Grey Lead Continues to Grow

The Greys continued in the groove as July flipped over into August. Indeed, the groove was assuming something of the appearance of a rut for, on August 1st, the scorekeeper's report proclaimed the Greys to be in the lead for the third consecutive campfire. On that date the totals stood: Greys, 5412; Maroons, 4756. During the final week of July the Greys amassed 2504 points while the opposition earned 2208. This gave them a 296-point margin of advantage for the period which, added to the lead of 360 points which they enjoyed on July 25th, put them 656 points ahead of the Maroons. It was all very well for Dave Fergus to warn of current totals and advantages quickly vanishing in the doubling and redoubling scores of weeks to come! The rejoicing Greys obviously considered those 656 points worth one good cheer, and they gave it with a will sufficient to rock the Rec Hall.

In spite of their over-all gain, the Greys had by no means had everything their own way in the course of the preceding seven days. The Maroons had captured both of the week's two Maroon-Grey sports events—the sailing race of Sunday, July 26th, by the score of 42-33, and the water meet of Saturday, August 1st, to the tune of 106 to 76. The departmental reports on Achievement Levels at the campfire showed the Maroons to have the edge in Nature, Campcraft and Wrestling. In two activities the take broke even—at 285 points apiece in Shop, and at 435 in the week's most productive department, Sailing. In only three fields did the Greys have the advantage, but in those three they had piled up the points so decisively as completely to bury everything accumulated elsewhere by the Maroons. The Greys led in Athletics 410-325; in Boating 270-150; and in Tennis 430-105. In that last department the Greys had three second levels and five thirds while the Maroons had only first levels, an ample explanation of the 325-point Grey advantage there.

For Parents — a Renewed Request!

By request, the Wigwam is reprinting below parts of an article which has appeared to some apparent effect on more than one occasion in the past.

"The Directors wish to ask the co-operation of Kawanhee parents in a matter effecting both the health and the morale of the camp. The package problem is keeping the camp post office hopping, and the dispersal of these packages through the lodges is creating several regrettable situations."

"The majority of these packages, of course, contain candy and other sweets. It need not be pointed out how quickly an excess of such packages will scuttle the camp's plans for a balanced diet. Provisions are made for the supervised distribution of such extra sweets in reasonable quantities, but, when every boy in a lodge has a box to be passed around, the arrangements inevitably break down. The supplies of candy from home already on hand, plus the candy available in limited quantities at the camp store, are more than ample to last the remainder of the season. The Directors therefore believe it to be in the best interests of all concerned that an embargo at the source be placed on all further shipments of edibles except for birthday treats. Knowing that Kawanhee parents have the most immediate interest of all in the successful operation of the camp program, the Directors are confident of receiving the co-operation they ask in this matter."

J. M. G. Program Rigorous and Varied

One of the most vigorous activities in which a Kawanhee camper may participate is the Junior Maine Guide program. This program, sponsored by the State of Maine, is designed to train boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21 in the art of living out of doors in the Maine woods. The camper who has achieved his J.M.G. certificate is a self-reliant person, capable of planning a camping trip and of carrying it out under any and all conditions.

The ultimate goal of J.M.G. is, as has been pointed out, to allow the camper to live comfortably in the woods, but there is more. As Mr. R. C. Frank put it — the personal feeling of accomplishment and of satisfaction in becoming a J.M.G. is just as important to the over-all personality as the development of new skills. This feeling of accomplishment is a thing which any successful candidate certainly deserves. Neither the certificate nor the ability is easily learned.

A brief description of what the J.M.G. hopeful experiences from the first training period through to the final rigorous testing program could not begin to show the amount of work that these boys put in. They are thoroughly trained in all the fields in which they will eventually be tested. These include: building of an encampment both with a group and by oneself; constructing a wet-day fire and bringing water to boil — all in twenty minutes; knowing state fire regulations and effective methods for dealing with forest fires; being able to recognize common Maine trees; being able to work with topographical maps and to map a specific area to close scale with only the use of a sighting compass; using an axe safely and accurately; knowing the fundamentals of first aid and how to apply them; being acquainted with state fishing and game laws; and finally, having a general geographical knowledge of the State of Maine, including its parks, mountains, lakes, rivers and major cities. It is easy to see that training to proficiency in all these varied fields requires much time. In fact, it is really the norm, rather than the exception, for a boy to fail J.M.G. his first year out. The second year, his chances are considerably improved because he knows in his own mind what to expect from the testing camp. What is more, the second year boy has had more time in which to solidify his skills and gradually assimilate the knowledge which was necessarily "crammed" into his head during the first year of training. Of course, it should be said that the boy who has had scouting experience or campcraft training of some other sort stands a better chance of receiving his certificate the first year.

This year, as last year, the J.M.G. testing site was located at Bemis, Maine, about 55 miles north of Kawanhee on Rangeley Lake. There, experienced camping men, including many Senior Maine Guides, administered the battery of tests to approximately 60 candidates between Wednesday, July 29th, and noon of Saturday, August 1st. Kawanhee's delegation of six boys consisted of A. Beck, C. Clarke, J. Fulda, T. Knowlton, P. Kuhns and E. Spelyng. Of this number, three (Clarke, Fulda and Knowlton) were second year men, while the others ran the gauntlet for the first time. Ben McCoy, who last year passed all the tests given to win the only J.M.G. certificate awarded to a Kawanheean, has acted as the co-ordinator for the activities of the 1959 candidates. It has been mainly through his efforts that the boys have made as good showings as they have so far. Now that the actual testing is passed, and the score alone remains to be known, we can only wish the candidates the best of luck.

Sailing Dept. Institutes Racing Schedule

The Sailing Department which has been under full sail since practically the second day (a fact frequently advertised by the Sailing Master, Ernie Johanson) has now instituted a new series of Maroon-Grey sailing races.

Every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon during activity periods, the department has practice runs so that the boys may learn the intricacies of competitive sailing. Then on Saturday afternoons, the actual Maroon-Grey races take place. The key number here is four, for four skippers command four boats which in turn sail four races. During the course of the afternoon the skippers and crews rotate from boat to boat after each race thereby giving each boy a chance to sail all of the Tech dinghies at one time or another during the afternoon.

In scoring the races, the Point System is used. That is, the skipper can receive: one point for starting; one point for finishing; one point for winning; and one point for each boat that he beats out in the race.

To qualify for racing, the skipper of the boat must have earned the rating of Second Mate at least. The crew, on the other hand, must have passed their Crew ratings.

The present plans of the Sailing Department will continue these races until the end of camp.

Green Ghosts Extend Win Streak to Six

Sporting a two-game advantage, the Green Ghosts moved in the game of Monday, July 27th, with the Black Labels. Ghost Manager Gene Cayten launched his hopes with Tim McElroy as starting pitcher. Rick Eckler, Manager of the Black Labels, countered with Jim Duffey.

After a relatively quiet first inning, the league-leading Ghosts touched off a scoring drive what was to net them a lead of six runs. With one out, Tom Gallagher hit a double. This was followed in rapid succession by a single by Howard Murray, a base on balls to Tim McElroy, an error on a ground ball for Bruce Larson and a tremendous home run to center field by Ross Shepard. Frank Stewart almost followed suit by lacing a double to virtually the same spot. He scored on an error on the return throw to the infield.

With this comfortable lead, Tim McElroy was able to complete his masterful one-hit shut-out, winning 6-0 for the Green Ghosts. This was the first shut-out of the year.

Tuesday night saw the Redskins and the Blue Streaks fighting for a long-shot chance to win the pennant. The winner of the game would trail the Green Ghosts by two full games while the loser would fall three games off the pace.

In the second inning, Steve Lutz, new arrival in camp, led off for the Reds with a triple. Steve stole home on one of the more exciting plays of the game. John Forman walked, stole second, and scored when John Glidden lived on an error.

The Blues came back strong in the last of the second when Tom Fischgrund singled and Chuck Compher, Richard Cummings and Pete Hopper walked, the last forcing in Tom with a run. Chuck stole home and Cummings scored when the catcher's throw to third base was wild. At the end of two innings, the score was 3-2 in favor of the Blue Streaks.

The Redskins, however, were not so easily "mas-sacred". They sprang back when Steve Lutz singled, took second on the throw to the infield, and scored on a wild pitch, after the bases had been loaded as the result of walks. They added eight more runs in a wild fourth inning, featuring home runs by pitcher Steve Lutz and catcher John Glidden. The final score was 11-3 in the favor of the Redskins.

In Wednesday's game, Pitcher Ben Griffin of the Green Ghosts was at his best, allowing but one hit in defeating the Blue Streaks 6-1. On Thursday, July 30th, the Redskins had to go five innings to down the Black Labels 6-5. The winning run came when John Glidden hit a double to right field, advanced to third on Morton's sacrifice bunt and stole home.

D. ANGERER

On August 1st, the standings in the Little League were:

GREEN GHOSTS	Won, 7	Lost, 2	Pct., .777
REDSKINS	Won, 5	Lost, 4	Pct., .555
BLACK LABELS	Won, 3	Lost, 6	Pct., .333
BLUE STREAKS	Won, 3	Lost, 6	Pct., .333

Two games in the Junior Softball League brought the standings in that circuit on August 1st to: Comanches, won 2, lost 1; Apaches, won 3, lost 2; Mohawks, won 1, lost 3.

One Game Separation in Senior Basketball

Senior basketball action on July 27th, 28th and 29th brought the circuit which had been rather out of balance for two weeks back onto as even a keel as is conceivable without a three-club tie-up. The Celtics ended with a less than comfortable margin of one half of a game over the Pistons. In third place merely one game behind the Celts, the Knicks were hungrily eying the positions of their two opponents.

The haul back into contention by the formerly badly abused Knicks began with a down-to-the-whistle affair on Monday, July 27th. With a 9-7 third quarter advantage, they pulled out over the Celtics 16-13. Knowlton, Olson and new entry Tom Clark took charge of scoring.

On Tuesday, Ed Spelyng led his Celtic bunch, tossing up nine of their tallies, as they raced past the Pistons 20-15, after trailing 6-10 at the half. Five baskets by Jeff Kraemer were not the answer as his Piston team-mates failed to produce sufficiently to avert defeat.

The Knicks 14-13 squeaker over the Celtics the next evening wrapped up the basketball week as the Knicks continued their upsurge. Three goals and four free throws flipped by Doug Olson told most of the story against their sporadically scoring foes.

At week's end, the league standings were: Celtics, won 4, lost 3; Pistons, won 3, lost 3; Knickerbockers, won 3, lost 4.

Hot Week Ends in a Brisk Blow

The weather of July's closing days aroused widespread comment, for it was sufficiently "unusual" to disconcert even a California Chamber of Commerce. The week took off well with a brisk, bright Sunday morning July 26th. By evening, however, hot, humid atmosphere was seeping back into the valley and on Monday there it settled to linger day after day without a breath of a breeze to move it out. Each morning would find fog hanging heavy over the lake. This would burn off by noon, leaving the afternoons hot and hazy. So much haze remained in the air that for two days Kawanhee had no glimpse of Tumbledown and, on Friday, even noontide failed to "burn off" the fog.

Under these conditions, evening dips enjoyed great popularity early in the week. More after-supper diversion was provided by league ball games and a movie, The Pathfinder, which was doled out in two installments Monday and Wednesday.

The Nature Department sponsored a new trip on Monday when a group consisting largely of Bears explored the State Game Preserve on the Little Norridgewock River with the Messrs. Bateman, Dexter, Spivey and Welton. Wednesday witnessed the departure of the Junior Maine Guide candidates for Bemis, Maine, for the session of official tests and examinations which lasted until Saturday noon. Another newsworthy item on the Trip calendar was the mineral-hunting expedition which Mr. Bateman and Mr. Dexter conveyed to Perham's and the Newry mines on Friday. In the course of their explorations S. Culter, A. Dore, H. Murray and J. Osborne found a remarkably large and handsome specimen of black tourmaline crystals in chlorite schist. They presented their notable find to the Nature Room as a permanent addition to the camp mineral collection.

Friday was further distinguished by the initiation of Bill Keating's long threatened diving classes in the afternoon. The Fishing Department also had its innings that day. In the early, early hours of the morning, Pete Schofield conducted a select group up the lake for salmon fishing. One salmon was hooked but, alas, it fell just short of the required fourteen inches, and was released. An evening venture down to the Narrows had better luck. Neils Perkins landed, and kept, a pickerel of better than nineteen inches length.

At that point the weather decided to do something about itself, since no one else would. A rip-snorting thunder storm moved in after Taps and dumped some much needed rain on the valley. Saturday awoke to hot, still air again but, by midmorning, a breeze had bestirred itself. This freshened and strengthened steadily during the day, providing distinctly rough going for the afternoon's water meet and building up to a real blow by evening. Piling on the blankets that night, no one complained about either the heat or the humidity.

Maroons Down Greys in Water Meet

The Maroons won the water meet of Saturday afternoon, August 1st, by the impressive score of 106 points to 76, in spite of a delayed official ruling which marked their initial victory in the Cross Country Relay down to a tie as the result of the participation of an ineligible Maroon in one lap. The one sailing race completed before the rising wind forced in the boats was not scored. Bill Keating's diving exhibition was converted into a competitive event by scoring his dives alternately for the Maroons and the Greys. Keating the Maroon ended up with a very slight margin over Keating the Grey.

The Summary:

Reinforcements and Visitors

The Department of Comings and Goings again showed a balance on the credit side — four additions to the camp roster as opposed to three midseason departures. On Monday, July 27th, W. Oldmixon joined the Eagles, and G. Lamb claimed his bunk in the Wildcat Lodge. B. Cooke, P. Adriance and R. Adriance completed their half-season enrollments on Tuesday and took off to spend the remainder of their vacations with their respective families. Next day, Mrs. Isabel Nason, a practical nurse of Farmington, Maine, reinforced the staff of the camp infirmary when she signed on for eight-hour duty, 10:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M., for the balance of the season. In years of nursing, this is Mrs. Nason's first experience with an unalloyed group of boys. She has taken to the work with great ease and, judging from the midmorning fruit-juice break which she has instituted for the infirmary's overnight guests, has evidently decided to operate on the safe old theory about the shortest route to the masculine heart.

Kawanhee welcomed Paul Gatsch Tuesday night as he returned for his second stretch here as a Senior Counselor. Paul's home is in Columbus, Ohio, where he teaches Mathematics in Upper Arlington High School. The early weeks of his vacation were devoted to summer school work at Ohio State. For August he is taking charge of the canoe trips, and lending a hand in Shop and Boating. The counselors' staff was further strengthened when Jeff Kraemer graduated from the ranks of the Master Campers to the status of a Junior Counselor serving as lodge assistant with the Panthers.

Among the week's visitors the camp was happy to greet several gentlemen well known in these parts in earlier years. Ted Nelson, former camper and counselor, arrived on Monday for a week at the Inn. Wednesday brought a brief visit from Bob Gaston, a camper of 1952 and the immediately preceding seasons. On Friday, Peter Strachan, a veteran of the first half of the 1940 decade, dropped in for dinner and reminiscences. Mr. and Mrs. David Tilton and their two young daughters checked in at Kawanhee Inn on Saturday. Dave, now a Columbus attorney, was last an active member of the Kawanhee tribe as a Senior Counselor in 1942. The old-home-week entry welcomed on Sunday was Tom Bateman when he appeared to spend part of his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bateman. Tom's own camp career dated as far back as the 1930's.

Quiet Sunday Dinner Confuses Nurse

Sunday was a day notable on several counts other than that of the "real Maine weather" which kept sweaters on our backs and whitecaps on the lake from dawn to dusk.

At the morning service in the Recreation Hall Dean Miller took "Sand" as the subject of his sermon and developed a compelling message in a series of striking figures. Most welcome was the reappearance of Kawanhee's traditional quartet for the special music. The well remembered tenors of George and Raymond Frank had the support of Dave Angerer and Ben Bennett in two numbers. Applause of course was out of order but the inclination in that direction almost overcame the decorum of the occasion.

Dinnertime in the dining hall witnessed a truly admirable novelty, a well organized campaign for a quiet meal. Thanks to nearly unanimous co-operation, the effort was attended by such success that Liz Compher, coming in late, looked puzzled and sighed, "Oh dear, my ears must be stopped up — I can't hear a thing." But she heard the shushing aimed at her in the fear that the head table might be the first involuntarily to be excused as the result of undue audibility.

The afternoon brought Dan Spivey a second opportunity of indulging in his favorite sport, bear-skinning, when Bates brought him a full grown but scrawny specimen which had been shot near Dixfield. Dan was upset when the Wigwam took no notice of an earlier exercise of his peculiar talents in the case of a yearling bear killed near Weld several weeks ago. Well, it's been mentioned now, so !

The day came to a most pleasant conclusion with the customary gathering in the Recreation Hall. Star of the evening was an old favorite, Ken Beck, who appeared as piano soloist in response to popular demand. He scored solidly with passages from the Grieg Concerto and a selection of show tunes. The program also featured two Glee Club numbers conducted by Dave Forry and a reel of camp movies shown by Raymond Frank.
