devils and the singing of our national anthem. The first ball was thrown out by Liz Compher, Kawanhee's popular nurse.

Butch Cooke, the losing pitcher, hurled the entire game for the losers. The Red Devils tried their hardest, but could not match the fielding and hitting of the All Stars.

The All Stars were picked by the managers of the losing teams. The team consisted of sixteen boys. The Green Hornets placed six men on the team. They were: D. Taylor, R. Harris, R. Shepard, T. Staples, J. Beal and J. Ruhle. The Black Hawks and the Blue Eagles each placed five men on the squad. The Blacks were: D. Roth, G. Lamb, B. Welton, F. Stewart and B. Connor. The Blues were: K. Burr, M. Olson, J. Glidden, C. Compher and N. Perkins. The Managers were John Pethick of the Blacks and Chuck Kirkpatrick of the Blues.

D. ANGERER

During the preceding week, the regular season of Kawanhee's Little League had concluded with three make-up games and two play-offs. In the make-ups, the Red Devils squeaked by the Green Hornets 3-2; the Blue Eagles defeated the Reds 7-3; and the Black Hawks trounced the Blues 15-5. These games left the Reds and Blacks tied for the top of the League, and the Blues and the Greens for the cellar. Thursday, August 14, the Blue Eagles blanked the Greens 16-0 to nail down third place, and on Friday the Red Devils became undisputed champions by defeating the Blacks 4-0 in the play-off for first place. The final standings of the Little League were:

Kawanhee enjoyed a great treat Sunday evening when Mr. Mike Peppe, the famous Swimming Coach of Ohio State University, presented several reels of motion pictures in the Recreation Hall. In the "good old days" of Kawanhee's first seasons, Mr. Peppe was the camp's swimming counselor. Now his interest is focused on two nephews who are current members of the Kawanhee tribe. His pictures included a reel of the 1956 Olympics, one of the 1954 dual meet between O S U and Michigan, and a sports feature on his own famed "diving dynasty" at Ohio State. The intrinsic interest of the pictures was greatly increased by Mr. Peppe's informed commentary. His nephew, Hugh Davis, added chuckles to the program with one of his very popular monologues. Altogether, a most memorable and enjoyable evening!
