

KAWANHEE '91 - A GREAT PLACE TO BE!

The Coming of the Chief

Chief Kawanhee with Mr. & Mrs. Estabrook.

On Wednesday of the first week of camp it was time for the annual ceremony, the coming of the chief. The evening started with a presentation by Chief Sachem, Herb Birch, in the rec hall. At this presentation Herb presented some information on both the early history of Camp Kawanhee and the town of Weld.

As darkness fell on Kawanhee, each lodge left the rec hall and began to walk towards the council ring. The chief had asked each participant in the ceremony to bring a stick about the length of each persons forearm. As the crowd quietly gathered at the council ring an Indian slowly beat a drum. Slowly Herb Birch stepped to the center of the council ring and began to call for the chief. After the third yell, the chief responded and he shortly appeared at the council ring.

The chief first requested that the message from the Sachems of 1990 be read to the campers of 1991. As usual the message was full of good advice for having a good summer at Kawanhee. After the message was read the chief then asked for the Great Central Fire to be lit. As the majestic fire rose high in the sky the chief gave his message to the campers of 1991. Chief Kawanhee asked for all of us to take care of the environment. The chief also asked us to give something to Kawanhee. By giving something we can get something in return—mainly the great opportunities this place offers. As a symbol of giving to Kawanhee, the chief asked us to throw our stick in the fire. Shortly thereafter the chief descended the hill and the ceremony concluded. As always the coming of the chief was a moving and memorable ceremony and gave us all a lot to think about.

Captains Are Chosen

After a few days of suspense the maroon and grey captains for 1991 were selected. There were many great candidates this year and after much thought the two captains selected were John Donahey from Columbus, Ohio and Robert Compher from Fort Worth, Texas. At the coin toss in the dining hall, John selected the grey team and Robert selected the maroon team.

Later that afternoon every boy in camp was selected on a team. They will try to earn points for their team throughout the summer by earning achievements in the activities of Camp Kawanhee and by competing in special maroon-grey events. After the selection of the teams all the boys went to the athletic field for the first event of the summer, the tug of war. The greys won the first two pulls and thus won the competition to put themselves in the early lead for the summer long competition.

Flag Rush

On the first Saturday of camp, the maroon and greys met in an exciting game of flag rush. In this game each team tries to capture flags that are worth a certain number of points. There are many flags scattered on the playing field as each captain tries to get his team to guard the flags while at the same time trying to capture the opposing teams flags. This causes a great deal of constant action. Each boy has a sock he wears in his shorts and if the sock is pulled out while on his opponents side he is captured and is sent to jail. Two exciting games were played the first Saturday of camp. In the senior game the maroons cruised to an easy victory while in the junior game just the opposite happened as the greys had an easy victory.

Maroon - Grey Athletic Meet

On Saturday, July 5, the Maroon and Greys met in an athletic meet. The meet was close with the Greys winning 495 to 430. The Greys won Jr. A soccer, Jr. A volleyball, softball, Sr. basketball, kickball, and Jr. B soccer. The Maroons won floor hockey, Jr. A basketball, Jr. A volleyball and Sr. tennis. It was an exciting day of competition.

***AS KAWANHEE TURNS***

The week of July 4th brought many guests to Kawanhee. It was exciting to have THREE generations of Neidigs: Pete Neidig from Maine and Pennsylvania, his son, Bill Neidig, from California, and his grandson, Richard Lewis, from Texas! The Jack Abbotts held a reunion of their immediate family at the Kawanhee Inn and were able to spend some time at the camp. The senior Abbotts were joined by Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott and children and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Abbott, Jr. and their children. Because of their generous Memorial gift to their son, Charles, the Abbott Lodge was built for married counselors with young children. John J. Cunningham paid Kawanhee a visit after not seeing camp for 20 years—He had a wonderful time seeing people that he had been in camp with and enjoyed taking the tour of the camp. Mr. and Mrs. William Dargusch and family from Columbus, Ohio are also renewing their ties with Kawanhee—even went to Monhegan Island! Mr. and Mrs. Edward "Duke" Lutz were here visiting their grandson, Darin. That is another THREE generation family. Duke, Tom, and Darin. Isn't that great! Wedding Bells for Sarah Frank Smith and Richard Edward Bernard. Sarah is the granddaughter of Raymond and Frannie Frank and the daughter of Betty Frank Smith Grassington. Kawanhee sends best wishes to the Bernards. Invitations have been sent for the wedding of Marcy Patrick and Jamie Robinson to take place in Dixfield, Maine in August. Several of Jamie's friends from Kawanhee will be members of the wedding party. And speaking of wedding—Hal and Jean Myers celebrated their 50th Wedding Anniversary with a party hosted by their daughters, Judy Hoffhine and family and Marty Albershardt and family. Ben Hoffhine, Kawanhee

'91, is a grandson of Hal and Jean and son of Judy and Chuck Hoffhine. Chuck was a camper and counselor here. They are another three generation family! Kawanhee babies are: Jane Louise born to Jody (Ruhle) and Whitney Barnard of West Boylston, MA and Kyle McCreery Tillos to Erica and John Tulloss of Aurora, ME. Congratulations! Ohio Supreme Court Justice Herb Brown's first novel has been published—Presumption of Guilt. It is in hardback and soon to be in paperback. Herb was a camper and counselor at Kawanhee and his son, Andy, Kawanhee '91, has followed in his footsteps and is now a counselor here. A note from Terry and Kim Berrigan announces that Terry has been named the Ohio Chapter Coordinator for the Rails to Trails Conservancy. This is a comparatively new program in several states. Jim Garland is a new graduate of The Columbus Academy, Columbus, OH. Our best to you, Jim. Remember to send your news and also any change of address!!
